The fine work of Irish troops from Connaught, Leinster and Munster mentioned in connection with the capture of Guillemont, was carried on yesterday by the same troops in the attack on Ginchy. Some of our rifle regiments and regiments from Warwickshire, Kent, Devonshire, Gloucestershire, Surrey, Cornwall, Wales and Scotland, also engaged in all the fighting of the past week, have done splendid work."

The British communication issued shortly before midnight Sunday says:

The Germans were thrown back along the whole line into the trenches whence they had issued, suffering heavy losses. "On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) 100 more prisoners fell into our hands as a result of a bril-linat action undertaken east of Fleury, making 300 of the enemy captured in this affair. The recapture of Dobric, in the Dobrudja, by the Roumanians and Russians, who now appear to be coming up strong, presages an early en-counter between the main forces of the Romano-Slavs and the Germano-Bulgar armies. The Germans claim that they have captured Silistria, a town south of the Danube, situated at the point where the river makes a sweep from its due easterly course towards the north, but so far the ensweep from its due easterly course towards the north, but so far the en-gagements appear to be merely fighting between advanced guards and covering troops of the two armies. "On Saturday night one of our squadrons dropped 45 bombs on enemy depots and stations in the region of Chauny, (south of St. Quentin). Sev-eral machines of this squadron made two flights from their aerodrome to places selected for bombardment.
"The same night eighteen of our machines dropped numerous bombs on the military establishments at Ham, to make their pressure felt. The fighting in this theatre of the war has so far been chiefly conducted in the territory south of the Danube that Rou-mania took from Bulgaria in the second Balkan war. It is a narrow strip by covering troops on the south bank of the Danube before their main forces and the Russians came up, they would have been committing a tactical blunder by fighting a defensive battle with their backs to a broad river; the and as it must be assumed that the allied command which drew up the plans for the present campaign is well versed in the art of war, it may be safely assumed that the fighting in this region until the present has been to conducted with small Roumanian forces. The Roumanians continue to advance in Transylvania and unofficial reports speak of the Russians as having already invaded Serbia along the northern bank of the Danube.
