ARRESTED FOR WIFE MURDER.

Strong Evidence Against Husband of Woman Whose Body Was Found in a Sewer.

MOUNT VERNON, N. J., July 27.—Martin Ebel, also known as Schaffer, husband of the woman whose body was found in a sewer on the outskirts of the city, where it had been thrown after she had been strangled to death, was brought to Mount Vernon this afternoon by Chief of Police Foley from White Plains, where he had been arrested. His arrest followed the identification of the body of his wife by her step-father, Gottfried Richel. Ebel is a linenman and was at work when arrested.

Ebel and his wife lived until last Friday with the linenman's mother, in Sixth street, not far from where the body was found. On Friday evening Mrs. Ebel left home, ostensibly to go to work for a family about a mile from her home. Her husband left the house with her. Two hours later, Ebel or Schaffer returned. Mrs. Ebel never reached her destination and was never seen at her home again.

The police have succeeded in tracing Ebel and his wife almost to the spot where the body was found and have evidence that they were lost sight of within three hundred yards from the place.

MARRIED ON A BRIDGE.

ROCKVILLE, Md., July 27.—The unusual scene of a marriage on Cabin John bridge, the wedding was witnessed one afternoon this week when Winfield Isaac Bender, of Philadelphia, formerly a member of the Boston Opera Company, and Miss Frances D. Morna, daughter of a Washington contractor, were made man and wife by the Rev. Mahlon Austin, of Glen Echo. The ceremony was witnessed by a crowd of persons who happened to be near at the time. The young folks appeared in person at Rockville and obtained a license.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 27.—The warship Argentina of the Argentine Republic, arrived today. There is now a fleet of eight warships now at anchor in this port—four British, two German, one French and one Argentine. A third German warship, the Gazelle, is expected in a day or two.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 28, 1903.

ELECTION CONDITIONS.

Should the general elections come off this fall the liberal-conservative party enters into the conflict with chances of success incomparably greater than at any time since the reconstruction of the cabinet before the elections of 1896. For the first time since the accession of the Laurier administration the parties are divided on a question in which the whole country, from Vancouver to Sydney is vitally interested and upon which before definite action is taken the verdict of the people should be heard. Except in times of severe financial depression it seems impossible in Canada to overturn a government unless there is some question of supreme importance to command the close consideration of the electorate.

The public moral sense is not so delicate as it used to be. Proof of reckless extravagance, of scandalous deals, of flagrant promise breaking, of growing corruption, arouse the average elector not a whit so long as he personally is not affected. Only a few years ago public opinion of the Pacific Scandal hurried from the seats of power one of the strongest governments that ever sat there. Nowadays transactions beside which even the grit version of that episode looks white as snow, are passed by with a shrug. Even the unpeppery corruption in Ontario, unveiled by the Gage revelations, aroused little more than an indifferently interested smile at the tricks of those politicians. And the country is still prosperous. Last year's productiveness, in the west especially, has attracted thousands of immigrants whose coming is for Canada's good and this year promises another good crop. So, in so far as the government may be given credit for natural conditions by the unthinking voter the time is favorable to it.

But this time there is an issue on which all but the most quiescent must take sides. Since the remedial bill nothing has arisen to draw such a sharp dividing line as this Grand Trunk Pacific deal, which the government, possessed by that madness that comes before destruction, seems determined to force through parliament in spite of the opposition of some of its ablest members and of a storm of protest from the country in general. Should the elections come now this question will be put before the people by both parties in such a way that no thinking man may escape from a decision; and it seems impossible that a verdict in its favor can come from any save those in districts which might be directly benefited by the proposed road, who are indifferent to the welfare of Canada at large.

On this question as on all other matters of policy the conservative party present a united front. They have for a leader a man whose fairness, moderation, honesty and broad statesmanship has earned the esteem and admiration of all who have followed his political course and whose personality has won the affection of all who have come under its influence. Against them is arrayed a rapidly disintegrating party, torn by factions and personal strife, smirched with misdealing and corruption, under a man who, less than ever, has the power of commanding obedience and who is committed to a railway policy, which even his own railway minister, himself not so squeamish, refuses to endorse. The conservatives should welcome an election as soon as the government choose to precipitate it.

THE STAR.

The attention of advertisers is again called to the steadily increasing circulation of The Star. The first of this month the average circulation for each of the three years of its existence was published with the average circulation of each month of 1903. The figures showed that the sale had increased year by year and month by month until the sale of last June averaged daily 3,657.

