

FOUR MEETINGS ARE HELD IN CITY

Candidates and Others Present Issues of Campaign to Electors.

Women are Among Speakers at Rallies Held in Interest of Government.

The four Government candidates in the city, assisted by a corps of volunteer speakers, last night commenced a speech-making programme that will keep them busy evenings throughout the week in the various parts of the city. There were four meetings held, in St. Vincent's auditorium, in the St. Theatre, North End, in the Victoria Rink and in the Carleton Rink, West Saint John.

One of the candidates spoke in each place as did also two or three volunteer workers for the party. Tonight each succeeding night they will change places in order that each may be heard in each section. All dealt with some aspect or aspects of the work of the Government.

At St. Vincent's auditorium, Cliff street, Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, Minister of Health, was accompanied by Dr. J. R. Nugent and Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor. Miss Amelia Haley presided. Dr. Roberts asked his audience to contrast what had been accomplished by the Opposition, when in power, with what the Government had done. He closed as penitence the last minute appointing of a commission to prepare for the Workmen's Compensation Act, and the passing of the prohibition act and declared that the party had saddled the province with the Valley Railway, which had proved a $500,000 millstone about the neck of the people.

GOOD ROADS. He declared the present administration had given the province good roads, had been responsible for vocational education, had saved the people of Saint John a great deal in cutting the cost of electric light by the Quasquah hydro plant and was intending to give the province cheap power through the development of Grand Falls.

In speaking of the Public Health Act he declared that the compulsory pasteurization of milk had saved $25,000 annually in the costs of the epidemic, and that the Government had provided clinics for all diseases and had in all ways endeavored to carry on a crusade against sickness.

Dr. Nugent spoke on the meaning and practice of public health. He told of the instruments used everywhere to forward the cause of general health and declared that the regulations in force in New Brunswick were not purely local but had been adopted from the best authorities in medical practice in all parts of the world.

He paid special attention to the provincial laboratory service, declaring it to be the greatest to the Public Health Department.

MRS. LAWLER.

Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor gave an educational talk for women, speaking of the form of government, and of the duties and powers of each minister. She advised all women to attend the meetings of both parties and not to prove themselves side-bound politicians on either side but to use their own judgment.

She declared that when a government gave as good an administration as was humanly possible, it deserved to be returned to power and, when its policies were not consistent with the feminine ideas of right, it should be turned out, whatever party it happened to be.

FAVORS PROHIBITION.

Mrs. Lawlor dealt briefly with the five main points of discussion. In regard to charges of extravagance against the Government, she declared that the Opposition had made no suggestions as to how they were to arrive at their much desired economy. She asked her listeners not to confuse the meaning of economy, saying that a proper protection of the assets of the province was not extravagance but was a right economy.

She declared herself in favor of enforcement of the prohibition law but said that, as long as Great Britain made the liquor and shipped it here, she could see no hope for prohibition. She also spoke on the questions of health, and good roads.

Mrs. Lawlor spoke in the Victoria Rink as well.

IN STAR THEATRE.

E. J. Henneberry was the main speaker at the meeting in the Star Theatre. Mr. R. J. Hooper and F. S. A. McMullin, of the Hydro Commission of the city of Saint John, also spoke. The chairman was Allan A. McIntyre.

Mrs. Hooper, who is a member of the Board of Health, spoke on the public health legislation put in force by the Government. She told of the agitation for the pasteurization of milk, of how it was brought about, of the difficulties overcome in convincing the Board members that the move was necessary and of the length of time needed to bring all to the same way of regarding the act.

She said that the pasteurization had followed the demand for the bottling of the milk. The compulsory pasteurization had saved the lives of 400 babies already this year, she declared. She replied to the contention made by Mayor Fottis recently that he had only appointed three of the seven members on the board, the Government naming the rest, declaring that the city named three, the county, four, and the Government, only two. She also declared that the clinics had been upheld.

Mrs. Hooper also spoke in the Victoria Rink.

F. S. A. McMullin spoke on hydro, reviewing the work of the local commission and the establishment of the civic distribution system.

WEST SAINT JOHN.

Dealing with the main issues of the coming provincial election, Col. Alex. McMullin, government candidate for Saint John city, gave a short address to some 150 West Saint John supporters of the government last evening in their headquarters in the Carleton curling rink. Col. McMullin also spoke to the ward workers on how to make their efforts productive of the best results.

James T. Sharpe addressed the meeting on the benefits of the Workmen's Compensation Act and claimed that the government's execution of this bill

Canadian Peonies In London

This unique picture shows the much discussed Canadian Peonies grown in Montreal by Ormiston Roy and shipped to England in cold storage in a Canadian Pacific vessel, on exhibition in the window of the Canadian Pacific office in London. The Royal Horticultural Society has presented the Banksia Silver Medal to Mr. Roy and several London papers have remarked editorially upon the extraordinary perfect condition of the blooms after their long sea voyage. An interesting feature of the picture is that in the window may be seen the reflection of the new Canadian Building which stands almost directly opposite the Canadian Pacific office and was recently opened by the King and Queen.

Indian Chiefs From Canada Are Disappointed In London

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Three Indian chiefs who have just arrived in London from British Columbia to seek an audience of the King and submit grievances concerning tenure of their lands and the trapping of game are disappointed and discouraged. Interviewed by the Morning Post they said they had spent a fruitless day calling upon the Duke of Connaught's private secretary, the Colonial Office and P. C. Larkin's office in an endeavor to arrange an audience with the king. Everyone they saw professed inability to procure their admission to the king. The chiefs through an interpreter, an Indian woman named Mrs. Williams, stated that they represented 25 reserves and 4,000 Indians and that they would not go back until they had seen the king or the Duke of Connaught. They recalled that during the war the Duke of Connaught saw chief Basil David at Ottawa and invited him to come to England if his grievances were not settled in Canada. Accompanying the septuagenarian Basil David are Chiefs Wm. Ferrier and John Chelipita.
