

News Summary.

DOMINION.

Of the $200,000 sugar duties collected at Halifax for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1884, it is understood that about $400,000 were paid by the Nova Scotia sugar refinery alone.

Mr. Havelock Coy has been appointed a degree examiner at the University. ANAPROPS, N. S., March 13.—Apple trees here are in high gear, over the recent frost in some places of fifty cents a barrel.

A special steamer with 10,000 bbls. will sail from Annapolis in a few days. In consequence of the revival of operations by the Shaw tinners, it is estimated that about 5,000 cords of hemlock bark will be cut in York and Carleton counties N. B. this winter.

During the past six years, F. E. J. exported $70,000 cases of lobsters, valued at $248,700.

The late Mr. Isaac Burpee, of St. John, had an insurance on his life of $50,000.

The population of Nova Scotia in 1871 was 357,000. In 1881 it had grown to 440,000 an increase of 53,000, or 14 per cent.

The city of Halifax increased from 29,000 to 36,000 in the last ten years, a gain of 24 per cent.

The great grandfather of President Cleveland was once pastor of the St. Matthews Presbyterian church, Halifax.

The earnings of the three N. S. Provincial railways in 1881 and 1884 were as follows:

1881. 1884. Windsor & Annapolis, $187,877 $212,022 Western Counties, 26,976 49,887 Spring Hill & Parrsboro, 19,472 27,341

Total, $244,725 $289,250

The P. I. Legislature opened on Tuesday the 19th inst.

A motion equivalent to a want of confidence resolution was defeated in the Local House of New Brunswick by a vote of 28 to 10.

The House is now principally engaged in committee of supply passing estimates for this year. There is some criticism of the Provincial University, some contending that it does not give an equivalent for the money spent in it, that its course is too limited, and not sufficiently adapted to the times; others point out that it is not doing any better work at least than the colleges that do not so provincial aid.

The Attorney General has introduced a bill limiting the term of office of the members of the Senate to three years. They formerly were for life.

1,600 hares were slaughtered in N. B. in 1884, and $3,288 paid in bounties.

Petitions with a view to the submission of the Scott Act to the Legislature of St. John, will be circulated this week and next.

Two more fire firms in St. John last week doing much damage to Turnbull's wholesale provision store; the other injuring the Discipline meeting house on Albany street.

The estimated value of work done on the St. John bridge and railway extension to Jan. 7 last, is $388,567 and the amount paid to Feb. 1, is $107,208.

Henry Adams, aged 23, a sailor belonging to Herring Cove, N. S., was frozen to death on Tuesday morning while on duty on the steamer "Cape".

Mrs. Anne Deacon died at Harbourside, Antigonish, at a very advanced age, 110 years. She leaves 230 grand and great-grandchildren.

Rev. I. H. Jordan, of St. Andrew's Church, Halifax, has accepted the call to the Episcopate, Montreal, at a salary of $5,000 a year.

A Winnipeg despatch of the 12th says: "Snow nearly all gone west of Swift Current. The drifting is out of the ground. Seeding begun on farms south of Calgary."

And yet there are those who speak of the North West as an eternal ice-bound region.

At Ottawa, this week, the House was chiefly occupied with routine business. In preparing the Budget still goes on each new speaker going over the old story on one side or the other, with little addition of interest.

There has been a large number of petitions handed in praying that legislation be had to make the Scott Act more effective, and some have been presented on the other side.

A temperance delegation, headed by Prof. Foster, waited upon Sir John A. to urge the government to take a bill to carry out the intention of the Scott Act, it being argued it was the duty of the government to provide means for putting the law already on the statute books, in full force. Sir John, however, refused to commit the government to any such measure.

Mr. Jamieson, in the House, has introduced the Dominion Alliance Bill, which has been framed for this purpose, and the representatives generally will have to take a stand for or against. In view of the sweeping majorities with which the Scott Act is carried in almost every county where it is proposed to increase the garrisons, it will be strange if the measure which is necessary to make it effective is not passed.

