Interests of the defendant and claimed that as the defendant was at work trying to locate a leak in the water pipe he had a right to whatever there was a leak. The magistrate was of a different opinion, however. The case was adjourned until tomorrow. It appears that the I. C. It is altogether likely that St. John's sports will witness another spinning match during the exhibition week at Victoria Park. John T. SHEEP MUTILATED BY SARDINIANS Wanton Acts by Organized Groups of Marauders. The Island Still Holds the Italian Record for Brutality, Crime and Outrage. ROMAN, Aug. 31.—Under the title of "Savage Sardinia," the Messagero, the principal Roman morning newspaper, directed attention to the astonishing prevalence of lawless crimes in that island by organized groups of marauders and avengers, who often times turn out to consist of some of the most prominent and highly respected farmers in the province. Two nights ago eight masked individuals, armed with guns and daggers, invaded a farm belonging to a benevolent proprietor named Calvisi, on the mountain side near Sassari. There they seized the shepherd who was tending the small cash he had on his person, and left him bound hand and foot, and they then drove 500 sheep delivered to his custody a distance of a couple of miles to a lonely valley, where they ripped open 300 of these animals, and thrust their daggers into every one of the rest. Sardinia continues, as from time immemorial, to hold the record in all Italy for brutality, homicides, cattle-wounding, incendiary fires and allied forms of damage to property. The criminal convictions for the latter crime are 4.32 in every 100,000 of the population. In the single commune of Bitti, wherein the above vendetta has just taken place, no fewer than 1,600 sheep and 400 bullocks have been maliciously hamstringed since the beginning of this year. This extraordinary state of things is attributed largely to the notable deficiency of police and a rooted unbelief in the official administration of justice.

DR. A. W. MACRAE BEATS W. F. HATHWAY BY TWO VOTES IN RACE FOR THE NOMINATION OF THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY TO CONTEST THE CITY AND COUNTY OF ST. JOHN IN THE NEXT GENERAL ELECTION. Dr. J. W. Daniel, M. P., will be the Conservative candidate in St. John City. This was decided at a meeting of the Conservative party held in Keith's Assembly Rooms. Dr. Daniel's nomination was expected and was unopposed, that of Dr. Macrae was certainly unexpected by a section of the convention, which supported W. F. Hathway, M. P., whom Dr. Macrae defeated by only two votes, the result of the balloting being 94-92. The opponent to Dr. Macrae's candidature was exhibited in the form of hissing when he began to address the delegates, although this gentleman was the first to interrupt the speech of Dr. Macrae. The name of W. S. Fisher, who was considered a possibility, was not mentioned. The trouble over the choice of a candidate for the city and county was undoubtedly increased by the fact that Dr. McInerney, M. P., placed the name of H. A. Powell, K. C., before the convention, although this gentleman declined to become a candidate for the nomination. On the first vote of the convention being taken 194 ballots were cast. Of these 84 were for Hathway, 83 for Macrae and 27 for Powell. J. B. M. Baxter called attention to the fact that none of the candidates had secured the support of a majority of the convention. A second vote was taken, the chairman, Hon. Robert Maxwell, M. P., explaining that Mr. Powell's name was not before the convention. The result of the second vote was Macrae, 94; Hathway, 92; the total number of ballots being 186, eight less than at the previous vote. WERE HATHWAY MEN. Mr. Hathway's friends claim that the delegates who left the convention after the first vote were Hathway men. Five of the number are said to have been from the West Side. The supporters of Mr. Hathway claim that the entire convention had been taken their candidate would have been nominated. After Dr. Macrae had been declared the candidate of the convention he addressed the gathering, thanking the delegates for their nomination, criticizing Edward Hannenberg, Frank Corr, Currie's, Roy Baskin, D. A. Duff, Carleton, Stanley Taylor, Stanley Sealey, P. L. Gleason, Algonquin, B. McLaughlin, Tom Barry, St. Peter's, James Speight, president of the league, was in the chair. Frank Corr stated that Currie's University would put a team in the league. Although it was not decided when the league will be opened, the first games will be played between the Victorias and Miomas and Currie's and Carleton. In the forest of Malacca and other islands in the Indian Ocean, may still be found the animal known as a wild cat. The upper parts of it are generally of a clear yellow color, with black spots, the lower parts are white with black spots also. On the back the spots lengthen, almost into lines, or lines, black on yellow. The average length of this animal, excluding the tail, is almost two feet; the tail averages nine inches. Its habit, when standing erect, is about twelve inches at the shoulders, and fifteen inches at the hindquarters. Its temper is mild and gentle; it plays almost like a domestic cat, or rather kitten, chasing its tail, and amusing itself with anything that it can roll with its paw. Nothing is so burdensome as a secret—French Proverb.

