

WHY EXPORT CONDEMNED FRUIT?

Apple dealers in Canada are feeling that the present Fruit Marks Act operates to their detriment and to the detriment of Canadian growers. Recently it was noted that four carloads of apples were condemned at Montreal for pink rot developing on them. This disease develops in transit, so that while the packer may have acted in good faith, the time taken to reach Montreal may be long enough to prove disastrous to the fruit.

Now the question is, was that condemnation of apples allowed to go on to England? One dealer says that it was. And a cursory review of the act shows that the inspector has no power to confiscate or order the sale of the goods on this side. And it is this feature of the case that is proving injurious to the shipments that go over.

When meat is condemned, it is confiscated. Why should not fruit be forbidden export when such is prejudicial to the good name of Canada?

WHAT BULGARIA GROWS.

As there is political trouble arising between Bulgaria and Turkey, the following statistics are given: The area under wheat in Bulgaria this year is officially placed at 2,270,000 acres and the crop 46,972,000 bushels, against 2,300,000 acres last year, when the crop was 36,944,000 bushels. The exports for the current season ending July 31, 1908, from Roumania, Bulgaria, Roumania and Turkish ports amounted to 32,386,000 bushels, as against 77,884,000 bushels the previous season. The wheat crop of Turkey last year amounted to 11,000,000 bushels, against 60,000,000 bushels in 1906.

FLOWING MATCH.

The Ontario County Plowing Association intend holding their annual plowing match at Myrtle on November 4. As excellent fields in both sides of the plowing are larger than usual, there ought to be a large turnout of people. The secretary is R. B. Smith, of Kilmory, who will be glad to hear from all new plowmen.

BUCKWHEAT CROP.

The Ontario Crop of Buckwheat is a Large One and Prices Good.

On account of the late wet spring, Ontario has grown more buckwheat this year than for some time, and the threshing returns are showing an extra good yield.

Murray Barrett of Pickering, who threshed a fine field this week, reports nearly 40 bushels to the acre. William Kent of the baseline of Whitby Township, threshed this grain on Wednesday and it turned out about 37 bushels to the acre. Others are reporting good yields.

On the contrary, the United States crop is short. The American Miller, which is a very reliable authority, has published a summary of this crop, and this paper says that the yield of this grain will be a small one this season. Except in a few favored localities, the growing plant and frost also has worked injury in some sections. Practically all the damage has been done since September 1, when the government report gave the condition of the growing crop as 87.8, compared with 77.4 on September 1, 1907, and a ten-year average on September 1 of 86.5.

The crop of buckwheat in the United States last year was not large, 14,200,000 bushels according to government figures, and the authorities declare that very little, if any, of the 1907 crop has been carried over. This will result in an immediate demand for new for an unusually short crop, prices will rule high. In fact, buckwheat millers who are closely in touch with the situation write of the opinion that record-breaking prices for both grain and flour will prevail this season.

Prices have advanced in Pennsylvania at 80c per bushel for this cereal, while the biggest price at Ontario points seems as yet to be near the 60c mark.

An Ovation for Bryan.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—The second session of the Lakes to the Gulf Deep Watersway Association was attended to-day by as great and enthusiastic attendance as that which listened to W. H. Taft on the opening day.

William J. Bryan, the magnet of the second session and his appearance on the platform and introduction by David Francis of St. Louis was the signal for a demonstration of the Democratic candidate to bow repeatedly and wait many minutes before delivering the first sentences of his speech.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 8.—While riding along Market-street on a bicycle at noon to-day, Marian Bluing, aged 19 years, student at Brantford Business College, was struck by a street car.

She fell on the sidewalk, her limbs going under the fender, but with rare presence of mind she grasped the fender, throwing the bulk of her weight on it. She was dragged half a block thru the mud before the car could be stopped, but escaped unhurt.

Disease Maintains Embargo
Wrong Notions Prevail
Among Scotch and Irish

The Arguments Advanced by Mr. Henderson of the Scotch Commission Are Severely Arraigned by Scotch and Irish Journals—Weakness of Their Arguments.

Canadian farmers have heard a great deal about the removal of the cattle embargo in Great Britain, especially of late, during the visit of the Scotch commission.

That its removal would be a beneficial thing to Canada, there can be no doubt at present.

