

"You Have Never Failed In Your Trust"

An unsolicited expression of approval, such as the one below, from a prominent London merchant, is the best evidence of satisfaction:

"It is now over three years since my father's estate came into your hands, and during that time you have never failed in your trust. I have been impressed with the great care shown by the Company in dealing with all matters whether large or small and my father's selection as his Executor, of the Canada Trust Company, has shown his sound judgment."

When you make your Will show your sound judgment by naming a Trust Company as your Executor instead of an individual.

Do you realize the uncertainty of individual life and the unreliability of individual service?

The Canada Trust Company is a permanent institution, and its service is safeguarded by over $1,500,000 of Capital and Reserve, which protects the estates in its care.

Our careful, scientific management of even a small estate costs no more than the haphazard service afforded by the average individual.

Why not ensure capable and careful management for your Estate by selecting as your Executor and Trustee this experienced institution?

RUNAWAY TRAIN SMASHES THINGS NEAR HAMILTON

Freight Runs Wild Down Dundas Mountain and Hits Another.

SARNIA CREW IN CHARGE

Londoner on Train That Is Struck—16 Cars Burned 13 Wrecked.

HAMILTON, May 10.—Through failure of the air brakes, a freight train of 50 cars on the Grand Trunk Railway ran away on the Dundas Mountain this afternoon, and rushing through Dundas at a terrific speed, crashed into the rear of a London-Toronto freight train of 22 cars, which was standing at the junction, on a short distance west of this city on the main line.

The engine of the runaway freight plowed through eight cars of the standing train, and then continued on its way. Five broke out immediately, and the runaway engine and sixteen cars, with valuable contents, were wrecked. Thirteen other cars were wrecked. No one was seriously hurt.

Engineer William Field, Sarnia, of the runaway train, and his fireman, Bruce Ray, jumped when they saw that the collision was inevitable, and the engineer received a shaking-up and some cuts and bruises about the face.

Conductor P. Clark Sarnia, was in charge of the train, and the crew of the other train were Conductor Kelly of London and Engineer J. Clark.

When Conductor Clark found that his train was wrecked, he tried to stop the runaway train with the handbrakes, but, though they worked desperately, they could not get it under control.

There were two tank cars of gasoline on the wrecked train, and the gasoline was ignited by the sparks from the engine, and the contents flowed out into the creek. The main line was blocked for several hours and trains had to be sent around via California.

All the trains coming to this district were affected by the wreck and arrived in London from two to three hours late as a result of having to make the trip around via Stratford. The International Limited, which usually arrives here early in the evening got in about 11 o'clock.

AMERICAN BATTERIES ASSIST FRENCH RAIDS

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, MAY 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American artillery participated, and the American infantry, American engineers, and a detachment of French raid in the Apremont forest, northwest of Toul, at dawn today. The American batteries, acting with the French artillery, in a heavy two-hour bombardment, were showered with gas shells by the Germans.

The evening's program included several musical numbers of a high order, and a dancing party, which was provided by an excellent orchestra. Several members of the association were present, while the organization is still in its infancy. As a result, London division has the best organized association in the whole of the Dominion, and is, in this respect, the envy of every other division in Canada. Mr. Sharrman has several times represented his association at Dominion conferences and also on deputations waiting upon the Federal Government.

Expressing his deep appreciation of the mark of recognition on the part of the association, Mr. Sharrman also thanked the members for their loyal support of his efforts, mentioning particularly the co-operation of the other officers.

ENTENTE IS TODAY UNITED MORALLY AS WELL AS SPIRITUALLY

Determination Grows, Says "U" Professor. SPEAKS TO BACONIANS

34th Annual Banquet of Local Club Most Successfully Held.

"The more the Germans win, the stronger our case becomes. The more the Germans win, the more determination we will have to win. In the face of our losses on the field of battle and the distresses of the present campaign, we must recognize the fact that the more the Germans win, the more they will find the world is against them. The Entente is today for the first time a solid spiritual and moral unit."

The above was the statement of Professor Livingston of the Western University staff, speaking at the thirty-fourth annual banquet of the Baconsian Club, which took place at the Peacock House last night.

The banquet was largely attended and was most enthusiastic and enjoyable. President James Kirkwood presided. Speeches, readings, and vocal and instrumental numbers made a splendid program.

Professor Livingston laid particular emphasis on the fact that Italy had now become an integral part of the allied powers. This fact had not been advertised as it should have been, he declared.

Had Slight Chances.

Looking back over the early stages of the war, he said, that under the original conditions the Entente had slight chances of success in the war. Russia, the selfish and autocratic, had been allied with democratic France and Great Britain, and the Germans had made capital out of that fact. It was hard for those who were the allies in the United States to explain it away.

The allied defeat had grown, the allied peoples had seen the inconsistencies of the Entente. The Russian revolution had swept from the scene that autocratic force.

The Allies had been unable to hold Russia with them after the revolution because it had been based on two ideas only, peace and bread, both of which the revolutionists wanted to destroy.

Kerenky Falls Down.

Kerenky had been unable to force a readjustment of the allied program because Italy was winning at the time. When the Bolsheviks came in, the secret treaties of 1916 were published, showing that with an allied victory Europe would have been subjected to a territorial readjustment not much better than that of 1815.

The triumph of the Entente would have meant a land-grabbing peace which to the Russian was not easily distinguishable from the German aim. Hence the Russian would have none of it.

When the Italian defeat came it brought the realization that the Italian war program was impossible of attainment, and compelled the collapse of the idea of territorial extension by Italy.

The present danger in France had not only unified the allied command, but had meant the real understanding of the war aims of the Allies, namely peace on terms of international justice.

