POLICEMAN'S NARROW ESCAPE

An Indian Takes His Revolver and Deliberately Attempts to Shoot Him.

Constable Anderson Arrives on the Scene in Time to Save the Officer.

A bottle of gin supplied to Jim, a west coast Indian, came very near being the cause of a murder on Government street early this morning. Jim was arrested on Constance street about 3 this morning by Officer Gilchrist for having liquor in his possession. The officer, after a great deal of trouble, reached Government street with his prisoner, but here the burly siwash stopped and showed fight. Officer Gilchrist proceeded to handcuff him, but he soon found that was no easy job. The Indian closed with the officer, and putting his arms around his waist, took the officer's revolver. What followed is best told in the words of Officer Gilchrist. He said: "Seeing the prisoner had my revolver I threw him and we both fell into a narrow alleyway. I felt the muzzle of the revolver pressed to my temple and then the trigger was pulled, but luckily I had my thumb behind the hammer. The hammer caused the bullet on my thumb. (Bruise shown to court). The Indian pulled the trigger a second time, causing another bruise on my thumb. I struggled with him for nearly half an hour, when Constable Anderson came to my assistance. It took the two of us twenty minutes to take the prisoner to the lockup. I was just about exhausted when Constable Anderson arrived, and would soon have been overpowered."

It was just by chance that officer Anderson passed the spot where the fight was in progress. He was at the lockup intending to go home, but changed his mind and walked down to Government street, where he saw the struggle. There is little doubt but Officer Gilchrist would have been murdered had officer Anderson not arrived when he did. The wounds on his thumb show quite plainly that the trigger was pulled more than once. Every chamber in the weapon was loaded.

During the trouble the Indian said, "You killed two of my cousins and you are going to die now." He was, no doubt, referring to the two west coast Indians killed at different times by police officers.

The Indian was fined $25 for having liquor and committed for trial on the charge of assaulting an officer. Police Magistrate Macrae did not consider the punishment he could impose adequate. The prisoner is a very heavy and muscular man. The police are now looking for the man who supplied the liquor that caused the trouble.

Diment had been riding in the wagon with the driver, Harry Maynard. Maynard left the wagon to deliver a keg of beer, and the bluejacket, attempting to turn the horses, was thrown to the ground and had the collar of his shirt caught in the lines. He was dragged along the ground in a straggling condition till the wheel of the wagon collided with a tree. The unfortunate man was black in the face when released from his perilous position. He was taken to the naval hospital and remained unconscious for some time. He was much better this afternoon.

Many friends will be pained to hear of his death, which resulted from a severe cold contracted while at San Diego three months ago.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Man Falls Under a Street Car and Sustains Only Slight Injuries.

H. Callow, a young gardener, narrowly escaped death on the Esquimalt road yesterday. He was riding on street car No. 16 of the Esquimalt branch, and, as a matter of preference, stood on the front of the car on the lowest step. There are a number of sharp curves on the Esquimalt branch, and the one who rides on the front of a car requires to look sharp when the car approaches a curve. Young Callow, who was standing with his hands in his pockets, did not notice any danger as the car approached the curve and was thrown violently off, and as the car swung around the curve it caught him by the foot, tearing the shoe almost completely off and inflicting severe wounds on the lower part of the leg. The young man fell with considerable violence and received quite a gash in the head by falling upon a sharp stone.

It was thought that the man was surely killed, but upon his removal to his home, where a careful examination of his injuries was made, it was found that he was not in any way seriously injured. Callow is reported to be resting quite easily this afternoon.

A CARLETON CO. MIRACLE

BACK TO HEALTH AFTER YEARS OF EXTREME SUFFERING.

Yielded to the Advice of a Friend and Obtained Results Three Doctors Had Failed to Secure.

From the Ottawa Journal.

