LONDON, - CANADA.

London, Thursday, June 14.

—Rev. Principal Austin, principal of Alma College, St. Thomas, is the latest popular leader to endorse the Administration of Sir Oliver Mowat. The list grows daily.

—Wentworth County Council has also declined to take action against the fee system. It is apparent that these representative bodies have confidence that Sir Oliver Mowat will make all the needed reforms when the commission now considering the matter reports.

—The Toronto World (Conservative) is still frantically calling for the defeat of Sir Oliver Mowat because he listened to the petition of the Protestant clergy of that city against running Sunday street cars, contrary to the wish of the majority of the people. This is a great campaign!

—The best proof of the poverty of the case made against Sir Oliver lies in the fact that many Conservatives refuse to be identified with making it. The same charges were met and refused by Sir Oliver in 1890, when the Province refused to take its confidence from him. The same result bids fair to be attained on June 26.

—The Toronto Empire says: "No diseased calves were taken away from the Guelph farm, but Mr. Dryden deserves no credit for that." It is quite certain that Mr. Meredith's Toronto organ will not give the former Minister of Agriculture credit for anything till after June 26, anyway. "Denounce, denounce," is its cry against every political opponent.

—The Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference has unanimously pronounced against Mr. Meredith's proposition that the control of the license system should be transferred from the Government to the municipalities, as it was in the days when the breweries dominated this city. No progressive citizen desires a return to the log-rolling that accompanies the system discarded years ago.

—Sol White, whom Mr. Meredith took up and down the country a year or two since as his "western lieutenant," has declared, through his representative, Mr. Ellis, at a recent meeting, that "the Methodists of the country had coerced Sir Oliver Mowat to go in for prohibition, but Mr. Meredith and his party were opposed to prohibition." That, remarks the Record, is the programme in North Essex, but it won't answer in other constituencies. The opponents of Sir Oliver do not subsist because of their inconsistencies. They have one story in South London and another in West London; one story at Dreary's Corners and entirely different tactics at Pond Mills. It is, indeed, anything to beat Mowat.

—Objection is taken by members of the legal fraternity, who are Mr. Meredith's chief supporters in this campaign, that the firm of which Mr. Hobbs is a member sells goods to be used in the Ontario public institutions at places outside of London. What a silly objection! The Hobbs Company makes no discrimination in favor of customers or places. It sells goods to anyone who wishes to buy them and pay the customary trade profit. It sells goods, as do other London merchants, to Governments, to the G. T. R., to the C. P. R., to the M. C. R., to all sorts and conditions of people. The doctrine is new that an enterprising London trader has no business to sell goods in Toronto, Hamilton or Kingston. Perhaps it all comes of having to advocate the claims of a Toronto candidate in this campaign. There is not a patriotic citizen of London who will not rejoice to hear that the Messrs. Hobbs are able to bring trade to London that has hitherto gone to Toronto, and has thereby added to work available for the people of London. The objections to Mr. Hobbs in this campaign are really the chief points in his favor, paradoxical though at first sight it may seem.

NOT LONDON, BUT TORONTO, THEIR CARE.

Mr. W. R. Meredith deserted London and is now building up Toronto.

The political orators in South London could not too highly praise him there.

Mr. Thomas S. Hobbs set on foot a new industry in London, employing many hands.

The political orators in South London could not too strongly condemn him.

Mr. Meredith is an absentee landlord. He seldom comes to London except to take money away from it.

The political orators in the rink expressed their utmost satisfaction with that.

Mr. Hobbs' firm pays over $1,000 a week in wages to its hands, and buys from city factories from $40,000 to $50,000 worth of the products of London mechanics in a year, which is shipped by the enterprise of the firm all over the Dominion.

This is not the kind of citizen that orators of the Esquary, McConnell, Bartlett stamp desire to have as the representative of London. They want the man who has promised to make the interests of Toronto his first care. But this is not the view of the majority of the citizens of London.

AN ATTACK ON LONDON'S INDUSTRIES.

