KARSDALE

A large company packing the house to its utmost capacity met at the residence of James John, Esq., Thorne's Cove, on Tuesday evening, April 15th, to extend a welcome home to his son Edward who has just returned from overseas. Mrs. W. C. Shaffner presided at the organ and after referring to the fact that he had been assisted by a number of vocalists, E. H. Porter, who acted as chairman, extended to Pte. Johns a most hearty welcome home again referring to the fact that he had experienced the most serious side of the great conflict, and it was a source of great satisfaction that he had been spared to return to his home again. Alluded to those who had gone from our midst and had paid the supreme sacrifice and although we had to endure the pain of never seeing them again they had left a place in our memory that would never be forgotten so long as life lasted. Expressed a hope that when the result of the Peace Conference was known it would be found that they had not fought and died in vain. Pte. Johns responded in a neat speech thanking all present for their cordial welcome. Then followed music, recitations by Mrs. Fred Parker, Mrs. Lottie Covert, master John Covert, and a speech by Rev. Mr. Cook who gave a brief but very interesting account of his experiences in the war, the destruction of his airship, his hair breadth escape and his experience in a German prison. This followed a humorous dialogue well rendered by Ralph Hayden, Wallace Nelson, Mrs. Herbert Aymer, Miss Edward Keans and Mrs. Ernest McGrath, Rev. I. Brindley, who was present, asked to be excused from saying anything as it was then midnight, and so with "God Save the King" the function closed. A most excellent lunch was served by the ladies during the evening and every one said as they left that this had been one of the best evenings they had ever spent.

Reception to Herman Winchester

A Karsdale correspondent writes: One of the best receptions given to returned soldiers in these parts was given to Pte. Herman Winchester who returned soldier in these parts was the reception was held at the home of his father, William Winchester, Esq., Stoney Beach, on Monday evening, April 21st. A large company assembled and after the National Anthem, E. H. Porter, who presided extended a hearty welcome home to Pte. Winchester is beloved of the people of Granville. He alluded to the interest taken in our boys who went overseas, how we watched the papers and in we read of their achievements, how proud we were and as the sad news came of casualties how grieved we were, and if the supreme sacrifice was reported what sorrow we had when we read that they had made an unperishable place in the history of their country, now that these who survive were coming back it was only fitting and proper that we express our high regard for the distinguished services that they had rendered the country and wish them a right royal welcome home. Pte. Winchester responded in a brief speech, thanking all for the honor conferred upon him. Then followed music and recitations by Mrs. John K. Winchester and Mrs. Amberson at the organ songs by Rev. Mr. Patterson and Rev. Mr. Penny and Mr. H. T. Grant, addresses by Rev. Mr. Penny, Rev. Mr. Patterson, Rev. Mr. McWilliam and Rev. Mr. Brindley. Recitation by John K. Winchester and Little Miss Gertrude Mills, also humorous speech by Patrick Doyle. A splendid luncheon was served with ice cream added, and at a late hour the company dispersed all feeling that they had enjoyed a most delightful time.

Sunday Baseball is now assured in New York State; so, now the great champion games of the World's Series will not be "tied up" by an intervening Sabbath.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

May be Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound - This Letter Proves It.

West Philadelphia, Pa. - "During the thirty years I have been married, I have been in bad health and had several attacks of nervous prostration until it seemed as if the organs in my whole body were worn out. I was finally persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made a well woman of me. I can now do all my housework and advise all ailing women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will guarantee they will derive great benefit from it." Mrs. FRANK FRENZEL, 25 N. 41st Street, West Philadelphia, Pa.

There are thousands of women everywhere in Mrs. Fitzgerald's condition, suffering from nervousness, backache, headaches, and other symptoms of a functional derangement. It was the grateful spirit for health restored which led her to write this letter so that other women may benefit from her experience and find health as she has done.

For suggestions in regard to your condition write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

To welcome the return from overseas of Pte. Boyd Tanch was the occasion of a very large gathering at his own home, on the evening of Thursday, April 24th. The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Rev. I. Brindley, and opened by singing the National Anthem. After a few words of welcome in which the chairman said he had the pleasure of introducing Pte. Tanch to his own he was called to the floor and responded by telling his experience from the time he left home, just one year, until his return, in a most interesting manner. Then followed remarks by Herman Winchester, formerly of the 8th, now a civilian, Lieut. C. W. Cook, R. A. F., Rev. R. A. Penny, Dea. C. E. Withers, Comd LeBaron Troop and others, song by Mr. Penny and Mr. Brindley. Readings by Miss Hannah Tanch and Mr. Penny also added to the evening's entertainment. At a late hour tea and cake were served, benediction by Rev. R. A. Penny brought to a close this pleasant gathering. Pte. Tanch is the first of our boys to return and the welcome is most hearty and genuine.
