TO RECOVER BODIES

This Will be Done if Humanly Possible Says Capt. Walsh

jouski, Que., June 9.—"Our first duty is to recover the bodies from the ill-fated Empress of Ireland if that is humanly possible," was the state-ment of Capt. Walsh, Marine Superdent of the Canadian Pacific Railway this morning, when asked what the intentions of his company regarding the wreck were.
Salvage experts both here and at Quebec believe that the hull of the ship can be pulled into shallow water by means of airtight pontoons water by means of airtight pontoons sink to the edge of the water, chains placed under the hull of the Empress and the pontoons then pumped full of air. The buoyancy of the huge ponsions should lift the hull clear of the bottom when tugs would pull the wreck shorewards, repeating the process every time bottom was touched, until the Empress was raised to a workable position in shallow water. Two more bodies were identified this morning, those of Misss Ruth Morton, of Fernie, B.C., and Mrs. Ethel Lee, of Khedive, Sask.

or rernie, B.C., and Mrs. Ethel Lee, of Khedive, Sask.

Another week at least will have elapsed before any of the eight hundred bedies now lying entombed in the cabins and companionways of the Empress of Ireland will be brotight to the surface of the St. Lawrence and shipped to their friends and relatives.

Mr. William W. Weatherspoon, manager of the Canadian Satyage Association of Quebec and the Salvage Association of New York who has been retained by the Canadian Satific to recover the bodies of the victims of the recent disaster, announced this last night upon the return of the Canadian Bottomer of the recent disaster, announced this last night upon the return of the Canadian Pacific to the recent disaster, announced this last night upon the return of the Canadian Gardiner of the Wickley PRINCE DISTRICT

News of trouble between employes of an oil company and the Federals near Tuxpan has reached here. The oil companies were forced to leave the property where they were at work and to flee to the coast.

The British cruiser Hermione sailed for England last evening. The officers and crew of this vessel in company with those of the American ships which have been on duty at Tampico have suffered greatly from mairia. It ruiser Bristol has replaced the thermione at Tampico.

La Opinion says that the Imparcial of Mexico City is expected to publish the resignation of President Huerta any day now.

Carranza In Saltillo.

El Paso, June 9.—General Carranza, chief of the rebels, arrived in Saltillo on Sunday, according to Roberto V. Pesquera, confidential agent in El Paso for the Constitutionalists who Monday announced he had received dispatches to this effect. Because of the interpution of wire communication south of Chihuahua due to heavy rains, Mr. Pesquera said that as yet direct communication between Juarez and Saltillo had not been established. The arrival of Carranza, it is expected, will hasten the establishment of a provisional government.

Villa at Torreon.

Villa at Torreon.

Villa will be in Torreon to-day ready to start his army rolling southward against Zacatares, according to messages received Monday at military headquarters in Juarez. The rebel leader left Chihuahua Monday morning on a special train. His departure from the state capital by as deleved a day or two on account of weahouts on the Mexican Central between Torreon and Chihuahua Arrivals from Torreon say that Villa has an army of 20,000. He is in fine fettle and the soldiers are anxious to be in the field again.

Gunboats Have No Wireless.

Vera Cruz, June 9.—How President Huerta's orders to the Mexican gun'boats to abandon their plans for a blockade of Tampico are to be conveyed to the vessels is not yet definitely known, but it is understood that on their arrival off Tampico, Read-Admiral Mayo sent one of his aides on board the Federal ship with copies of Washington despatch setting forth the change in the situation. The gun-boats did not carry wireless. It is likely they will return to Puerto, Mexico.
