The Rev. Joseph Philp, B. D., occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church as pastor, for the first time on Sunday last and created a most favorable impression by giving two excellent serons. His language is faultless, his delivery good and it does not appear to be any effort for him to give expression to the thoughts which he desires to convey to the minds of his hearers The general verdict of the church and congregation at the close of the day's services was "he's all right."

Dr. Miller, dentist, phone 77. In a local school the other day the eacher asked the scholars to write a sentence with the phrase "bitter end" in it. Of course one scholar handed in the statement that,"Russia is determined to fight out the present war to the "bitter end." Another said that Easter holidays had come all too soon to their "bitter end," and so forth. The sentence that took the cake however, was that written by a bright ten year old black cat across the back yard, and as and the rain was the only thing that she was getting under the fence he

A large number from here attended the Old Boys' Re-union at Tillsonburg this week and all report a good time. The town never looked prettier, the main street being beautifully decorated with masses of flags and bunting as were also the private residences and lawns. Thousands of former residents from all over the United States and Canada flocked to their native burg and were accorded a royal welcome by all their old friends. Good music, sports of all kinds, band concerts, fire works, etc., made everything around the town lively and to say that the first re-union of the Tillsonburg Old Boys was a grand success, would be putting it mildly and those who have worked so hard for the past few months are to be congratulated on the way everything went off.