Although the creation of a Jugo-Slav state and the dismemberment of the Austro-Hungarian Empire will mean the sacrifice of Italy's imperialistic ideals of territorial extension.

The many serious mistakes of the Allied diplomacy might have been avoided if the Allies had handed over their diplomacy to the Italians. They would have been thrown into the hands of a man who would have been a fairer and more realistic than the Anglo-Saxons had deluded themselves. They wouldn't have been so much deceived because Germany had attacked Belgium, but they would have attacked Germany because this was Germany's common danger and defeat.

It was a good thing that Italy had now given up her imperialistic ideas, she would not now exploit Greece or Austria—but now she stood to a wider recognition of international justice. A point of contact had been found between Italy and the other Allies in their common danger and defeat.

The toast to the Baconsian Club was replied to by President James Kirkwood, who referred to the members of the club who had gone forth from London, carrying with them Baconsian principles, ideals and camaraderie across the continent.

Vice-President John S. Barnard spoke in response to the toast to Francis of Assisi, who he said, had taught people how to think. While he did not invent anything himself, Bacon was the father of the modern scientific method.

Professor Livingston and Professor Fox, both of the Western staff, replied to the toast to "Our Guests" and Judge Judd, who was also expected, sent his regrets.

The Dark Ages were bright ages in vocational training and trade guilds, which recognized all other vocations. Humanism was on the throne, mechanical efficiency was developed to the highest degree, namely in the Roman and Greek civilizations. In the Dark Ages, when mechanical efficiency was supreme, humanism was crowded out. Humanism co-operated with mechanical efficiency in the trade guilds.

Since the early college days, the universities of today were training for a vocation, but for a big vocation, which recognized all other vocations. Other toasts on the list were: "We Go to Fishin'" replied by John S. Barnard; "A Bonfire of Titles" by E. E. H. Ginn; "Still Greater Progress" by Watson H. Porter.

Excellent violin solos were rendered by songs by Fred Barr and E. S. Crawford. An amusing topical song by H. H. Hingham and a reading by Robert Hannah were also well received.

FROST DAMAGE IN DISTRICT MAY RUN UP INTO THOUSANDS

Fruit Heaviest Loss, Says An Agricultural Expert.

FALL WHEAT TOO HARDY

Many Spring Freezings Have Toughened This Grain So It Was Unaffected.

Thousands of dollars' damage was done in this section by the severe frost of last night, it is estimated. While it is impossible to set the exact figure, it is generally conceded that the loss will run into the thousands.

It is A. Finn of the local branch of the department of agriculture says the loss will be principally to the fruit. Barley will be affected, but this will recover with fair weather conditions from this time on. Early planted early cherries and red and white currants are practically destroyed as far as this season's crop is concerned. Cabbage and tomato plants also suffered, but as it is early there are not many tomato plants set out yet. Any peach trees in this section will suffer also.

Farm crops generally have not been hurt, as the ground has been so hard that the frost has not penetrated to the ground a few inches. Mr. Finn says that the fall wheat has not suffered, as it has been from so often that it has become toughened and is now hardy to be killed.

The effect of the frost will be lessened if the weather remains fairly cool for a couple of days, the farmers say. The showing of frost is a great extent. It is generally thought that the frost has not done much harm, as there is a good deal of moisture in the air.

Strawberries, black currants, late cherries and late planted early cherries and red and white currants are practically destroyed, as the blossoms are not far enough advanced.

There is a one-quarter inch of ice on standing water this morning.

The office occupied by R. A. Finn was severely damaged by the frost. The morning saw a direct result of the low temperature. The steam in the building formed and one of the valves in the radiator in his office had been left open. No one was in the office at the time, but the place was filled with steam. Practically no damage was done, however.

APPENDICITIS OPERATIONS NOT ALWAYS NECESSARY

Internal Bathing Relieves the Cause.

Your physician will tell you that Appendicitis is an inflammation of the little sack called the Appendix at the lower right-hand corner of the Colon or large intestine. By cleansing the system with the "J. B. L. Cascade," this sack is cleaned and the inflammation subsides. If the inflammation has been caused by using the warm water cure for Appendicitis, the "J. B. L. Cascade" will cure it. Dr. Cyril Fox, Winnipeg, writes:

"I had spent over fifty dollars with doctors trying to cure my Appendicitis. Finally the doctor said I must go to the hospital at once for an operation. I bought a box of 'J. B. L. Cascade,' which relieved me at once, and am now completely cured. No further surgery is needed. I feel like a new man, and I eat and sleep like a boy. I am grateful to Dr. Cyril Fox for this wonderful health-giving invention."

95 per cent of all human life are caused by accumulated waste in the Colon. Internal bathing with the "J. B. L. Cascade" keeps this large intestine as free from all waste and as clean as a new demand it should be for perfect health. Ask Standard Drug Company, London, for booklet called "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per Cent Efficient." It is free. They will also be pleased to show and explain the "J. B. L. Cascade" to you.

Why Peter R. Shirman Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mantoba Man Tells How His Troubles Vanished When He Used The Old Canadian Kidney Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ethelbert, Man, May 10 (Special).—"I had rheumatism, and now I haven't. That is the reason in a nutshell why Peter R. Shirman, a well-known resident here, is singing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I could not work, but now I am strong," Mr. Shirman continues. "That is why I think Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best of all remedies."

Asked as to the symptoms that troubled him during the early stages of his illness, Mr. Shirman said:

"I caught cold a year ago. I was troubled with stiffness in the joints and headaches, and my sleep was broken and unrefreshing. I was always tired and nervous, and my skin had a dry, harsh feeling. I was a little better in the morning."

"Finally rheumatism and lumbago and Bright's Disease set in. I then decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. They made me well."

If you haven't used Dodd's Kidney Pills, ask your neighbors about them.