During this month the circulation has mounted still higher. The average for the past week, 3,882, is considerably in excess of any week in the history of the paper. The sales day by day were as follows:

Monday, July 20	4,020
Tuesday, July 21	3,577
Wednesday, July 22	3,800
Thursday, July 23	3,700
Friday, July 24	3,700
Saturday, July 25	4,200

Boston Herald: A Halifax divine declares that women golfers swear while playing the game. Well, women are only human beings, after all, and if this divine had ever put 700 pounds of steam into what he believed was to be a 300-yard drive, and had dug his club into the earth and found his self instead, he would know how it is himself.

If Mr. Ancient would improve the language of his golfing church members he should try to improve the quality of their game.

Shamrock III. looks as if she might be a four-leafed shamrock.

A MIX-UP.

A month or so ago a number of the leading business men of the city including prominent Liberals, some of whom are directors of the Telegraph newspaper, sent a telegram to Mr. Blair. This telegram urged the minister of railways strongly to insist that the proposed Grand Trunk Pacific must guarantee to extend its line through New Brunswick before any aid was given the company by the government.

Now Mr. Blair has resigned his seat because the Grand Trunk is coming through New Brunswick, according to the request of his St. John supporters, and the Telegraph, whose directors signed the telegram, is fighting for Mr. Blair against the government, which acted upon the advice of those directors. To the ignorant observer the situation seems to be slightly mixed.

A SCIENTIFIC GERRYMANDER.

The redistribution bill as applied to the province of Ontario is a fine specimen of a scientific gerrymander. This kind of thing can be done by a special committee with a government majority as well as by any other piece of mechanism. The effect of the proposed changes has been worked out in detail by the Toronto News. Taking each constituency as now arranged and computing the result on the basis of the vote polled in each parish at the last election, the News finds that a conservative majority of sixteen will be changed into a liberal majority of fifteen without turning a vote.

This is not because the province of Ontario had previously been gerrymandered in favor of the Tories. On the contrary, there is a majority of conservative votes in the province, and therefore there should be a majority of conservative members. But the bill gives a liberal minority of electors power to elect a majority of representatives. The same thing has been done by the provincial gerrymander in Ontario which served as a model for this bill. Mr. Whitney had a majority of 7,800 in the popular vote. But Mr. Ross holds office and has a majority in the house.

It is all quite easy. First, nearly every constituency abolished is a conservative seat. Then the counties which have less than their fair proportion of members are conservative counties. Those which have more than their proportion are liberal counties. Lastly, where a county has more than one member it is divided into ridings in such a way as to give the liberals an unfair advantage. A fair sample is Hastings county, which now returns three conservatives, the government with 665, and one with 342 majority. One seat is abolished and the county is so divided as to make one riding with 92 liberal majority and one with 1,651 conservative majority. Thus in a county with a conservative majority of nearly 1,600, the liberals get half the representation.

This is a fair sample.—The Sun.

CABINET CRISIS.

MONTREAL, July 27.—The Star publishes an Ottawa special tonight saying that a cabinet crisis is on, the result of which will be elections within five weeks, or postponement for a year. It is reported country members have been receiving advices from home warning them that if the Grand Trunk bill is rushed through the government will be swept from power. In consequence of these representations half of the cabinet ministers are clamoring for immediate dissolution, while the other half demand that the Grand Trunk bill be passed and the government must take its time in appealing to the voters.

OTTAWA, July 27.—Time is not healing the bitter strife prevailing in the liberal party. Le Solle, the French organ at Quebec, owned and edited by Paquet, Laurier's confidential agent, advocates an appeal to the country as soon as parliament is prorogued. This view is also taken by one wing of the cabinet, while the other section wishes to hold off the election for another year. Many of the rank and file, who are not willing to lose their seats, are also fighting suggestions in favor of general election. These in turn are denounced by liberals who fear that the Grand Trunk Pacific deal will end in their political undoing. Altogether, Laurier's life is a hard one, and the cabinet dissensions are increasing. The liberal press is doing its best to minimize the true conditions by repeated references to the harmony between the ministers. The story of the Sifton-Fisher fight is denied in the press, while it could not be refuted on the floors of parliament. Within the last few days, rumors of an election this fall are afloat, and every preparation is being made by the conservatives to put themselves in readiness for the fray.

OTTAWA, July 27.—If Laurier can be relied upon, the notice of the government's Grand Trunk Pacific policy will be given tomorrow. On orders of the day, Mr. Borden again asked when parliament would be informed as to the course to be adopted towards this measure. He reminded the premier that ten days ago he had promised a full explanation of the text, but those expectations had not been realized. Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that he had been advised just before entering the house that the bill had been drafted, and he hoped to be able to submit a resolution not later than Tuesday.