Mr. George Argue is one of the best known farmers in the vicinity of North Gower. He has passed through an experience as painful as it is remarkable, and his story as told a reporter will perhaps be of value to others. "I was born in the county of Carleton," said Mr. Argue, "and have lived all my life within 20 miles of the city of Ottawa. Ten years of that time have been years of pain and misery almost beyond endurance. Eleven years ago I contracted a cold which resulted in pleurisy and in inflammation of the lungs. Other complications then followed and I was confined to my room for five years. The doctor who attended me thought that long illness said that the reason I was unable to move about was due to the contracting of the muscles and nerves of my hands and feet through long confinement to bed. I could hobble around a little on crutches, but was well helpless. At this stage a second doctor was called in who declared my trouble was spinal complaint. Notwithstanding medical advice and treatment I was sinking lower and lower, and was regarded as incurable. I was now in such a state that I was unable to leave my bed, but determined to find a cure if possible, and sent for one of the most able physicians in Ottawa. I was under his care and treatment for three years. He blathered about every three or four weeks and exerted all his skill, but in vain. I was growing weaker and weaker and began to think the end could not be far off. At this juncture a friend strongly urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I yielded to his suggestions, and by the time six boxes of pills were used I found myself getting better. I used in all 30 boxes, and they have accomplished what ten years of treatment under physicians failed to do. Thanks to this wonderful medicine, I am able to attend to my duties and am as free from disease as any man in ordinary health is expected to be. I still use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they are the medicine for me, and so long as I live I shall use no other. If I had got these pills ten years ago I should not have had to suffer as I did, and would have saved some hundreds of dollars doctor bills. It is only those who have passed through such a terrible siege as I have done who can fully realize the wonderful merit of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mr. Argue's experience should convince even the most skeptical that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills stand far in advance of other medicines and are one of the greatest discoveries of the age. There is no disease due to poor or watery blood or shattered nerves which will not speedily yield to this treatment and innumerable cases patients have been restored to health and strength after physicians have pronounced the dreaded word "incurable." Sold by all dealers in medicine or sent by mail postpaid, at 50 cents a box or 12 boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. SAANICH AND THE ISLANDS.

Trade, Travel and Scenery—Additional Notes of a Tour.

Our northern correspondent sends a few additional notes relative to his recent trip to Saanich and the islands: The Victoria & Sidney Railway is proving an important factor for the city of Victoria, both as regards passenger travel and goods traffic. The new venture is a success to the promoters and of great advantage to residents near the line of railway, whether viewed from a travel standpoint or in the transport of goods or farm produce; and its value is enhanced by having a connection established with a special steamer beyond its terminus at Sidney, which is about 17 miles from Victoria. The trip from Victoria to Sidney is varied and pleasant. Leaving the station at Hillside avenue, the lofty, rocky bluffs—Mount Tolmie and Mount Douglas—rising from fertile well-cultivated fields, are on the right with "Big Saanich" on the left. Skirting through roads and clearings along the Lake District, almost due north, the train passes within sight of Beaver and Elk lakes, whence the supply of our city water is obtained. Saanichton station is soon reached, the centre of Saanich District, celebrated for its fine farms and productive orchards, which extend at intervals along the length of the whole peninsula beyond the railway terminus at Sidney. The business affairs of the railway appear to be economically conducted under T. W. Paterson as general manager; Peter Dunlevy, president; Julius Brethour, vice-president; Henry Brethour and Samuel Rounding, directors. The management so far gives good satisfaction to the public. At Sidney a spacious grove, containing lofty trees, on a rising ground along the sea-shore, has been reserved by the company, and the surface levelled for the accommodation of excursion parties. Seats and swings are improvised at different places, and in a central, shady spot a floor has been laid and enclosed for the use of those who wish to "shake the light fantastic toe." The view eastward is magnificent, reaching across to the mainland and including Mount Baker, immediately opposite, towering above the distant horizon. On the evening of the 3rd instant the view of the extinct crater from Sidney grove was sublime. At that time it happened there was a clear space of sky over the mountain, which was entirely covered with snow, whilst the nearer portion of the mainland, islands and channels were shrouded by clouds. The panorama, with the immense silvery cone in the background, was exquisite, and the view lasted until sunset. The vista southward by Cordova channel, and across Haro strait, including the snow-capped Olympic range and the various intervening islands (one of the nearest being the contested island—San Juan, whose residents now would fain be attached to British Columbia) is magnificently grand. Northwards the scenery is romantic, embracing the high bluff, Cape Koppel, the southern point of Salt Spring island; also portions of Pender, Prevost and Galiano islands. Amongst this enchanting scenery the steamer "Mary Hare," commanded by Captain Hare, a "master mariner," makes daily trips in connection with the railway at Sidney. The trips are so arranged that parties can remain over at certain points to suit the time at their command, either picnicking or tourists.