The London Free Press endorsed the civic bylaw which has for years been on the books of the City Council. It offers exemption from taxation for a term of years to any one who will start a new industry. The Messrs. Hobbs found the large Elliott factory idle. It had been so for years. Its buildings were going to wreck. There seemed to be no prospect of having it set going. Though they had up till then confined their attention to their large wholesale business, the Messrs. Hobbs accepted the offer of the city. They agreed to employ the necessary number of men to receive the advantages offered, with the consent of us all, to any one who would start a new industry. From the day of starting till now the factory has been humming, with many more hands at work than stipulated in the contract with the city. The Free Press, on behalf of Mr. Meredith, now argues that the bargain should be broken—that the terms offered to this company shall be withdrawn, and that—such is its reasoning—the workmen shall be dismissed and the factory brought to a standstill!

Such scandalous election tactics will no doubt be rebuked by the electors without regard to political leanings. The only difference between the Messrs. Hobbs' factory and such industries as the London Furniture Company, the White machine works, the Canada chemical works and other city factories, lies in the fact that the industry was brought to London after the passage of the bylaw, and in the further fact that Mr. Thomas S. Hobbs, one of its managers, has been chosen as a candidate for the representation of the city against the man who has deserted London, and who has placed himself in the position of an absentee landlord, collecting rents from this city to build up the rival city of Toronto, of which he is the paid corporation counsel.

—The Toronto World—a Conservative journal whose theology consists chiefly in advocacy of Sunday street cars—is getting ready to account for Sir Oliver Mowat's coming success on the 26th of June. It seems, according to the World, that he bribes the Baptists by letting them have university-degree-granting powers; that he bribes the Catholics with separate schools; that he bribes the Presbyterians by permitting a school of science at Kingston in connection with Queen's. What he bribes the Methodists with is not stated. It is quite true that a majority of the Baptists, the Catholics, the Methodists, the Presbyterians and the Congregationalists of Ontario individually support Sir Oliver Mowat. But may it not be on the higher ground that for 22 years Sir Oliver has been an able, economical and upright ruler, a Christian statesman, without cant and without ostentation, doing his duty as ever in his great Task-Master's eye?

SPECIMEN CHARGES.

Ex-Mayor Cowan on Mr. Bartlett's Asylum Statistics.

How Offences Against London Merchants Are Manufactured by the Anti-Mowat Orators.

One of the speakers in favor of Mr. Meredith at the Westminster Rink was Mr. P. H. Bartlett, barrister. Among other extraordinary statements made by him was the following:

"It would be found that the gentleman who was opposed to Mr. Meredith had made considerable out of the London asylum and other places. In all these matters there was no itemized account given, and all was supplied without tender. Here were some instances for one year: James Cowan & Co., hardware, $16,854 57; Elliott, Marr & Co., $2,642 61; Hobbs Hardware Company, $1,183 77. No wonder this phenomena gentleman was getting very rich." (Laughter.)

WHAT EX-MAYOR COWAN SAYS.

Ex-Mayor James Cowan was met by a representative of the ADVERTISER this forenoon. Said Mr. Cowan: "I have just read Mr. Bartlett's charges in regard to those who sell goods to the Ontario public institutions. It is a gross misstatement of the facts. Instead of our firm selling $16,854 57 in one year, as charged, I have here the statement of what we sold in the last three years, commencing in 1891:

In 1891.....$ 860 53

In 1892.....703 93

In 1893.....239 83

Total for three years.....$1,804 29

"Nor is it true," continued Mr. Cowan, "that no itemized accounts are given, and that all supplies are without tender. All supplies that can be bought without tender, without injury to the public interest, are bought by tender, but as the description of wares that we sell to the authorities are of great variety, it is not possible to call for the goods by tender. I affirm, however, that we sell to the asylum people at just as low prices as our competitors in business here or elsewhere, or we could not sell at all, and the same I believe holds good of other city firms. Whether Mr. Bartlett quotes the figures of their sales properly or not I cannot tell. Mr. Bartlett also misrepresents the facts when he says that 'no itemized account is given.' In our case, as in the case of all persons from whom goods are purchased, a bill is sent with every order delivered at the asylum, and an itemized account in duplicate is rendered for settlement. These accounts are laid before the public accounts committee in the Legislature every year, and for years I understand no one has raised any objections to the prices paid. Our bills have never been called in question."