This opinion is not shared by all Britons as enthusiastically as it was by Mr. Henderson of Coupar-Angus, whose remarks we quoted at length in our issue of Sept. 4. In the issue of Sept. 25, the editor of The Scottish Farmer quotes the article from The World and comments editorially upon it. Here are some of the extracts from the editorial:

"There is no question less alive among British farmers to-day than that of the embargo on over-sea store cattle. Were it not for the butchers, harbor boards and co-operative societies, the question would never be heard of in Great Britain. It is nearly all the politicians are pledged to the removal of the embargo. It is a curious thing that it is not removed. The fact is that immediately the politicians who, in ignorance of the subject, pledge themselves to the removal of the embargo come to realize what the issue is, when in positions of responsibility, they find it impossible to redeem their ill-considered pledges when in opposition. Lord Carrington alone could not do this. The cabinet, but Lord Carrington's department knows the subject, and declines to be swayed by the clamor of men like Mr. Henderson. If Ireland is by no means free of disease, it is a curious fact that since the policy embodied in the act, 1895, has been rigidly enforced, Canadian cattle have not been practically unknown either in this country or in Ireland. To put it in the concrete: Since we ceased importing Canadian cattle, we have not heard of Ireland and British production alone for feeding cattle, there has been no pleuro-pneumonia in Great Britain.

And rarely indeed any outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease. "Mr. Henderson proves too much when he goes on to demonstrate to the Canadians that it would be better for them to export stores than to export fat cattle. He makes the naive admission that under the present conditions Great Britain gets the best of Canada's products. Only the worst at present are kept by the Canadian farmers at home, while the prime killing beef goes over the ocean. Very good. It follows that, under existing conditions, Great Britain gets Canada's best in the matter of beef, while, under the conditions advocated by Mr. Henderson, she would get Canada's worst."

This last statement is an inference not at all warranted, and it is a curious philosophy that would allow such a weakness to the argument. The fact of the removal of the embargo does not imply any lowering in the standard of Great Britain's meat supply. Canadians appear to have just the same reason then to fatten their animals as they have now, and are the better by having a ready sale for their store cattle.

Again, the inference in this article is that pleuro-pneumonia and foot-and-mouth disease were introduced from Canada. While this may not be intended to be charged by The Scottish Farmer, it is certainly an innuendo that too reflects a state of mind not as open as it might be to the reception of arguments.

Even The Irish Farming World, under the date of Sept. 25, falls into a similar mistake, in seeking to discredit Mr. Henderson's arguments for a removal of the embargo. It says: "What we have to fear from Canada is the fact-and-mouth disease." Canada certainly has the right on her side when she strongly protests against the embargo as being maintained because her herds are diseased. There are no cattle in the world where disease is less common than in Canada. Protection is the right name for the embargo, and writers on that side would do well to be honest enough to call a spade by its name.

Practical Holsteins. E. A. Whitford, of Adams Centre, N. Y., makes known the following statistics concerning his dairy of Holsteins for the year 1907. The farm comprises 80 acres, and there were 21 cows in the herd until October, when three were sold. Four of the 21 were farrow. The figures follow:

Number of pounds of milk 147,842; average price per hundred pounds, $1.27 1-5; daily yield of milk for the year, 409 pounds; calves sold when three weeks old, 10; calves raised, 10; calves sold, 21 for the entire herd, $22.38. Included in the dairy is a six-year-old cow, 15-16 Holstein, which freshened December 27th, 1907, and from January 25th to March 8th included, has given 3099 3-5 lbs. of milk, or an average of 24 lbs. daily. Under test her milk showed the presence of a high per cent. of butter fat.

During last winter three experiments on the milk made at the dairy department of the Ontario Agricultural College, with the following results: From 728 lbs. of milk were made 73 lbs. of green cheese. The whey remaining was separated, and the cream ripened and churned in the usual way. The product was 20 1-4 lbs. of butter, or at the rate of 3 lbs. of butter per 1000 lbs. of whey. Assuming that there is all in the plan which its most ardent advocates have in mind, it would appear that a factory handling less than 10,000 lbs. of milk daily would not find it profitable.—J. H. ONTARIO CO. FARMERS
HOLD JUDGING CLASSES

Arrangements Have Been Made For 3 Days' Course at Brooklin in December—Grange Meets.

South Ontario farmers are likely to become more closely in touch with live stock judging and regular college work, as a result of the efforts of Mr. Hare, B.S.A. of Whitby.

Following the successful appointments of last year at six Ontario high schools the Ontario Government added one to Ontario County by its appointment to Whitby. Mr. Hare's time so far has been occupied in visiting and acquainting himself with the various points of the county. Practical drainage plans have been undertaken by him at Sunderland and vicinity, while many enquiries for him are coming into the office from the farmers of Whitby and Pickering Townships. His office is in the holding of a three days' judging school at Brooklin, Ont. Enquiries on any line of work or experiment as far as the college education with its practical experience can supply are generally satisfied with good solid facts.

The next move that is going to prove a source of much information to these farmers is the holding of a three days' live stock judging school at Brooklin, Ont. Enquiries on any line of work or experiment as far as the college education with its practical experience can supply are generally satisfied with good solid facts.

