WEST END RESIDENTS INCREASED FERRY TOLLS

Where the Burden of the Higher Rate will Bear Most Heavily, On the Working Men and Small Wage Earners who Use Ferry Regularly.

West St. John, Jan. 16. To the Editor of The Standard. Sir,—Permit me to trespass upon your columns for the purpose of presenting a few facts in re the advanced ferry rates, as they appear to me...

and holidays as the increase in transit fares is one cent. There is not a transient in the city who does this. This, I think, effectually exposes the specious argument of the editor of the Times.

Now let us look at the economic aspect of it. Four $750 man living in the West End, who have been free of $1.98, say on $700, and in addition pays a poll tax of $2. His total tax is $15.86. They add the $6.00 excess ferriage he must pay and it brings his total contribution to the city treasury up to $21.86.

It was formerly the opinion that the difference in rents made a cheaper for the working man to live in Carleton than in the East Side. As a working-man who has paid taxes and rent on both sides of the harbor, I can say that this is not the case.

The editor of the Evening Times on Monday evening promulgated the remarkable doctrine that the burden of the increase would rest on the transient passenger. In this utterance that gentleman was about as nearly correct as he usually is in the discussion of civic affairs.

But there is a moral side to the decision of the council. Older residents of the West Side are in a better position to bear the increase than I am, but I have understood that at the time Carleton was tricked into entering the union the promise of a harbor bridge was an important factor in bringing the union about.

Take the case of a man earning $750 per year, and resident in the West End. He is married and with a small family. Presenting him with four or five tickets per day, which is a modest estimate for the Carleton resident whose business brings him to the city morning, afternoon and night.

Just one thought more. It is a well known principle of civic administration in other cities that anything which tends to make that city an expensive place to live in, is a direct detriment to real estate as well as to every other interest.

There's no shoe requirement we cannot fully satisfy at a pleasing price. We do not come here and learn of the Superiority and Excellence of our shoes, and see how fittingly our name stands as a sign of Good Shoes?