The House stated that the homesteads entered within the C. P. R. bill, opened a year ago up to the 31st December, were as follows: Between 1st and 2nd principal meridians, 16,945; between 2nd and 3rd, 917; and between 4th and 5th, 23—in all 17,865.

In the N. S. Legislature an act has been introduced to amend the collection of debts due from the province from the various municipalities, amounting in all to $78,154. Also an act to authorize the government to borrow money over and above the $500,000 already provided for, for the construction of bridges.

A bill to amend the act in relation to municipalities to extend their jurisdiction was voted down. There has been some sharp shooting between Mr. Bell and Mr. Fielding over the Eastern Extension Act.

Mr. Fraser has introduced his resolution for the repeal of the Canadian Union Act, by which N. S. is a part of the Dominion, in a very able and exhaustive speech. The debate on the question is deferred till next week.

The rest of the time has been taken up chiefly with local bills.

George Stephen publishes a statement in which he intimates that the C. P. Railway will be open from ocean to ocean by September next.

Dr. Moore, of Dorchester, Ont., is missing a foot play is suspected. His horse and cart, containing a buffalo robe stained with blood, have been found. A suit for $10,000 damages for breach of promise begun in Hoboken by Elizabeth Patriotic against Emil Julpha, was made to an end on Tuesday by the withdrawal of the writ. They had been married first and saved the lawyers fees.

Preparations are going steadily on for the election of Scott Act to the electors of Toronto.

When voyagers are hired by lumbermen all liquor is kept away from them and they are supplied with beer.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

Matters in Egypt have quieted down. The British troops were much exhausted by the rapid retreat across the desert. The British force on the Nile is now concentrated at Kou and Dongola, where they will remain probably, during the hot season, ready for active operations in the autumn.

At Suakin, on the Red Sea, troops have been coming in from India, and from Malta. Osman Digna has been threatening what he is prepared to do, and attempting to alarm the Arabs who continue faithful to the English. This is pretty surely a sign of his conscious weakness. The Mahdists of the Indian continent all repudiate the Mahdi as an impostor, and in a little skirmish the Sults fought well. The force at Suakin is being reinforced by the British and they are engaged in the construction of the railway toward Berber, preparatory to the advance to the Mahdi. The Mahdi is said to be in fear of treachery among his own followers, and has doubled his guards around himself. He has evacuated Metemeha and gathered his forces further south. It is expected that Kassa will fall, and his garrison slain, late in the afternoon. The only hope is in the Italian expedition.

The long misunderstanding between England and Germany has been advanced in Africa, leaving Victoria colony, England taking the county north, including the mouth of the Niger. It seems now that it has all arisen from the misreading of a despatch which Bismarck sent to the British government referring to Germany's intention to annex certain territory. As no objection was made by England, he supposed she would consent. Instead of that the despatch never reached the Paris correspondent of the Times fully asserts it was a trick on the part of Bismarck, and that no despatch was sent.

There is some criticism of the Provincial University, some contending that it does not give an equivalent for the money spent in it, that its course is too limited, and not sufficiently adapted to the times; others point out that it is not doing any better work at least than the colleges that do not so provincial aid.

Traps Baited With Orphan.

We are now being honoured by a visit from American gentlemen, ostensibly in the interests of our widows and orphans. The people are very ready to enter upon the research heretofore considered to discover what are the principles of the science of life insurance, by which alone they can fairly judge whether a scheme is sound or delusive. Those immutable principles have been discovered by the most painstaking observations of the operation of nature's laws in the past; and, to prevent our people being victimized by entrusting sacred interests to impracticable and delusive schemes, Mr. H. Wright, superintendent of agencies of the Dominion Safety Fund Life Association of this city, has prepared a small book that can be read in an evening, which gives all the information necessary for an intelligent decision upon the merits of any system proposed. All should possess this information, to prevent the wholesale impositions, to prevent the whole that have brought a blight on so many American homes. Before taking the responsibility of endorsing any scheme whatever, be sure and read "The Natural System of Life Insurance." Just from press. A neat copy will be sent to any address, on application, free post paid. Address "The Dominion Safety Fund Life Association, St. John N. B."
