The Women's Civic League Problem

Will the women of Calgary organize a Women's Civic League or a local Women's Council, which is a branch of the National Women's Council? This is the question before the committee which was appointed at the last women's meeting to enquire further into the matter.

Will a local council do the same work and adjust itself to the needs of our city the same as a civic league?

If an immediate civic problem comes up will a local council have authority to decide such a problem itself, or being affiliated with the National Council, will the matter be taken to headquarters? Will the local council have the particular needs of our particular city as its purpose rather than the general present day problems of woman?

If so, we want a local council or a civic league for they are the same.

The membership fees and the annual fees of the National club range from five dollars to a hundred dollars. Will the fees of the local council be the same? If so, are these fees too much for the average woman?

Again, when will the local council be organized? It all depends upon Mrs. Edwards of Macleod, who is coming "some time this fall." What time?

The committee decided to communicate with Mrs. Edwards at once.

There are a number of women laboring under a misapprehension that the Women's Civic League is to be some kind of an "American" club and the "local council" is a Canadian institution. Perhaps this was caused because of the notice in the paper of the American Women's club which requested all their members to attend. It was merely a step on the part of the American women to endorse and help in a movement which they thought would be beneficial to our city, and whether a local council or a civic league be formed, these women will work just as energetically and as faithfully for any organization that has the good of our city as its basis.

It was decided to write to Mr. W. H. Tregillus, President of the men's civic league, to find out when and where women are needed to help solve civic problems and if women would be allowed to attend a meeting of the men's civic league to see just what questions and problems they are solving.

Calgary has sixteen hundred women voters and at the meeting called last week there was only a very, very small per cent of women who had this right at present. It is an evidence of the interest the local women take in civic matters.

Are we too busy with our home life? But aren't the civic interests and the home interests kindred ones?

Waken up all you sixteen hundred indifferent voters!

CUPID'S KNOTS
McBAIN-SMITH

On Saturday afternoon, at the Presbyterian church, the marriage of Mr. Benjamin McBain and Miss Mary Smith, was quietly solemnized. Rev. P. A. Walker officiated. The bride was from Murrayville, Scotland, and the groom was from Calgary.

TAYLOR-ROSEN.
A quiet wedding took place at the Central Methodist parsonage yesterday, when Sergeant W. H. ("DM") Taylor and Miss Olive Rosen were married. Miss Rosen has just arrived from Monmouthshire, England; while Mr. Taylor has been a member of the Royal North West Mounted Police force for six years.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reside in Hillhurst.

PINKHAM-KUTTER-GREGORY.
Miss Emily Witherspoon, daughter of the late Robert Kutter-Gregory, Revel, Russia, and Augustus M., eldest son of the late bishop of Calgary and Mrs. Pinkham, were united in marriage at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Christ Church cathedral by the Bishop of Calgary. The bride, who wore a beautiful gown of white satin trimmed with rich old lace with veil and orange blossoms, was given away by Mrs. Boyle, of Calgary. The bride's bouquet was of white roses, orchids, and stephanotis. Mrs. Boyle was a becoming gown of white muslin, trimmed with pink, and a beaver hat lined with velvet and trimmed with white plumes. The bride was attended by the bridegroom's sister, Miss Pinkham, whose gown was of white crepe trimmed with royal blue velvet, with which was worn a large black plume hat. Mr. R. F. Taylor was groomsmen. Immediately after the service, which was choral, a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. T. F. H. Crowe, Verdun avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Pinkham leaving by the afternoon boat for Seattle and other places in the States. On the conclusion of their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Pinkham will make their home at Calgary, where the former is manager of the Dominion Trust company.

FACHE-SEARSON.
A pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday when Evelyn Annie, third daughter of Frederick Searson, 229 Fifth avenue west, late of Irwinham, Lincolnshire, England, and John Henry Fache, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fache of Exhills, England, were united in marriage. The bride, who was given away by her father, was a becoming wedding gown of soft white satin with chiffon overdress and tulle veil with coronet of orange blossoms. Her bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Helen and Miss Violet Flexall. They wore pretty white lace frocks made over silk and large picture hats with pink veils. Horace Searson supported the groom. Rev. Mr. James, rector of St. Stephen's, performed the ceremony. Edwin Hamblin, cousin of the bride, played the wedding march.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

SUFFRAGETTES ISSUE CALL TO WESTERN WOMEN

British Women Now in B. C. Ask Them to Take Up Women's Battle

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Petrick Lawrence, the English suffragettes who have lately been spending some time in Victoria, left today for New York, thence to London where they will renew their campaign.

Mrs. Lawrence who is an athletic looking woman of great strength is calling the women of Western Canada and especially of British Columbia to take up the suffragette fight. She declares that she and Mrs. Pankhurst were very near death's door before they were released from their term in prison. She thinks the wonderful smashing campaign gained them friends and believes that a victory in Canada for the women would be the one thing most helpful to the fight of millions in England.

They are a number of women laboring under a misapprehension that the Women's Civic League is to be some kind of an "American" club and the "local council" is a Canadian institution. Perhaps this was caused because of the notice in the paper of the American Women's club which requested all their members to attend.
