Carl Morris Knocks Out Old Mike Schreck

Note and Comment

Riley soon informed the sporting world that Morris was a phenomenon real fight er, who possessed wonderful strength and natural puguacity. He said that the giant was progressing famously in the art of self-defence and declared that in his opinion the big fellow would be able to whip any heavyweight, including Mike Schreck, in the world within another year. Riley was not alone in this opinion, for Bill McCarney, a Philadelphia expert, and Tom Jones, Ad Wolgast's manager, after looking Morris over, declared that he was not a counterfeit.

There will be six games played, on April 1, 8 and 15, and, judging from the way the teams played in their regimental tagues, there is likely to be some fast baseball. The schedule is as follows:

April 1-Cavalry v. Queen's Own Rifles, Son 9.20; Grenadiers v. Army Medical Corps.

Boston Journal: This is merely an opinion but I must out with it. Art Ross, Kerr, Taylor and Lesueur, the Canadian professional ice hockey players, would clean up the Boston hockey team of seven players so quickly that the match would look like a joke. Canada surely has it on us when it comes to hockey.

In international Rugby football, Wales won the triple crown, which means that the principality lauded the championship for the season. The Welsh team was pitted against Ireland in the final, and in the matter of wins the teams were even, for both had scored two wins and had no defeat. Wales won by a score of 16 to 0. The match took place at Cardiff, so that the Weishmen had the advantage of playing on their own ground. A crowd of 40,000 persons paid admission, and half an hour before the game was called the gates had to be barred there being no more room in the enclosure. Ten thousand persons were kept outside, and, tho they never got a glimpse of the ball, they waited patiently until the result was announced. English critics say they Wales nounced. English critics say that Wales had the best team, but that Ireland threw away a lot of fine chances. The Irish forwards were great, but the backs were poor. Wales led in the first half by 1

There was never a moment after the first round was a minute old that the result was in doubt. Morris completely outclassed his opponent. Morris rushed Schreck about the ring at will and landed almost as he pleased. He showed in this fight that he could battle with both hands. Heretofore his left hand had been slow. Schreck made a poor showing, He landed less than half a dozen clean blows. None of them carried force enough to cause the Oklahoma "Hope" any great worry.

enough to cause the Okiahoma Prope any great worry.

It was a noisy audience of 12,000 that awaited the beginning of the fight. Hun-dreds of cowboys, dressed in the garb of the plains, occupied ringside seats. There being no ban placed on noise, they fre-quently gave way to their enthusiasm, whistling and yelling as loud as they could.

whistling and yelling as loud as they could.

Several Indians were in the audience. Morris himself is part Cherokee, and he has many faithful friends among the red men. Few of the Indians had ever attended a prize fight, and this, added to the fact that their local pride was one of the participants, made them keen for the battle to begin. They, too, yelled unrestrained.

Hundreds of railroad workers who knew Morris when he was an engineer, and had not thought of his becoming an aspirant for the crown of Champion Jack Johnson, mingled with the ringside throng. They brought with them the bell from an engine that Morris was running when he made his last trip over the road. This bell was hung near the press box and rung whenever Morris followers raised a cheer for their favorite.

The entry of F, and H. Phelan was received vesterday for the doubles. They made good in Buffalo, and should 60 a match between there has always been a friendly rivalry between these boys, and as Andy shoots with the B.B.C. Co. team, of which his brother is capitaln. I match between these pairs would create a lot of interest.
