

See Page 16 for Simpson's Complete List of Offerings for Monday

SUFFRAGETTES VOW TO STARVE THEMSELVES

They Are Jailed as Ordinary Prisoners—Have No Right to Pardon Premier.

LONDON, July 9.—Sir Albert De Rutzen, chief magistrate of the Metropolitan Police Court, today decided against the suffragettes on the point raised by Miss Pankhurst, regarding the right to present a petition to Premier Asquith, and the court sentenced Miss Pankhurst to pay a fine of £25 or go to prison for a month on the charge of resisting the police.

Miss Pankhurst declared that her assault on Police Inspector Jarvis, the night of June 18, was an act of self-defense, and that she was not guilty of any crime. She was released on bail for £100, and was to appear in court again on July 12.

Other suffragettes who were arrested on the same night, and who were also charged with resisting the police, were released on bail for £100, and were to appear in court again on July 12.

The cases of all the other suffragettes arrested with Miss Pankhurst, were adjourned pending the outcome of the appeal.

Followers of Mrs. Despard who have been acting as a house of commons for the past week, were released by the police.

Modern Dresses Immodest.

NEW YORK, July 9.—A Paris dispatch to The Times says that the issue of The Observateur Romano, the organ of the Vatican, which reached Paris last night, contains a denunciation of the tendencies of the modern fashion of today. The article is signed by the minister of the interior, and signed by several thousand Italian women. The Observateur says:

"Those who profess with ardor the Catholic faith and morals should not be indulgent toward women who wear the dress of the streets wearing immodest garments. All the present day fashions are designed to excite the passions. It is the abominable vice. These fashions are prejudicial to beauty, which is the reflection of the bounty of God, and therefore, fruitful in moral and well-being."

"Cleanse these unholly wardrobes. Rid them of their dresses, which make the wearers' guardians angels weep. Let our wives and daughters make their own clothes rather than wear dresses which grieve the Holy Spirit and the Father of Truth."

WINDSOR'S LADY APPEAL.

TO All Women: I will send free of charge, to any woman who writes to me, a list of the most effective cures for Leucorrhoea, Displacement, Pains in the Womb, Painful or Irregular Periods, Uterine and Ovarian Tumors or Growths, also Hot Flashes, Nervousness, Melancholy, Pain in the Head, Back or Bowels, Kidney and Bladder troubles, where caused by weakness peculiar to our sex. You can continue treatment at home at a cost of only about 12 cents a week. My book, "Woman's Own Medical Adviser," also sent free on request. Write to-day. Address Mrs. M. Summers, Box 85, Windsor, Ont.

Want Recording Office.

Maya Napier of Latchford and J. Larkin walked on Hon. Frank Cockburn to request that a recording office be established at Latchford. They pointed out that there are several mining districts which are directly tributary to Latchford and which can't be served by any other office.

Band at Hanlan's Point.

The band of the Queen's Own Rifles will render concerts this afternoon and evening at Hanlan's Point. Conductor Simpson has prepared special programmes for this occasion.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER.

More children die during the hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum, and stomach troubles come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give prompt relief, the delay may prove fatal to the child. Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in every home where there are children during the hot weather months. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent deadly summer complaints, or cure them if they come unexpectedly. Mrs. O. Monahan, St. The Queen's Own Rifles, says: "My baby suffered from a severe attack of cholera infantum, but after giving him Baby's Own Tablets he recovered and regained health splendidly." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

IN SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. James Ross gave a dinner at the yacht club after the O'Kelly-Ross wedding on Wednesday afternoon last.

Miss Louise Reche of Hamilton is the guest of Rilla DeVaney of Albany-avenue.

Miss Mary McMillan and Miss Alice McMillan of Hamilton's Point, have left for the Muskoka Lakes, where they will spend a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter and daughter of Brunswick-avenue, accompanied by Mrs. Walter's mother and sister, have left for their summer cottage at Bowmanville Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Sproule and son, Arthur, have left for Ireland. Their many friends wish them a safe and speedy voyage.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Odell of Parkdale have left for Muskoka.

Mrs. E. R. Watts and little daughter, Eleanor, of Montrose-avenue, accompanied by their cousin, Miss Louthdore, are spending a few weeks at Rock Island, Quebec.

Mrs. William Doble and party have returned after a three weeks' automobile tour in the States.

Mrs. and Miss Austin of Front's Neck, Mr. Walter, Mr. Jarvis and Miss Muriel Jarvis will also be there for the season.

Mrs. Liana Smith has left for Muskoka, where she will spend the summer.

Mrs. Edward Bull and Miss Bull have left for the White Mountains.

Miss Flossie Johnston and Miss Hazel Merrick have left for Montreal.

Mrs. Vincent Green is leaving for the continent soon. She will sail from Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Massey have rented their Toronto Island home for the summer and are at the Royal Muskoka.

