Poetry.

HOME AFFECTION—TO ELLEN.

Hast thou ever fancied, Ellen,
What a dreary thing 'twould be,
Should we ever leave this dwelling,
So endeared to thee and me?
Not because in regal splendour
Spacious chambers rise around—
'Tis not gold or state can render
Even a palace hallowed ground.

But for all the hours of gladness
We have spent together here:
Mingled wishes, joys, and sadness,
These have made our home so dear
Every nook some tale is telling
Of affection tried and true;
Ah! when first we sought this dwelling,
Love, and hope, and life were new!

Here I've seen the bright smile playing
Mid the blossoms of thy cheek;
Here adown its paleness straying
Tears whose source thou dost not speak;
Here thy tuneful voice hath floated
Like the bird's in summer air;
Here thy voice has hushed its music
To the murmur of a prayer;—

Here the dear ones we have cherished,
Sent by God to bless and prove;
Here one beauteous flower hath perished,
Here we have had happy meetings,
Called to fadeless fields above!
Friends we ne'er shall welcome more—
Some are dead, or changed to coldness,
Some have sought a distant shore.

Ellen! o'er my fitful spirit
When these legion thoughts arise,
Marvel not that solemn feeling
Shades my brow and dims my eyes.
Life hath many a high vocation,
Loud may sound ambition's call;
But the voice of Home Affection
Deep and clear transcends them all!

Pride of title, thirst of riches,
Golden glitter, wordly fame,
These, with darker passions dealing,
Scorch the soul that court their flame,
Household love! thy sway is gentle
As a trusting child's embrace;
Yet thine adamantine fetters
Bind the universal race!

God, to test our truth and duty,
Home and kindred here hath given,
Hallowing earthly bonds to win us
To his family in heaven.
So, when called to leave this dwelling,
Long endeared by human love,
Oh, may we exchange it, Ellen,
For immortal seats above!

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF

Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR

Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.

THE most celebrated and infallible remedy for Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and every form of Pulmonary Consumption, is the HUNGARIAN BALSAM OF LIFE, discovered by that eminent medical chemist, Dr. Buchan, of London, England, and extensively known as the "Great Eastern" Remedy.

It has been tested for upwards of seven years in Great Britain and on the continent of Europe, where it is universally considered the great, and only remedy for this awful malady, and now introduced to the public under the immediate superintendence of the inventor. Within three years it has been distributed from Maine to Florida, and from Canada to Wisconsin, and its effects are every where alike astonishing and triumphant.

As a preventive medicine, and an antidote to the consumptive tendencies of the climate, it is invaluable. As a remedy for severe and obstinate coughs Inflammation of the Lungs, croup, &c. it is unrevaied. But the Proprietors so confident of the merit of this great remedy, in the worst forms of consumption, that he prefers to have it used by the DYING INVALID, rather than by persons afflicted with some simple and less dangerous disorder of the throat and lungs:—this may seem strong language, but it is the result of experience in thousands of cases, sustained by the most intelligent and unimpeachable testimony. It is not pronounced as an infallible remedy in all cases, but it is the most INFALLIBLE remedy known to the civilized world. It is the best preventive of hereditary consumption—it is the best defender against the influences of climate—it is the best remedy for incipient consumption—and it is the great and only remedy for that fearful softening of the lungs—inflammation of the membrane, and tuberculous decay, which are the best effects of that dreadful scourge, and which are erroneously supposed to be beyond the reach of medical aid:—the agent or proprietors of other and farther beyond the reach of hope.

Such is not the case with the Hungarian Balsam It is always salutary in its effects—never injurious It is not an opiate—it is not a tonic—it is not a mere expectorant. It is not intended to lull the invalid into a fatal security. It is a great remedy, a grand healing and curative compound; the great and only remedy which medical science and skill has yet produced for the treatment of this hitherto unconquerable malady. It is in fact the best remedy in the world!

[From the John Bull, newspaper, London.]

There is certainly some mysterious and occult virtue in the famous "Hungarian Balsam of Life which the medical faculty are unable to discover or Dr. Buchan would not be permitted for so many years to enjoy the magnificent monopoly of the treatment and cure of Consumption in Great Britain. No satisfactory analysis of this famous compound has ever, to our knowledge, been offered to be public.
