

For the Piano— and all fine Furniture

THE care of a costly instrument involves the use of a polish so dependable as to be absolutely "above reproach".

The fact that O-Cedar Polish is used for piano polishing in preference to all other preparations, by thousands of women, is as strong a recommendation as you could have for its use on less costly articles of furniture and on woodwork.

It is preferred in most homes, because it cleans as it polishes, producing a high, dry, lasting lustre and bringing out the beauty of the grain.

O-Cedar Polish 30c. and 60c. a bottle, $1.50 to $3.50 a can.
O-Cedar Polish Mop, with 54-inch handle $2.00.

Produce and Provisions.

(From Saturday's Trade Review.)

CODFISH.—The exports of dry codfish from St. John's this week totalled 16,822 quintals. The schooner Messrs. Job Bros., the Mary Hannigan 1155 to West Indies for Barr and Bidel, the J. N. Rafuse 4572 to Pernambuco for Messrs. Hickman & Co., and the Hazel J. Myra 3,033 quintals for various shippers to Barbados. From the outports there was shipped a total of 18,171 quintals, viz.: 4,889 quintals by schooner E. D. Bailey, to Malaga from W. J. Moore, Carbonara, 1,526 quintals by schooner Review from Bonney Bay to Halifax by Farquhar & Co., 3,915 quintals, schooner Workman from Catalina to Malaga by J. Swyers, 3,014 quintals by schooner Possession from Spencer's Cove to Oporto by J. Sellars, and 4,827 quintals by schooner John Llewellyn from Belleoram off Oporto by Harvey & Co. This added to the St. John's export, gives a grand total of 35,093 quintals.

COMMON COD OIL.—There is very little doing in either the local or foreign market. Prices have declined, but after the turn of the year it is expected the usual demand will arise on the part of the United States and Canadian Leather Manufacturers, and that the price will improve accordingly. The quantity held in Newfoundland is limited, and those who now hold can, in most cases, afford to do so till the conditions improve.

CODLIVER OIL.—There is very indifferent demand these days, and the price now offered is below the cost of production. Conditions are expected to improve in the course of the winter and a price to be offered that will pay those who are holding refined oil. There are some indications of improvement this week as per enquiries from Boston.

LOBSTERS.—Advices from New York to dealers here this week, indicating a prospect of better demand for tinned Lobsters next month. At the present time it is impossible to sell Lobsters in St. John's, and as a "fend off" price, the exporters name $15.00. It is estimated that there are about 5,000 cases (48 one pound tins) yet in Newfoundland, 3,000 in St. John's and 2,000 in the outports, chiefly on the West Coast. About an equal quantity has already been shipped out to market.

TROUT.—The barbelled trout brought from Labrador in the S.S. Harmony, were sold by auction at C. F. Bennett's wharf yesterday. The 1525 barrels were bought by Messrs. A. E. Hickman (700 barrels), and W. A. Munn (825 barrels) at prices ranging from $4.00 to $8.00. This is about half the price of last year's salted trout from the Harmony.

PORK.—The Pork market is quiet this week. Trading in "futures" on the Chicago market, as indicated by Cables received by the Board of Trade here, shows slight declines all the week. Mess Pork, always regarded as the great "fall seller" for the outports, is now being quoted as a very low figure compared with pork prices of the past four years. Ham But continues scarce and the local market is almost bare of this cut. The same applies to Family Mess, which has been practically unobtainable in the American market for some time. Spare Ribs is now the great seller amongst the grocers. Prices are today, Mess, $38.00, Ham Butt, $56.00, Fat Back, $44.

BEEF.—The Beef Market shows considerable strength this week. Cables received Tuesday quote high grade beef at an advance of $2.00 a barrel. Poorer grades, although not showing the same advance, have still a firmer tendency. There has been a fair movement of Boneless this week to supply the now limited demand of the outport trade. Local provision dealers report on the whole, unprecedented dullness in their lines at a season of the year when the trade should be at its best. We quote Boneless $31.00 to $32.00, Plate $28.00, Special Family $33.00.

FLOUR.—There has been some activity in flour this week, and a total of 73,985 barrels were landed here by the Rosalind, Lady of Gease, Corunna, and Canadian Miner up to Friday. Wheat has been declining gradually in Canada all the week and March Wheat was as low as $1.75 1/4 a bushel yesterday. The local market price for leading brands is down to $15.00 and $15.50, and following the Canadian decline will be lower as the months progress.

SUGAR.—We are glad to find that the Government has decided not to gamble any further in Sugar, with the expectation of recouping the Food Control Board for their losses. These losses in the final analysis must be borne by the consumer, and the logical and legitimate way to make up to them would be to increase the tariff on sugar. This is the function of a Government, and the actual trading in and importing of sugar should be left to sugar importers. Raw sugar is now down to 6 1/2 cents in New York, which means 9 1/2 cents for Refined. This would sell here for about 15 cents. The F. C. B. on Thursday decided to reduce the prices of controlled sugar by $4.75 per 100 lbs. to hold for three months. This will mean about $24 wholesale per 100 lbs.

