

Document "G" Cont'd

He also stated that he is troubled about his wife and that it was still on his mind and feels that if he has to submit to the rigours of a Detention Barracks, that he will break down. After having my talk to this Accused for the short length of time that I had in getting the facts of the case, I can well believe that. I would ask the Court to give serious consideration to this request on the Accused soldiers part.

James S. Craig, Esq.
President A.C.M.