THE MCDONALD CASE.

After an investigation before the coroner which lasted eleven days, an examination before a jury of twelve days, and a trial before a jury of twelve days, McDonald has been found to be the person who caused the death of Mrs. Macrae by sending her a letter which she had also found to be the cause of her insanity.

McDonald was not only proved to be the author of the letter which caused the death of Mrs. Macrae, but also the author of the letter which caused her insanity.

The evidence in this case is so strong that it is not necessary to say more than that McDonald is guilty of the crime.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty against McDonald, and the coroner returned a verdict of manslaughter.

The case of McDonald is a remarkable one, and it is interesting to see how the evidence was obtained.
