

which the earth is piled upon them, instead of being placed under cover, as in a lime kiln. They are usually formed in the very field, on which the clay is to be laid, and out of which it is to be dug.

DRAINAGE.—The subdivision of a farm into fields should always be done with a view to the drainage. The ditches may be so contrived as to act not only

MOON.

P.	R. & S.
☾	4 3
☾	○ rises.
☾	7 14
☾	7 51
☾	8 28
☾	9 5
☾	9 42
☾	10 19
☾	10 59
☾	11 55
☾	Morning
☾	0 57
☾	2 5
☾	3 13
☾	4 21
☾	● sets.
☾	6 52
☾	7 28
☾	8 4
☾	8 40
☾	9 16
☾	9 52
☾	10 28
☾	11 4
☾	11 50
☾	Morning
☾	0 51
☾	1 52
☾	2 49
☾	3 55

ground for Remove all
up onions,
for gather-arelessness
ight to be tirely lost.

1	Slight frost
2	do do
3	rather more frost
4	Rain & sleet for weathering of the Caldemas
5	Man put in the East of the Wheat
6	Man sowing oats & seed of our mill
7
8
9
10
11
12	Woman killed coming from barn
13	Rainy. Mrs. M. Bullock buried
14	Find a worm. Putting in oats
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27	Finished cutting oats
28	Cut the Buck wheat
29
30	