OTTAWA VIEW OF THE ELECTION

Eagerness to Get Into Fray May Speed Federal Prorogation.

(Special to The Times)
Ottawa, April 28.—Ever since Premier Drury announced that a general election would be held in Ontario in June, corridors in the federal house have buzzed with talk about the effect that contest will have upon the duration of this session of the Dominion parliament. On the first question there has been nothing but hazy conjecture, but on the second there is evident agreement that the rapid approach of a lively campaign in Ontario will tend to abbreviate deliberations in this capital. The chief reason advanced for this is that members of all three parties, especially the Conservatives, crave a keen desire to get into the provincial fray and already show impatience with any needless talk either in the house or in committee.

For a time it was the habit to set June 15 as the date of federal prorogation but June 1 is more often heard now. There is the expected diversity of opinion as to who will come out "on top" in the Ontario polling, and what ever conclusions have been reached by members of the three parties previous to Thursday of this week were upset by Premier Drury's apparent reluctance to drop the U. F. O. pilot, in some quarters Premier Drury's evident repudiation of his "broadening out" policy is held to be a blow to those who expect a return of the agrarians to power in Ontario. In others it is argued that this interview between the Premier and Mr. Morrison is "common sense" and meant for "back home" consumption and that the light in the window has not been blown out but merely shaded. In Conservative groups it is, of course, contended that Mr. Ferguson has the only chance of going back with a group large enough to form a government; and in liberal circles it is declared that Mr. Hay's position is daily being strengthened and that to the extent that Premier Drury refuses to "broaden out" will the liberal position be additionally strengthened.

L. W. SIMMS IS MADE PRESIDENT

St. John Man Heads Religious Educational Council of Canada—Meeting in Toronto.

Toronto, April 28.—"Canada is a blasing trail in inter-denominational Sunday school co-operation and is still a long way ahead of the U. S. in this matter," declared Dr. H. S. MacCall of Chicago here last night. He is the general secretary of the International Sunday School Council for religious education.

The annual meeting of the religious educational council of Canada yesterday elected L. W. Simms, of St. John, N. B., as president. Interesting reports were presented. That of the secretary shows 11,000 embraced the work, with 1,100,000 scholars, 110,000 volunteer officers and sixty men and women full time leaders employed, and $120,000 expended by the various denominations in providing supervision and $60,000 by co-operative agencies. ## It Takes All Kinds To Make A World

About this time of year the heart of the general public—that is, the portion that does not anticipate the joys of making a change in its domicile—goes out to those who are making a wreck of the interior of their houses in anticipation of the exodus. And, naturally, anything that can be done to facilitate the operation, is—as a rule—generally carried out.

From time to time reports have been current that certain people, who were planning a shift of habitation on May 1, have been unable to get permission from the tenant in the house to which they were moving to get any of their belongings transferred before the actual moving date. This is bad enough, but a case which came to light this May is regarded as the high-water mark of obstinacy.

A family proposed moving from the lower flat of a house into the flat upstairs. The family which had occupied the upstairs portion of the house had gone to other quarters and the man on the lower floor thought that he would be able to move his things up gradually all this week. But he hadn't counted on the lady who had occupied his new home. She had moved out, taking the key with her and absolutely refused to hand it over until the end of this month.

Technically, she could not be compelled to do otherwise, bearing in mind the rental charges, but even the offer of the new tenant to relieve her of the last two weeks' rent did not move her to compassion. She is still obstinate.

Life is like that!

The drawing room, where the ceremony took place, was artistically decorated with quantities of roses, snap dragon and ferns.

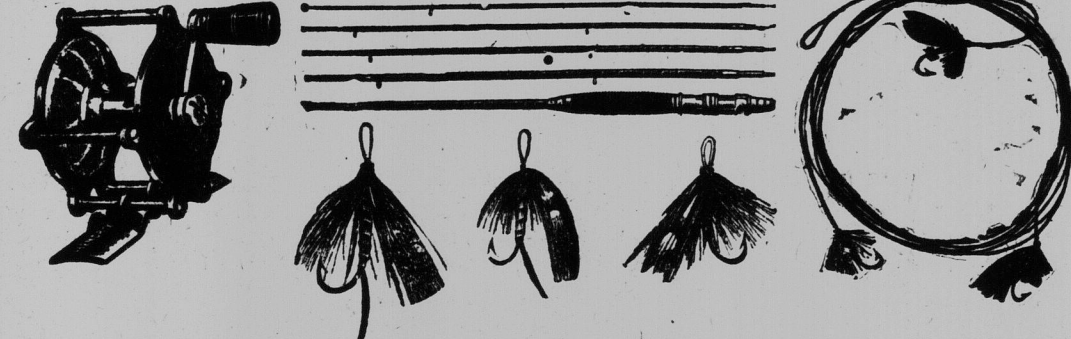

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, looked very winsome in a smart imported suit of navy serge, trimmed with monkey fur and taupe silk embroidery. Her hat was of golden brown visc with quill trimmings. She also wore a stole of grey squirrel and carried a shower bouquet of Opheila roses. Miss Isabel Keith of Moncton, a cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. Immediately after the ceremony lunch was served. In the centre of the bride's table was a silver basket containing daisies. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left on the 8 o'clock train for Halifax on a brief wedding trip. On their return they will reside in Sussex and have taken rooms with Mrs. John Scott until their home will be ready for them in the autumn.

Both bride and groom are very popular and received many beautiful gifts of sterling silver, cut glass and china. The bride also received several substantial checks.