Mrs. Playfair McMurrich has gone to Wood's Hole, Mass., to visit Mr. Gardner of Boston.

Col. and Mrs. Campbell Macdonald and their family are at their summer home on Lake Simcoe.

Mr. George J. Little of Denver, Col., is visiting his parents in Manning-avenue.

Miss A. Hodgins is summing at Murray Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Christie will spend the summer at Algonquin, St. Andrews, N.B.

Judge Winchester left for the Lake of Bays District yesterday to spend the summer.

NEW VAUDEVILLE ACTS

Big Bill to Be Presented at the Majestic Theatre Next Week.

Among the special features provided for the vaudeville at the Majestic next week are the Mitchell in an acrobatic novelty introducing a boxing stunt; Walker and Burrell, a Chinese musical team; Beverly and West, comedians; Phil Berg, Italian character comedian, and the latest films in motion picture. Four hours of entertainment every day—two in the afternoon and two in the evening. The Majestic is the only theatre open during the summer months, and the programme so far as the evening performances taxed the capacity of the playhouse.

GOTHAM GIRL TO WED PRINCE.

LONDON, July 8.—The Austrian Embassy announced the engagement of Prince Miguel of Braganza, eldest son of Duke Michael, the pretender to the Portuguese throne, to Miss Anita Stewart, daughter of Mrs. James Smith of New York.

Prince Miguel is the grandson of the Ex-King Miguel of Portugal, and an officer in the Austrian army. His name has been mentioned in connection with no less than three other American heiresses in the past few months.

AT HANLAN'S POINT.

Speedy re-engaged for Another Week, With Other Fine Attractions.

No attraction that has been in Toronto in some years has created so much talk as Speedy, the sensational high diver, who is making his perilous flights thru the air, afternoon and evening, at Hanlan's Point. He has attracted such enormous crowds during the past week that Manager Solomon has seen fit to re-engage him for another week. The attraction is a subject proposed without any doubt, and he will add two sections to his ladder, which will make his dive from a height of one hundred and thirty feet. Another big feature that will be presented free next week is the five Boises, who give a long, leaping and casting act which is filled with fearless and sensational tricks. They have been the leading attraction at the New York Hippodrome for the past month, and previous to their engagement there they created a sensation while playing at the World's Fair in London, England, where they were given the longest engagement of any American performers. Their work is an aerial novelty and should be seen by all who admire this thrilling style of performance.

During the week just passed twenty-one societies, churches, and Sunday schools held their annual picnic "Just Across the Bay." On July 17 the T. Eaton Company employees will hold their annual outing at Hanlan's Point. It goes without saying that this will be one of the greatest and most popular picnics of the season. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week "Jim" Jeffries and Sam Berger will give several boxing bouts. As this will be Jeffries' final appearance before he goes into actual training for his fight with Jack Johnson, there is little doubt but his exhibitions of bag punching and shadow fighting will be witnessed by large crowds.

Awarded Gold Medal.

Miss Margaret Cronin, Toronto, has been awarded the gold medal of the Ursulines of Quebec (Halliwell prize), 1909. The medal is for an essay upon a subject proposed without any previous notification. The subject was Joan of Arc. There were fifty contestants.

Piche Remanded.

John Piche, French-Canadian justice of the peace at Sudbury, charged with receiving a bribe of $25.00 for his wife in an important mining claim suit, was remanded a week without bail in police court. He was brought to the city by Detective Alex. Mackie from Co-

NEW THRILLER PROMISED

Young Scarborough Beach Performer Who Leaps the Gap.

Rose Wentworth, the Scarborough Beach equestrienne, has become such a favorite with patrons of the east and amusement park that she has been retained for another week, and she will be seen in the special twelfth of July show at the beach on Monday. After the Tecumseh-Toronto lacrosse game to-day Miss Wentworth will parade the Scarborough Beach grounds with her horses, and as admission to the amusement grounds is free to patrons of the lacrosse game she will likely attract a good deal of attention. Visitors to the park to-day will also see the large tower which has been in course of erection for several days for the riding feat of Sadie Knowlton, the champion lady bicyclist, who every afternoon and evening next week will leap the gap. The tower is 75 feet high and looks higher. The path down the large tower which she will descend gradually for a distance of 150 feet.

George Holland, one of the clowns at Scarborough Beach.

ends at an elevation of between 20 and 30 feet. There is a space of some 90 feet between this spot and a tank filled with water to a depth of four feet. Miss Knowlton covers this distance with the impetus which she gains from the very rapid ride from the top of the tower. Her accomplishment of the feat is entirely a matter of skill and mathematical calculation, and nothing is left to chance. She will be one of the free features at the park next week. In the hippo come a number of new acts will be presented, among them Wills & Lewis, comedy duo and hand jugglers, and the act of Twins Company, pantomime jugglers.