Union Grange, No. 108, at the town line, between Pickering and Whitby, held a most enjoyable open meeting to-day, when the evening session had a most prosperous existence for a long time, and the proposal to hold monthly open meetings this winter, which will partake of the nature of farmers' clubs, will mean much for the grangers.

This meeting on Wednesday evening was the annual harvest home gathering and the hall was appropriately decorated with roots, grains, pumpkins, apples and vines for the occasion. During the course of the evening speeches were delivered by Messrs. W. L. Smith of The Weekly Sun, Hare, B.S.A., and F. M. Chapman, agricultural editor of The World. Mr. Chapman in his remarks drew attention to the increased comforts and revenues that were accruing to the farmer of to-day, who farmed with intelligence and a love for his work. "The man who will develop his corn ears so that they show good kernels to the end of the well formed ear," said he, "as well as the man who is observant to note the needs of his soils so as to make them produce where they grow, and the farmer who is just such thoughtful farmer that the agriculturists of to-day are being raised into their proper dignity in the social world."

W. L. Smith of The Sun, who is also a member of this grange, referred to the gradual improvements in farm life, being brought about by the telephone, electric railways and now by rural mail delivery. "Farm life," said Mr. Smith, "has thus lost much of its dreariness and is now one of the most features of the past."

Mr. Hare, in a short speech, called attention to the Brooklin Judging classes and the open meetings of the grange, which would be held this winter. He was well received, and his stay among the people of Ontario County is likely to awaken agriculture to a better and healthier activity.

After the program, of which I. C. Osborne was chairman, a chicken pie repeat closed proceedings.

WHY CENTRE TORONTO
CHEERS FOR ROBINETTE

Prominent Young Liberal Sizes Up the Situation in This District As He Sees It.

The wave of enthusiasm for Mr. Robinette is most remarkable," said T. N. Phalen, the prominent Young Liberal who is doing yeoman service in Centre Toronto for the Laurier cause. "It is a marked contrast with the experience of other candidates in the Toronto ridings, and greatly exceeds the zeal manifested for Tom in the last campaign, when he came so near wresting the division from so invulnerable an opponent as the noted E. F. Clarke. This proves that Robinette has grown in the esteem of the electors of the division, and that he is personally much stronger than when he first came before them as a candidate for parliamentary honors. It is also noticeable that the big things which he has done for the city in general in securing the much-needed harbor improvements and much improved postal facilities, have been recognized, and especially the benefit which has accrued to St. John's Ward by the generous outlay of public money for the enlargement of the armories. The people of Centre Toronto, and especially those of St. John's Ward, are alive to these efforts on their behalf and are eager for the opportunity which will be afforded them on Oct. 26, to show their gratitude by giving Mr. Robinette such a solid vote that his majority will be an eye-opener for those who may have had some doubts as to his success. At every public meeting which he has held the strong hold he has gained on Centre Toronto has been manifested. It has not been necessary for any one to call on the audiences to cheer for the candidate, for Mr. Robinette's appeal has been everywhere been the signal for the outbreak of cheering. The spontaneous enthusiasm has been in accordance with a larger attendance, each Robinette rally having taxed the accommodation of the hall in which it has been made. Of all the candidates for the seat of M. P. for Centre Toronto, Mr. Robinette is the man to cheer for, because he is the most popular of them all. At the Fielding mass meeting at the Farmers' Hall, Robinette was given an ovation such as any public man might be proud of. When he entered Broadway Hall on Monday night the audience cheered in masses. At the Shaw rally on Tuesday night his appearance on the platform and speech was cheered to the echo. The meeting of Jewish voters at St. George's Hall simply knocked our friends the enemy dizzy, as they had no idea that hundreds of the Hebrew voters would rally to the support of the Liberal candidate. The Robinette rally having taken the place of the Canadian public issues and cheer the Liberal candidate with unanimous enthusiasm and movement."

As evoked by St. John's Ward beats true to Robinette, the week has declared that a large following of the former supporters of E. F. Clarke will be seen in the chair of the last campaign by giving a vote this time for Tom Robinette on personal grounds. The military and naval movements, as evidenced at the Masonic Hall meeting, are largely with us. And to-night at the Labor Temple the labor men will show the strength of their appreciation by the success which Tom Robinette has extended and is always ready to give to the cause of the wage earner and the trades union movement."

A. E. Hacker, Liberal organizer for Centre Toronto, said last night: "We are certain to have a fine meeting at the Labor Temple. George Harris will be chairman. The speakers will be J. Walter Curry, Thos. Vance, Louis Heyd, W. J. Elliott, George W. Dower and the most popular candidate in Toronto, Tom Robinette. We are glad that the public of Centre Toronto finds our meetings so attractive, and I am arranging for the Robinette rallies to be continued right up to the date of election, and we shall be glad for the support of any question regarding the policy of the Laurier government and his own attitude on any of the issues of the campaign."
