YOU CAN NEVER TELL.

You never can tell when you send a word—
 Like an arrow shot from a bow
 By an archer blind—be it cruel or kind,
 Just where it will chance to go.
 It may pierce the breast of your dearest friend,
 Tipped with its poison or balm;
 To a stranger's heart in life's great mart
 It may carry its pain or its calm.

You never can tell when you do an act,
 Just what the result will be;
 But with every deed you are sowing a seed.
 Though its harvest you may not see.
 Each kindly act is an acorn dropped
 In God's productive soil;
 Though you may not know, yet the tree
 shall grow
 And shelter the brows that toil.

You never can tell what your thoughts
 will do
 In bringing you hate or love;
 For thoughts are things, and their airy wings
 Are swifter than carrier doves.
 They follow the law of the universe—
 Each thing must create its kind;
 And they speed o'er the track to bring you back
 Whatever went out from your mind.
 —Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

QUARANTINE YOUR HOUSE.

You must quarantine against immoral literature. This is a deadly poison. It comes in various and attractive disguises. Exclude it as you would the germs of pestilence. To effectually protect your homes from its baneful influence, supply them with healthy literature. It is as easy to cultivate a good as a depraved literary taste in children. They will read something, and what they read will exert an important influence on their character.

Let your most earnest effort be exerted to keep out of the house the sensational novel, the blood-curdling tales of vice, the obscene pictures, the whole flood of wicked, degraded, crime-producing literature that threatens us. Put in reach of your families good papers, magazines and books. Bait them with a chaste story, and keep them supplied with wholesome knowledge. A bad book may prepare your son for the cell of a felon. A novel may vitiate the whole life of your daughter.—E.R.

The only conclusive evidence of a man's sincerity is that he gives himself for a principle. Words, money, all things else, are comparatively easy to give away; but when a man makes a gift of his daily life and practice, it is plain that the truth, whatever it may be, has taken possession of him.—
 J. R. Lowell.