The establishment of flax works at Sidney is spoken of; also brick works, as the clay of the neighborhood are superior. Taken together, the outlook of the Saanich peninsula and its numerous island dependencies is bright for 1895, and doubtless will continue, as settlement there has greatly increased during the last few years—yet there is room for additional thousands of industrious settlers, shepherds, fruit-raisers and fishermen.

GRANITE CREEK.

The Stevenson Company—Great Need of Roads—Cost of Freight.

Granite Creek, June 3.—The spring freshets are now subsiding and much activity and hustle is displayed by the miners and numerous large companies in preparation for the season's operations, which will be conducted with all modern appliances. Two very large large companies, one the Stevenson gold and platinum hydraulic mining company, formed chiefly of Ottawa and Montreal capitalists, under the efficient management and presidency of Mr. Robert Stevenson, a pioneer of Cassiar and Cariboo, have large forces employed and are making things hum already. The Stevenson company deserves great credit for the progress made, despite the terrible difficulties encountered. The sawmill is fast approaching completion and will prove a great boon both to the rancher and miner, who, during the past, have been badly handicapped by the high charges for whip-sawn lumber. This company is certain to reap a rich reward.

Unfortunately we are compelled to lament and develop the country hereabouts under many disadvantages, chief among which is the negligence and failure of the government in providing us with a wagon road. Several influentially signed petitions, praying the government to grant an appropriation for an extension of the wagon road, or at least a fair share of the public expenditure to Com. different times have been presented to the minister, who invariably replied in his usual manner, that "the matter would certainly receive the government's serious consideration." Of course he was in the vicinity of Cherry Creek, to which place he induced the government to build a first class road from Vernon some sixty miles, and not for the settlers' convenience. A road from Thyme's place to here (some fifteen miles) must be built somehow. The trails even are so bad that pack animals can hardly get through and freight only can be delivered via rafts on lakes and rivers at the risk of life and the loss of cargo. In any case machinery must be carried by men the last six miles, incurring a very heavy expense. I am informed that the Stevenson company's costs per pound for bringing in a large sawmill averaged 18 cents, so one can form an idea of how badly a road is required.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY.

Preservation of the Monarchy Means Peace and Development.

Vienna, June 3.—The Emperor Francis Joseph, replying to-day to the address of the president of the Hungarian delegation, dwelt upon the satisfactory character of the relations of Austria-Hungary with foreign powers and justified increased credit asked for military purposes by the necessity of further developing the army and navy. Count Andrássy, on behalf of the Hungarian delegation, said the latter would direct its efforts to preserve the monarchy, which to Hungary means tranquillity, development and blessings of peace. Hungary owed the permanent peace which prevailed to the Emperor's solicitude, and looked to the future with-out anxiety, convinced that his majesty would safeguard the position of the monarchy as the great power.

The loss of property and the distress occasioned by the floods at Koebersdorf cannot be described. Hundreds of houses have been destroyed. The Galician towns of Kolomea, Sambor, Sadowa and Wisznia are also reported badly damaged.

Twelve hundred postmen struck for an increase of wages in Buda-Pesth.
