THERE'S DANGER
in the ordinary oil lamp—the lamp that sits on the table, but THE ANGLE LAMP is hung above and because of having no under-shadow throws its beautiful, brilliant light everywhere. It cannot explode, can be filled while lighted and is always out of the way. It burns "old fashioned" kerosene giving an intense, clear, soft light. Its soothing rays invigate the skin and rest the eyes. It is always ready, easy to operate, no smoking, no odor, no glassware to remove in lighting or extinguishing. A better light at one-eighth the cost of other illuminants. Instead of the trying light and dangers and trouble of Gasoline and Acetylene use the soft, cool light of The Angle Lamp to work or play by. 20 styles. Call and see the lamp demonstrated.

BEAR SHOT HIMSELF.
But He Did It With a Spring Gun—It Wasn't Suicide.

The carcass of a big bear attracted much attention in the market this morning. The owner of the carcass is George Richardson, of Waterford, King's county, who, when asked how the bear came to its death replied:
"The beast shot itself." Here is how brute did it. For some weeks Mr. Richardson had been bothered with nocturnal visits from a bear, who succeeded in getting into the sheep pen and carrying off two sheep. To put a stop to the depredations Mr.

Richardson rigged up two guns, loaded to the muzzle in such a way that the moment the bear disturbed the bait the guns would explode.
On Wednesday about two o'clock in the morning brute met his doom. The discharge of the guns aroused Mr.
Richardson, and going out he found him dead with the side of his skull blown in.

WRONG DEFINITION.
"After all," remarked Huggins,
"marriage is only a lottery."
"Don't you believe it, my friend," rejoined Ennep: "Men sometimes draw prizes in a lottery."

BRITAIN WILL SUBMIT
CASE TO ARBITRATION.

International Commission to Decide Concerning Action of Russian Fleet--But British Warships
Are All Ready.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—Great Britain has offered to submit the Russo-British complications to an international commission and there is every reason to believe that Russia will accept this arrangement.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28.—The morning papers today print Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's report of the North Sea incident, with extensive comments, the tone of which does not mean conciliation. The Russian admiral's report is accepted without reservation as the true explanation of the happenings at Dogger Bank and the declaration of the fishermen that torpedo boats of which the Russian fleet had none, ran close to the trawlers before the Russian vessels of the Russian squadron. Attention is called also to the statement by the fishermen that a vessel remained six hours at the scene of the disaster, while Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky reports that the whole Russian squadron proceeded to the southward.

While it is the general disposition to throw the blame for all the loss of life upon the Japanese, some people do not hesitate to say that it is Great Britain's private affair.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Admiralty orders have reached Portsmouth to stop the leave of all officers and men and directions that torpedo boat flotilla be kept in readiness to proceed wherever expected.

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 28.—The British cruiser Lancaster, Suffolk, Hermes, Doris, Endymion and Theseus sailed to the westward this morning.

VIGO, Spain, Oct. 28.—Admiral Ro-jestvensky has given orders to the Russian squadron to prepare to sail for Tangier.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The widespread interest in today's cabinet meeting was evidenced by the early assembling this morning of crowds in Downing street.
These gatherings soon became so thick that the police were obliged to clear them out from the neighborhood of Whitehall District. Premier Balfour was early at work attending to his correspondence and receiving visitors, among whom was Lord Rothschild.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The first division of the home fleet left Portsmouth this morning and is expected to arrive at Isle of Portland tomorrow.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(Bulletin)—A statement has just been issued by the Russian embassy as follows:—

"In view of the communications received with the British government. As a result of these communications the Russian government has decided to submit the case to arbitration."

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28, 2:45 p. m.— Orders have been telegraphed to Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky to detain at Vigo all the warships which took part in the North Sea incident.

