

THE MAN'S MISTAKEN,
Who thinks
THE TAXES so GRIEVOUS
As to render
The N A T I O N
Unable to maintain
A W A R.

---

To which are added,
An Englishman's Advice, in the Year 1701, how we ought to act in Case of a New WAR: with the Opinion of a Dutchman, touching what the British and other Nations might hope from relying on FRENCH FAITH.

PAX QUÆRITUR BELLO.

OLIVER CROMWELL's Motto.

---

By an OLD ENGLISHMAN.

---

---

L O N D O N:

Printed for J. SWAN, near Northumberland House in the Strand; and J. WOODYER, in Fleet-street.

MDCCLV.