"A HEART AS STURDY AS OAK." But what about the blood which the heart must pump at the rate of 70 times a minute? If the heart is to be sturdy and the nerves strong, this blood must be rich and pure. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes sturdy hearts because it makes good blood. It gives to men and women strength, confidence, courage and endurance.

HOOD'S PILLS are non-irritating and the only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

MILLARD'S CONSCIENCE.

London Free Press: Will Millard is a member of Marks Bros.' troupe, now playing at the Grand. A year ago when here he thought to enjoy a bicycle ride on some city sidewalks. A policeman interrupted him, and a summons to the police court followed.
The date set for hearing the case was the same as that of an engagement in Toronto, and the being more money in the latter, the actor did not tarry here. On returning this week his conscience smote him, and he told his troubles to a policeman. P. M. Love was so touched by the action of the actor in thus giving himself up, he struck off the account against him.

CALLED OUT AGAIN

Another Incendiary Fire Occurred Early This Morning.

Police Have Made a Second Arrest—Isaac Groat now in Custody.

For the third time this week, the firemen responded to a call from box twenty-six shortly after two o'clock.
Goldie Aldis, a baker who resides on Wellington St., sent in the alarm.
When the department arrived Mr.
Aldis waited at the box and showed the department where the fire was.
The house that had been set this time was a little frame on the corner of Princess and Wellington Sts. next to Nagery Hall. The fire had been set in the corner of the house between the kitchen and main building. Waste from the railroad had been poked in between the partitions from the outside and then set on fire. The fire was just gaining headway when the department arrived. It was put out without much difficulty, the loss being about ten or fifteen dollars. The dwelling had been vacated but was rented last Monday by Mrs. Martin, who came here from Dresden. Mr.
Aldis, who resides next to the scene of this morning's blaze, states that he saw a colored man set the fire, and the man returned a second time to see if it was burning all right. The police anticipated that another house would be fired during the night, and Isaac Groat, colored, was arrested this morning on suspicion. There is circumstantial evidence against Groat but this is counteracted by the mother of the suspect, who is a reliable woman, and affirms her son was home all last night. Aldis cannot swear to Groat's identity.

DRYDEN'S CROWD.

They Take Their Turn Before the High Court Judges.

Those Convicted Fined $200 Each or in Default to be Imprisoned for Six Months.

Whitby, Ont., Jan. 17.—The court for the trial of the persons reported to the speaker of the Legislative Assembly as having been found guilty of corrupt practices by the judges who tried the election petition against Hon. John Dryden on May 25th and 26th, 1899, when Mr. Dryden was unseated, opened here yesterday with their lordships Justices Osler and Rose presiding.

The first case tried was that of Patrick Sullivan, who was charged with having received $3 on Nov. 1st, 1898, from Wm. Morrish for voting or agreeing to vote for Mr. Dryden. Sullivan was found guilty of this charge.

Wm. Stewart was found guilty of having, on Nov. 1st, 1898, received $5, paid him by Wm. Morrish, to induce him to vote for Mr. Dryden.

The charge against Benjamin Palmer was dismissed.

Wm. Morrish was found guilty of paying Patrick Sullivan $3 to induce him to vote for Mr. Dryden at said election. The charge against Morrish of having paid $5 to Wm. Stewart for a like purpose was dismissed.

Bryan Linton was found guilty of having received $3 from some person, whose name he did not know, for voting at the election.

Wm. McCormack was found guilty of receiving $5 from an unknown person for voting at the election in question.

The charge against Wm. Gilmour was proceeded with and judgment reserved. Gilmour's story was that Simon Hewitt, of Bradford, came to his farm a short time before the election, and after canvassing him for his vote, agreed with him that if he would come to Pickering village he would receive a good day's pay. Gilmour alleges he went to Gilmour's hotel, Pickering, where he saw Hewitt, who directed him to a room upstairs, where he was paid $15 by some man unknown to him. Capt. Sullivan was called, but Gilmour was unable to say that he was the man who paid him the $15.

Simon Hewitt, charged with agreeing to pay Gilmour for his vote, was next placed on trial. He testified in his own behalf, wholly denying Gilmour's story, and the judges reserved the decision in the case along with Gilmour's.