Low Rates on Steamers Toronto and Kingston to 1000 Islands, Montreal, Quebec and St. John's. The ticket rates include meals and berths for the round trip. The above steamers are now running daily, passing through the beautiful 1000 Islands in daylight and connecting with new observation steamers "Shooting the Rapids" to Montreal. Full particulars regarding rates and service can be obtained at R. & O. Ticket Office, 2 King-street East, 3456.

Queen Refused Docked Horses.

S. H. Terry, speaking at the Aud-Vivisection Congress in London, told the story of long-maned and long-tailed horses being presented by Canadian women to the Queen, which prior to their despatch were docked by the veterinary. The Queen, who is an opponent of docking, refused the gift, and eventually the horses were returned to Canada, and were replaced at the veterinary's hands by undocked animals. Thus closing the veterinary hand turn-down from a pleasant incident into an unpleasant one.

LINGERING WEAKNESS FOLLOWING DISEASE

Can be Banished by the Wonderful Tonic Powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

How often it is that the victims of disease—fever, measles, or grippé or any other contagious troubles—are weak and ailing even after the disease itself has disappeared. They do not pick up strength as they ought; remain listless, tired and discouraged. The reason for this is that the blood has been impoverished by the ravages of the disease through which the victim has passed. Strength will not return until the blood is enriched. The blood can be enriched by no other medicine as quickly and as surely as by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People—to enrich the blood and strengthen the nerves is the whole duty of these pills—thousands have found them beneficial in bringing strength after disease had left them weak and run down. Among those who owe good health to these Pills is Miss Laura Hircow, New York, N.Y., who says: "Following an attack of measles, I was left greatly run down, and suffered from a bad cough. I had been advised to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and procured half a dozen boxes. Before they were all gone, I had regained my strength; my cough had disappeared and I was once more enjoying perfect health."

The experience of Miss Hircow is that of many others. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, rich, red blood. This new blood strengthens the nerves and restores such ailments as rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, dyspepsia, etc., and brings the glow of health to pale cheeks. The Pills are sold by all dealers or for 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DR. D. W. SHIER'S NAME NOT ERASED FROM ROLL

Medical Council Thinks His Judgment Was Bad, But Intention Not Criminal.

"That the name of D. Webster Shier, M.D., be not now erased from the register of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario, but that this matter be again taken up at the next meeting of the council."

The foregoing resolution, moved by Dr. King in amendment of Dr. Gibson's motion to remove Dr. Shier's name from the register, was carried at yesterday afternoon's session of the medical council after a protracted and acrimonious discussion. Dr. Shier was present and spoke in his own defence.

The question arose on the reception of the report of the discipline committee presented by Dr. Robertson of Stratford, which recited the facts that Dr. Shier had appeared before them on Dec. 29, 1908, and April 6, 1909. The committee reported: "That the allegations of infamously and disgraceful conduct in a professional respect, whereof Dr. D. Webster Shier, M.D., rendered himself liable to have his name erased from the register, were proved."

Dr. Gibson then moved that the name be erased.

Dr. McArthur felt that there would be a hardship in erasing the name. He couldn't feel that it was a case of "infamously and disgraceful conduct," but rather one of bad judgment. He was in sympathy with the discipline committee. They all knew there were men practicing to-day who should be brought to book, but Dr. Shier had made a very judicious decision. He had nothing to do with the examining Lillian M. Read, the young woman in question, as an assessor in the examination. They should not go the length of branding him as a scoundrel and villain in the face of the whole world.

Dr. King said sufficient was proven that the council must act; not sufficient was proven to strike the name off. They should deal justly. He must suspend him for a year, during which the public could reasonably ask and would be a lesson to the doctor not to do those things for which later he might be sorry.

Dr. Moorhouse said that one of the functions of the council was to protect the public and the public's care. Dr. Shier had acted unwisely and indiscreetly in accepting $25 and directing the girl to a maternity home.

Dr. MacArthur said: "Act at once. I can hardly see how the discipline committee could see fit to bring him in guilty."

Dr. Hardy said that the house at 105 Grange-avenue, kept by Mrs. Johns, was a licensed maternity home. The only point in his mind against Dr. Shier was that he retained $25 without professional services rendered. There was no reasonable explanation why he was charged with a crime, but with a violation of professional ethics.

Dr. Shier's defence. Dr. Shier was then allowed to make a statement in his own behalf. It was very humiliating, he said, to come before them on a charge of that kind. He admitted that he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His financial loss was heavy and, in fact, he had shown poor judgment, but nothing wrong had been contemplated. The question of the money had been misunderstood. He understood Mrs. Johns' charge was $25. He rang her up and said that a patient was coming and she had $25. Mrs. Johns said it was not enough, but sent her down to the street with her $25, intending to pay over the professional charges at all. As to the standing over for a year, during the past fifteen months he had suffered a great deal in his practice and in his family. His