A TIP FOR FAT WOMEN. In a few years that excess fat of years will become a bad habit—impossible to break. Better take time by the forelock and reduce now in a natural way if you would keep intact the youthful symmetry of 20 through the trying years of middle age. Go to the druggist and ask him for 4 ounces Marmola, 1/2 ounce Fluid Extract Cascaro, Aromatic, and 4 1/2 ounces Syrup Simplex. Take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime. Mix them at home if you wish, but see that the Marmola comes to you in a sealed package. This mixture makes firm fleshed, well-formed women out of flabby, shapeless ones. It animates their stomachs to burn up the food fats instead of allowing them to gather at the waist line. Without disturbing the diet or requiring exercise to help it out it dissolves the fat away just where needed the most. It has been known to melt away harmlessly as much as 15 ounces a day without causing a single wrinkle.

SAFETY BOARD MEETING. At a meeting of the Safety Board last night it was decided that the city should take no action in the case which Thos. Debon is instituting against Chief Clark for false arrest. Another request from the Carleton Comm. Board for a leased site of the city hall will be considered. The St. John Real Estate Co. applied for renewal of lease of four lots on Duke street. The Recorder was instructed to take proceedings against American printers working on the Telegraph and Times without license. R. T. Ketchum resigned the position of Chief of the Carleton city hall, and Pollockman Nelson was granted half pay for the time he was ill. Chief Kerr reported that Wm. Allan had been appointed to a position in the fire department.

TEACHER LURED TO HIS DEATH Skeleton Solves Mystery of Missing Man. BONES OF A PARIS SCHOOLMASTER FOUND Thirteen Years After His Disappearance. PARIS, Aug. 31.—Thirteen years ago a young schoolmaster named Narcisse d'Hardville mysteriously disappeared from Paris, and nothing has ever been learned of his whereabouts. Yesterday while some workmen were engaged in excavations near Breteuil, about fifty miles from Paris, they unearthed a skeleton which is believed to be that of the missing schoolmaster. The body had been interred nude, as a warning of preservation, the teeth being intact. All the circumstances point to the unfortunate schoolmaster having been waylaid and murdered, and his body interred at the spot where the skeleton was found. The measurements taken correspond to the height of the missing man, and a doctor who treated d'Hardville when young for a fracture of the right arm has found traces of a corresponding injury on the arm of the skeleton. There is no known reason why he should have vanished of his own accord. He was engaged to be married; the banns had already been published and he had an excellent situation. On the afternoon of the day he departed a man, dressed in the Sunday clothes of a peasant, called to see the school teacher in his abode in Paris. He did not prove a very welcome visitor, for shortly afterwards the colleague heard the pair engaged in a violent quarrel. The unknown visitor, with his hat pulled down over his eyes as if to avoid recognition, took his departure shortly afterwards. The same evening d'Hardville received a telegram which threw him into a state of perturbation. Taking his overcoat and umbrella, he rushed out of the house. The telegram was afterwards found to be a fictitious one. It purported to come from his mother, and asked her son to hasten to her bedside, as she was dangerously ill. D'Hardville's parents lived near Breteuil, and on the evening of his disappearance he was seen slighting at the local railway station. Unable to find any means of transport, he set out to walk across country to his home. Following the ordinary road, he would have to pass within a few hundred yards of the spot where the skeleton was dug up. The telegram was evidently a trap, and its sender presumably counted upon the schoolmaster arriving late at Breteuil, and falling a conveyance, walking across the country. The sender of the telegram was never discovered, and no motive can be assigned for the murder of d'Hardville. With regard to the harbor race on Sept. 14th, the whistling buoy mentioned in the course is three and a half miles outside the bell buoy and is known as the Misce Buoy or old original whistling buoy. There is an automatic gas and whistling buoy one and a third miles off of Portridge Island which has nothing to do with the course.

Fred Heans, L. R. Ross, Cyrus McFarlane, D. Tremblay, Walter K. Bigger, J. H. Bradley and Dr. W. Warwick gave evidence. It was the general opinion that the accident was caused by too much strain being put on a bolt used as a coupling pin. The boy died as a result of a fractured skull and a laceration of the brain. The enquiry was adjourned until next Tuesday at 7.30 o'clock.
