Doctors Condemn Oily Liniments

Strong-Smelling, Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids and Ammonia.

Many people have clung to the oldfashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not -and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia. etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied. but their continued use never cures theumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation, and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.
When asked his opinion a few days ago, an important physician stated that considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as "Ner-viline," to be superior to any of the white ammonia liniments. In his twen-ty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house, because of cramps, in the house, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache, and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine homes no other pain-relieving inequence is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the process and the endorsement of the procession are proof that Nerviline is the alliance, gave out a resolution lead of the lead of t