The charge against John Sullivan, known as "Capt." Sullivan, was not proceeded with, the prosecutor admitting there was no evidence to substantiate the charge.

Upon Pat. Sullivan, Wm. Stewart, Wm. McCormack and Bryan Linton a penalty of $200 and costs was imposed, payable within one month, and in default of payment, imprisonment for one month. Upon Wm. Morrish a penalty of $200 and costs, payable within one month, was imposed, in default of payment of which he is to undergo imprisonment for six months.

"Take time by the forelock." If your blood is out of order, begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla at once and prevent serious illness.

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore subsisting between us, the undersigned, as Merchant Tailors, has been, this day, dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing to the said Partnership are to be paid to Edward Coyne, who continues the business of the firm at its former place of business on King St., Chatham, and all claims against the said Partnership are to be presented to the said Edward Coyne, by whom the same will be settled.

In Preference to Outside Manufactures Says Mr. Van Allen in Reply to Mr. Quinn.

To The Planet.—While I feel myself bound as publicly to express my respect for Mr. Fred. F. Quinn as he has for me, in his long advertisement of Messrs. Geo. Stevens & Co.'s business in your issue of the 12th inst. addressed to me, I regret to find several statements therein that compel me to solicit enough of your space to expose the falsity of it.

In the first place he says, "Mr.
Gonne has been living in Detroit several months" where he spends his money." Mr. Quinn's worthy senior, in his capacity of alderman, paid so little attention to this that he supported Mr. Gonne's candidature for the position of assessor.

Secondly, Mr. Quinn says, "While Geo. Stevens & Co. do sell wagons, buggies and harness not made in Chatham, they claim they have done no injury to our mechanics or residents, as they sell a good article only," which is tantamount to saying such goods made in Chatham are not good. I am content to leave it to the users of such goods to say whether Mr. Quinn is justified in thus adding insult to injury in so malignly introducing the products of our mechanics or not.

Mr. Quinn then asks the following long string of questions:—"Must our dry goods men refuse to sell any woolens but those made by the T. B.
Lyle Co.? Must our grocers keep only such such canned goods as those put up by the Kent Canning Co.? Or soaps made by J. J. Cousens? Or breakfast food made by the Kent Mills? Or flour, buckwheat or corn meal ground by our city mill?
Must we refuse to smoke everything but Quail on Toast because they are made by O'Brien Bros., or—Canada green because it is grown in Kent?

Must we refrain from drinking Cincinnati Cream because we have a new brewery in Chatham?"

To all of this I must emphatically reply in the affirmative; and assert the buying and selling only of such goods made in Chatham would redound to the advantage of the city, its manufacturers and especially the buyers; for the reason that there are no shoddy goods made in Chatham.

I assert without fear of successful contradiction that until our factories have a demand for their products beyond their capacity to fill, any one bringing such goods in from outside places to sell here, injures our factories; and no public spirited man or firm would do it.

As to Mr. Quinn's assertions personal to myself, they are of a piece with his assertion that Mr. Gonne spent his money in Detroit, when Mr. Quinn knew Mr. Gonne kept his house going and his family here. And how does Mr. Quinn know he did not bring back with him all his earnings not paid out for board?

Mr. Quinn says, "If every town in Canada would follow out my ideas, such factories as Gray's, Campbell's and the wagon works would never have come into existence." Gray's and Campbell's were in existence before he was born, and it was I, with the assistance of those who took stock in the company, which brought the wagon works into existence. As to the internal workings of the wagon works business of which he speaks so glibly, he had better seek some more reliable information than he has evidently had, before publishing it. Among his other false assertions I deny that I am selling wagons on commission, but as a large shareholder in the Chatham Manufacturing Co. (as any fool might know.) Every wagon his firm sells deprives me, or the company, of the sale; and the money for it goes to outside places to employ and feed the laborers and mechanics of those places.
If that is a benefit to Chatham, in Mr. Quinn's opinion, neither I nor any of the manufacturers of Chatham can see it. Yours truly, D. R. VAN ALLEN.