LONDON, Oct. 28, 1:34 p. m.—Orders have been issued and acknowledged by the British government. As a result of these communications the Russian government has decided to submit the case to arbitration. This eliminates what was regarded here as one of the most dangerous features of the situation, namely the possibility of a premature clash between the British and Russian squadrons.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Russian Ambassador Benckendorff paid another visit this morning to Foreign Secretary Lansdowne at the latter's private residence. The ambassador conveyed to the minister further despatches from the Russian government. The earl-ness of the call is accounted for by the necessity for placing the foreign minister in possession of the latest views from the government at St. Petersburg regarding the North Sea incident so that Lord Lansdowne would be in a position to communicate to his colleagues at the cabinet meeting today the fullest details regarding the negotiations up to date. The ambassador's visit was a few minutes before the departure of Count Benckendorff. There are evidences of increasing belief among well informed persons that the dispute between Russia and Great Britain will not lead to any serious complications and that an amicable settlement will be reached. Russia, so far as is known is showing every disposition to meet the British views and it is conceded that the delay in replying to British demands is readily explainable on the ground that the Russian government naturally desires to be placed in a position to receive the latest views from its own sources, of all details connected with the occurrence.

Subsequently Mr. Balfour and Foreign Secretary Lansdowne had a somewhat prolonged conference. They then proceeded to the meeting of the cabinet which was attended by the whole ministry.

between them and the end of the pier and almost simultaneously between them and the shore came another bolt.
An instant later the men declared, the flames had spread rapidly in every direction. Escape was cut off, and after giving the alarm the watchmen jumped into the water, from which they were pulled soon afterwards by the firemen.

The great iron sides of the Palermo acted as a guardian wall to the flames and prevented their spread. The steamship was at once abandoned to her fate as it was impossible for the firemen to approach the burning ships. Police and firemen lost their lives in the flames when he made a reckless dash through the flames out to the pier to give alarm to any person who might be aboard the ship. The fire cut off his return and a moment later a piece of the roof fell over the spot. An unknown fireman caught in the same manner jumped into the water. His fate is unknown.

NOMINATION AT HAMPTON.
How W. B. Ganong Made Liberal Rooters Take Back Water.

A resident of Hampton, who was in the city today, said that Hampton never had more exciting nominations speeches than those which took place yesterday. George W. Fowler was never in better shape and handled his opponent's arguments in a way that did little credit to that gentleman. The Liberal took an unfair advantage by picking the hall with their own rosters, who did all in their power to drown Mr.
Fowler's voice. One Liberal rooster in particular persisted in interrupting and when asked by W. B. Ganong to stop his nonsensical noise so that others could hear the speaker he refused and called upon Mr. Ganong to stop him if he could. Mr. Ganong, who is not a large man, quietly told the howler that if he and his friends would kindly step outside of the hall he would undertake to calm the lot of them. The foes from that out was "mum."

Government employees were present in numbers shouting themselves hoarse for White.

POLITICAL MEETING TONIGHT.
A political meeting will be held tonight in Temple of Honor Hall, North End, commencing at eight o'clock. The speakers will be Dr. Silas Alward and W. Frank Hatheway. A cordial invitation is extended to Liberal electors to be present.

FORTS AT PORT ARTHUR
STORMED AND CAPTURED.

The End of the Doomed Fortress is Near—"Port Arthur is My Grave" Says Gen. Stoessel-- Alexieff Sent Home.

TOKIO, Oct. 28, 5:30 p. m.—It is reported that the Japanese launched a desperate attack on the western forts of the Keokwan group, north of Port Arthur, during the morning of Oct.
26 and silenced the Russian batteries.
A shell exploded the Russian magazine. Simultaneously the Japanese attacked the forts on Kibung Hill and Sunphowin Mountain, silenced the Russian batteries and stormed and occupied the forts in front of these mountains. On the night of Oct. 26, there was a conflagration in old Port Arthur and on Oct. 27 a shell hit the Russian batteries. The Russian admiral's report is accepted without reservation as the true explanation of the happenings at Dogger Bank and the de-
had none, ran close to the trawlers

STEAMER SUNK IN COLLISION—ALL SAVED.
SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 28.—The steamer Mainlander, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's fleet, is at the bottom of Puget Sound, four miles north of Seattle, as the result of a collision with the powerful tug Sea Lion.
No lives were lost, despite the fact that the Mainlander had 16 passengers and a crew of thirty. The tug was but little injured and took the passengers and crew off the sinking steamer.
Within twenty minutes after the collision, the Mainlander went to the bottom. A dense fog prevailed. The Mainlander was valued at $100,000 and was heavily insured.