MOLASSES.—Information received from Barbados this week is to the effect that the new crop of canes is in bad shape and is many weeks behind in growth. The indication is that the coming crop will be only half the normal, and planters are alarmed over the prospect of such poor returns. This fact together with our short importations of 1920 molasses, means high priced molasses again next spring.

POTATOES.—The price of Prince Edward Island's advanced this week 10 cents a bushel, and will, if imported have to sell here at $5.00 per sack of 180 lbs. As the home grown are now plentiful all over Newfoundland and are selling in the Outports at $3.00 and in St. John's at $4.00, there is not much demand for imported, and the shipments arriving are, and will be, small till after New Year.

The monthly circular of the Canadian Bank of Commerce has the following:

The industrial and commercial situation in Canada is influenced to so great an extent by the movement of commodity markets in the United States, particularly those of domestic raw products, that the continued fall in cotton and wool, combined with a determined effort on the part of growers to hold their stocks for higher prices, cannot fail to have an unsteady effect upon Canadian manufacturers.

The prospect of a further decline in commodity prices continues to favor conservative buying. Other factors in determining this attitude are the publicity given to the tariff commission's investigations the gradual elimination of government control from the marketing of important manufactured and domestic products, and the feverish movements of foreign exchange. On the other hand there are some reassuring factors. Immigration continues to increase, the greater number coming from British territory. Meanwhile United States farmers continue to take up holdings in Western Canada, where land values are firm with a decidedly upwards tendency, as is also the case in Eastern Canada.

The bank statement for September shows an increase in current loans in Canada of $22,000,000 over the August figures, while demand deposits increased by $37,000,000 and notice deposits by $9,000,000. It is only to be expected that during the crop-moving season the banks will be called upon for substantial advances, but the steady increase which has taken place in the amount of current loans in Canada for some months past, in spite of the evident slackening in number of manufacturing and trade activities and the recent lowering of prices, indicates the necessity of some curtailment of credit in order that the country may avoid the dangers of over-expansion. A seasonal increase of $4,000,000 has taken place in note circulation.

Lost in a London Tunnel.

Half way through the tunnel that extends from King's Cross to Gower Street Station on the Underground Railway, near the signal box, the signman observed the form of an old man tottering towards him about nine o'clock one night in November, 1876. He was wet to the skin with water that had run down the walls of the tunnel, against which he had squeezed himself to escape the passing trains. The King's Cross inspector was sent for, and Jones, for that was his name, was taken to the station, and thence to St. Pancras Workhouse, to which he belonged. He had, it appears, obtained special leave to visit some friends at Irongate Wharf, and had booked from King's Cross and back. On the return journey, a gentleman in the compartment appeared to take an interest in him, and just after they had passed Gower Street Station, asked where he was going. On saying that he was going to St. Pancras Workhouse, the gentleman said, "Oh, you ought to have got out at Gower Street, it is much nearer." On reaching the King's Cross Station, and getting out, the old man asked the gentleman which was the way to Gower Street, and the latter pointing the way to the tunnel through which the train had just come, said, "That way." Jones went in that direction, and finding there was an incline leading under the arch, went down it, and though he found it getting darker and darker, yet seeing what he thought were lights in the distance, he proceeded, as he knew there were railway arches in the Pancras Road. As he went on, finding there were trains running backwards and forwards, he became bewildered; but, for safety, he crouches close to the wall of the tunnel, and frequently had the greatest difficulty in escaping, as he felt that many of the trains touched him as they went by. He believed there must have been as many as two hundred trains pass and repass him during the time he was in the tunnel; but in this, of course, he was mistaken. Finding that his end was certain, he prayed and sang to allay his fears. He did not know where he was going, but presently he saw a man with a lantern, and felt his deliverance was at hand. He hastened towards the man with all the speed his exhausted state allowed, and fortunately, at the same time, the man saw him. He was perfectly sober, and could not account for getting into the tunnel except that he took it for a railway arch leading to Gower Street.

Three-Fold Safety

The Remington Model 51 Automatic Pistol is absolutely safe. There is no danger of accidental discharge because:

1. The automatic grip safety must be pressed in by grasping the stock firmly in the customary manner, in addition to pressing the trigger, in order to discharge. If the pistol should be dropped by accident the jar can not discharge it.
2. The thumb-operated safety lever locks the hammer hard and fast. Positive intention and a definite thumb push are necessary to bring the lever down to firing position.
3. Removing the magazine automatically locks the hammer in such a manner that a cartridge left in the chamber can not be discharged.
