In this situation, whatever may be the view about the bility of the United Nations action should be to accelerate aim of any United Nations step. This has been very much tion which is now within sight. In the opinion of my Delegation, ence throughout the debate. In the opinion of the principles debate has revealed such wide agreement on the responsible and prospects for a solution, it would not be a ful action to adopt a resolution on this item which would effect of emphasizing remaining differences. We are ed that such action would complicate rather than simplify uation at a time when we all know that those concerned are efforts to find a solution in peace and justice which will and the legitimate rights of all involved. We shall there-te against the resolution.

- - - - - - - -