STORM PLAYS HAVOC WITH RAILWAYS

Derailment at Hampton — Foot of Snow Followed by Sleet Makes Street Conditions Disagreeable — Street Railway Schedule Suffers.

The business suburbanites and other workers in the city whose homes are in the C. N. R. suburban districts were late getting to their work this morning on account of the heavy snow storm which held up the trains along the line. The Halifax train, due to reach the city at six o'clock did not arrive until 11.05, the delay being partly due to the heavy snow and partly to a slight derailment which occurred at Hampton when a freight engine slid off the points of the switch. After some time the engine was put on the rails and was hitched ahead of the Halifax train. Everything was in readiness and the engines started to forge ahead through the snow when a drawbar on the first class coach was pulled out, causing a delay of some thirty minutes. The Halifax train reached the city at 11.05, while the suburban train followed and reached soon afterwards. The Sussex suburban was delayed at Apohaig but it also reached the city about noon.

The city roads and streets were in a trying state for traffic today, due to the storm of last night, when nearly a foot of snow fell, and its being followed today by rain and sleet. The temperatures were mild, and there was very little wind, however, which served to make the day less disagreeable. Snow began falling this morning about eight o'clock and continued through the night until about 8.30 o'clock this morning, when eleven and a half inches of snow had accumulated and then it changed to sleet and rain. The storm has been moving slowly along the coast from Florida for the last few days and has given much trouble along the New England seaboard.

The street railway service was badly shaken after eleven o'clock last night and many people were compelled to walk in the snow to their homes. The sweeper and salt cars were kept out all night and managed to keep a clear track to be opened this morning, but the schedules towards midnight were rudely disturbed. There is no indication of severe weather again, it was said at the observatory this morning, but prospects are for a continuance of unsettled conditions.

Need Co-operation.

"If sidewalk conditions throughout the city are to be improved there will have to be greater co-operation from citizens in general," said Commissioner Fisher to a Times reporter this morning. He said that it is utterly impossible to cope with present conditions unless the people remove the snow and give the civic employees a chance to use their plows. He explained that when the plows clear off a portion of the sidewalks after storms a certain amount of naturally falling snow and unless this is removed by tenants or property owners it becomes hard and unless broken up by broken engines endeavoring to remove another snow fall. This morning the snow was so heavy that spades of horses had to be used and the work was so difficult that many of the animals became so fatigued that they had to be taken back to the barns. One plow was quite badly broken and others were damaged as a result of coming in contact with hard snow which had not been removed.

Owing to the break in the water main many employees had to be utilized for fire protection and also for the purpose of distributing water from carts at King street east station, No. 3 engine house, Union street, No. 5 engine house, Main street, and the hook and ladder station in Portland street.

The Cars Today.

The baseball expression "everybody walks" was applicable to conditions about the city around noon today when the car service became quite demoralized or "demobilized" owing to the weather conditions. Several "fireworks" displays were given gratuitously when the trolleys encountered ice on the wires. King street was a particularly hard climb for the cars and it took those that were working some little time to make the ascent. The city restaurants were the only ones who heeded mostly from the failure of the car service because fewer people went home to lunch.

Trains Held Up.

Early reports on the Boston train this morning said that it was cancelled but later advice went to the effect that it was running nine hours late. The early train from Montreal due at 6.45 a. m., did not reach the city until after noon, the second Montreal was reported two hours late, and the Maritime three hours. The Valley train did not get out this morning until 10 o'clock owing to a freight train being stalled on the Shantytown grade and the St. John-Halifax local was held up fifty minutes in its departure.

Main Breaks In Brussels Street

Water Off in High Levels of City—Expect Normal Service This Afternoon.

A break occurred in the fifteen inch water main in Brussels street early this morning, and as a result all of the high levels were affected.
The superintendent of the water and sewerage department, speaking to the Times said that they located the break shortly after eight o'clock and immediately started to shut off the gates which were supplying this main. Owing to ice forming near the base of the gates the work was necessarily slower and more difficult than in the summer months, he said; but this afternoon he expected to have the pressure normal in all parts of the city, with the exception of those directly supplied by the broken main.
The break occurred between Hanover and Waterloo streets, and a crew of men are now at work effecting repairs. Owing to the storm and the fact that there is nearly six feet of frost in the ground, the men are finding the task an arduous one.
