NEWS TOPICS OF A WEEK. DAIRYMEN IN SESSION.

Held in Dunnville.

SOME PRACTICAL ADDRESSES

-Hints from Prof. Dean, of Guelph Agricultural College.

DUNNVILLE, Feb. 24.—The Dairymen's ssociation of Western Ontario held their first meeting of the series of lecal conven-tions to be held in Western Ontario this winter. There was a large gathering of first meeting of the series of lecal conventions to be held in Western Ontario this winter. There was a large gathering of representative farmers from the surrounding counties. Some of the most prominent dairymen and others present were: A Patullo, J. A. Ruddick, Woodstock: J. S. Pearce, R. Robertson, J. W. Wheston, London; E. Booth, Ingersoll; Prof. Dean, Guelph; R. Cleland, Listowel; A. G. Gibert, Experimental Farm, Ottawa; N. Shaplev, Wellandport; J. N. Paget, Carsboro; H. Esgle, Attercliffe; A. W. Edwards, Caisterville; J. Senn, York.
Mr. A. Patullo, president of the association, in opening the meeting referred to the good work being done by the Western Association through its local conventiona. The first speaker was J. S. Pearce, of London, who touched on the winter dairying movement and showed the importance of the farmer making a more special effort in dairying and keeping only good cowelows that will pay and return the farmer the most profit. He recommended that farmers should not make dairying a side issue, but one of the important branches of his business.

Mr. L. A. Congden, deputy reeve of Dunnville, extended a hearty welcome to the dairymen on behalf of the citizens.
Mr. Patuullo accepted the thanks of the citizens and introduced Mr. A. G. Gilbert, Frank Benninger, while attending an federace of the summers of the stanks of the citizens and introduced Mr. A. G. Gilbert, Frank Benninger, while attending and edge saw in Thompson's mill, at Shallow issue, but one of the important branches of his business.

Mr. L. A. Congden, deputy reeve of Dunnville, extended a hearty welcome to the dairymen on behalf of the citizens.

Mr. Pattulio accepted the thanks of the citizens and introduced Mr. A. G. Gilbert, manager of the poultry department, Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Mr. Gilbert showed by conclusive argument the importance of the poultry department of the tarm. Every farmer should make one dollar per hen per year. Every hen should nay from 120 to 240 eggs a year. Cut green bones and cut red clover hay are the best teed for producing eggs. Plymouth Rock is the best fowl for the farmer.

Prof. Dean, Agricultural College, Guelph, then addressed the meeting on home dairying or butter making on the farm. He emphasized cleanliness as a necessary qualthen addressed the meeting on home dairying or butter making on the farm. He emphasized cleanliness as a necessary quality of the successful butter maker. Begin cleanliness at the stable, have only pure air in the stable, put cows under such condition that they will feel good, then they will do good service. Milk suculd be strained as soon as taken from the cow. Milk set in shallowed be taken off at the end of 24 hours. Set as near the natural temperature as possible in water about 45. The best results are from the separator. There will be six times as much oream left in the milk by using the creamer tuan by the separator and twice as much by shallow pans as by the oreamer. Keep cream sweet until there is enough for a churning. Twenty-four hours before churning warm oream to about 60°. Have the cream ripe before beginning to churn and warm it slowly, and have it at a proper temperature when churned. When fresh cream is added the whole lot should be stirred. Use butter color if the market wants it. Put color in cream before churning. The churn should be as simple as possible, without any dashes. It should take about half-anhour to churn. Stop when the butter is in the granular form. Use a half to one and a quarter ounces of sait per pound. Have butter put up in attractive form—in pound brints wrapped in parohment paper.

MONTICELLO'S DOUBLE MURDER.

Young Neighbor of the Dead Couple Suspected of the Crime. Monticello, Feb. 26.—Floyd J. Carr, of Bushville, a young farmer residing near the home of the aged couple who were mardered on Thursday night or Friday morning, is suspected of having committed the orline and was arrested yesterday. He has behaved very strangely since the murder and the people of Bushville attribute his conduct to remorse. Sheriff Beecher arrested Carr at the house of Louise Cantrell, a young woman of nusavory reputation, and lodged him in jail at Monticello. He was searched and a five dollar bill to every appearance bearing bloody finger marks was found on his person. The bill had evidently been washed to remove the soiled spots. The Cantrell girl was also placed under arrest as an important witness. MONTICELLO, Feb. 26.—Floyd J. Carr,

DEATH IN THE FLAMES.

But Their Lodgeris Forgotten.

PETERBOROUGH, Feb. 24.—A disastrous fire, accompanied by loss of life, occurred vesterday morning at the residence of Thomas Gray, situated on the 11th concession of Otonabes, about two miles from town. The house was occu ii-d by Mr. Gray, his wife and five children. They also had living with them Mr. David Scollie, an old gentieman. 61 years of age. After the members of the family halretired to rest, Mr. Gray, being absent from home, Mrs. Gray was awakened by a daughter calling her. She arose and found the house full of smoke. She procured an axe and knocked the window out. Herself and children barely escaped in their night clothes.

In the hurry and excitement of saving themselves their lodger, Mr. Scollie, was entirely forgotten. Several of their neighbors were aroused by the fiames and immediately went to the scene of the fire but the late to render any assistance to Mr. Scollie, whose remains were found afterwards burned almost to a crisp, the head and limbs being burned from the body.