Consideration of the bill to incorporate the Brockville and Sault Ste. Marie Railway Co. caused another prolonged debate, owing to the absence of the member responsible for it, and hours were spent on it. The Alliance Bank bill was taken up, and Mr. Henderson moved an amendment prohibiting the bank from lending money on stocks or bonds of any company not incorporated in the British or Canadian parliaments, or a Canadian provincial legislature, unless the majority of the shareholders consent to the loan. It was defeated by a large majority and the bill was reported and read a third time.

NOTES.
Mr. Hays will be here tomorrow to sign the Grand Trunk Pacific contract.

H. Estabrook's new building, will be a great addition to Dock street.

THE HOLY CITY.

ROME, July 27.—Almost all the cardinals of the conclave have now arrived. Their time today was mainly occupied with a lengthy meeting of the Congregation. In well informed circles Cardinal Angelo Di Pietro, pro-datary of the late pope, is being talked of as a compromise candidate in the event that Cardinals Gregorio Gotti, Rampolla or Serafino Vannutelli are unable to secure the necessary votes. Should Di Pietro be elected pope, he would, it is said, be the representative of the Rampolla-Gotti faction and he would be fairly acceptable to all. Cardinal Michael Logue, archbishop of Armagh, who with the exception of Cardinals Gibbons, will be the only English speaking cardinal in the conclave, arrived today from Ireland. He said he believed that the successor to Leo would be quickly chosen. In his case perhaps the hope is father to the thought, as he said he did not look forward with great degree of pleasure to being shut up in the vatican during the present hot weather. Speaking of Cardinal Gibbons, the Irish cardinal paid him a glowing tribute though, like all the prelates here, he held out no hope for the election of a cardinal had the remotest chance of election.

"Indeed," said Cardinal Logue, "I think Cardinal Gibbons would be a subject for commiseration if the election should devolve upon him, for no American would care to spend the rest of his life confined within the precincts of the vatican."

The Irish cardinal expressed the opinion that the question of sending a note to the powers protesting against the treatment of the vatican by the Italian government should be left to the next pope.

At today's meeting of the Congregation fifty-two cardinals were present and all noticed the exceptionally cordial reception accorded to Cardinal Gibbons, who was visibly touched by it. He thanked all colleagues and embraced Cardinal Satolli.

CONVICTS BOLD BREAK FOR LIBERTY.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 27.—A special from Folsom says:—After a fierce fight, during which the warden was fatally stabbed, a guard killed and another officer wounded, thirteen desperate prisoners effected their escape today from Folsom penitentiary. The convicts made their break for liberty about 7 a. m., the breakfast hour. Armed with knives and razors they assaulted the warden and his men. The warden's clothing was slashed into threads with a razor, but the blade did not touch the flesh. One guard was disabled by a cut in the abdomen and he died about noon. After leaving the penitentiary the convicts went to a farmer's house, seized his four horses and took the farmer with them as a driver and headed for the Bald Mountains. All the convicts are still at large.

BARRE, Vt., July 27.—Albert Bliss, a prominent farmer of Calais, committed suicide this afternoon by drowning in a water tub. Mr. Bliss, who was probably the wealthiest farmer in town, had worried so much over the prospective failure of his crops, that his mind became unbalanced.

CRAFTY RUSSIA.

PEKIN, July 27.—The Russian administration of Newchwang has stopped the exportation of wheat to Japan. The export of grain from Chinese ports is illegal, but the Russians, therefore, have ignored the law. In the past week the Japanese obtained many shipments from Newchwang, apparently preparing for war contingencies. Several ships were employed in bringing wheat from Shanghai and southern ports to Newchwang, where it was trans-shipped as a direct export. The prohibitory order was issued by the Russian officials last Thursday.

General Kondratovich has been placed in charge of six armored commercial boats and the navigation of the Liao river, which is construed here as another sign of Russia's intention to retain Newchwang, and the present rate there will be almost 100,000 Russian civilians in Manchuria, including Port Arthur and Dainy, before the date fixed for the final evacuation next fall.

SAFETY BOARD.

At a meeting of the safety board held yesterday it was decided to give Chief Clark an office telephone. The bills and bye-laws committee will prepare a bye-law prohibiting the washing of windows between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. The board declined an offer of $850 for three lots of land in Fairville for school purposes, but the land may be expropriated. James Hunter wrote with reference to the tender for fire alarm wire. He had tendered for 25 or 30 miles and was given the contract for 12. Mr. Hunter did not think this was fair. It was decided to notify Mr. Hunter that his tender will be accepted for 12 miles if he sees fit to supply this amount.

A light will be placed in Riverview Park. Two-way hydrants will be placed on Gormley street at Masonic Hall and the corner of Princess. The council will be asked for authority to call for tenders for 1,000 feet of hose. It is proposed to build a new fire station on the West Side, large enough to accommodate all the apparatus. The location will be on Market square.