A VERDICT OF "MURDER"

In the Hartley Poisoning Case—The Coroner's Jury's Finding—The Widow and Ling in Jail.

NORWICH, June 14.—The verdict has at last been reached, and Mrs. Maria Hartley and Louis Henry Ling are now on their way to Brantford jail to await their trial for the wilful murder of Caleb Hartley, husband of the female prisoner. At the night session only three or four witnesses were examined, the principal being Fred Allen, and his father, William Allen, county constables, and Miss Quigg.

Fred Allen deposed to spending an evening at the Hartleys' house about the end of April. Caleb Hartley was away, and his wife and Ling were alone in the house. During the evening Mrs. Hartley came into her bedroom from the kitchen and tried to unlock a drawer, but not being able to call witness, who forced the lock, and saw Mrs. Hartley take a package out, which was sealed up like a duggie's parcel. It was about six inches long and two inches wide and thick. She took this into the kitchen, hiding it in the folds of her dress. Miss Quigg deposed to a conversation which she had with Mrs. Hartley, in which the latter urged witness to accompany her to Lockport to see a doctor there whom she wanted to perform an operation for her, but witness refused to go. The case was given to the jury at 10:45, and at 12:30 they brought in a verdict to the effect that Caleb Hartley came to his death from the effects of arsenical poisoning, and that the said poison was administered by Maria Hartley, his wife, assisted by Louis Henry Ling.

"I do not care what we may have in the future. Any historian that writes the 22 years of the history of Canada when Sir Oliver Mowat was the Premier will say it was a proud page, it was an honest page, it was a true page, it was a page of progress, it was a page of wisdom, it was a page that any people might be proud of."—[Hon. S. H. Blake at Toronto.]

BAPTISTS ALSO ATTACKED.

(Kingston Whig.)

The Toronto World is boiling mad that Sir Oliver Mowat encouraged the establishment of a Baptist college because "a number of people believe that baptism is necessary to a man's salvation." Think of that, ye Baptists, who are expected to support the Conservative policy, including the annihilation of your college.

Thirty Drowned.

DEUBLIN, June 14.—A boat containing 80 hesters crossing from Achill, Ireland, to Westport county, Mayo, was capsized this morning and 30 of its occupants were drowned.

An Important Movement.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 13.—At to-day's session of the first annual convention of the Railway Union, the first steps were taken towards an alliance of the union and the Knights of Labor with an effective strength of 350,000 men each, founded upon a principle of including its membership laboring men of all classes. Opposed to this great confederation of laboring men are the American Federation of Labor, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Firemen and all kindred orders working on the class organization basis.

RADWAY DID IT.

Smashed the St. Thomas-Port Stanley Record—Manville Also Lowered All Previous Times—Both Rode Twenty-Pound "Quadrants."

In the road race last evening from St. Thomas to Port Stanley, both Radway and Manville, on twenty-pound "Quadrants," lowered all previous records for the distance of nearly 10 miles. Radway knocked it to smithereens in 28:50, where it is safe to say it will not be touched for many long days to come. These were the only two "Quadrants" in the race and they took first and second time prizes respectively, against over twenty riders, coming over the rough roads without the slightest mishap, another glowing tribute to the excellence of these feather-weight machines. The rough and frightfully dusty roads were an eye-opener to Radway, but he seemed to revel in them just the same, plowing through the gravel, as one of the St. Thomas boys said, "like a cyclone." I describing the dust after the race, he said that in one spot he saw a cap on the ground with the club colors, and stooping down to reach it was astonished to find a rider beneath, who assured him he was still in the race and begged him to go ahead and pace. The boys think he is getting Americanized quickly since his trip to Buffalo.

Picnic to Port Friday.

Westminster school picnic to-morrow (Friday) to Port Stanley. Fare, 30 cents. Trains leave G. T. R. station, London, at 10:05 and 11 a.m., and 2:30 p.m.

"Take a hole and put some dough around it, then fry in lard." This simple recipe has brought thousands to grief, just because of the frying in lard, which as we all know hinders digestion. In all recipes where you have used lard, try

Cottolene the new vegetable shortening and you will be surprised at the delightful and healthful results. It is without unpleasant odor, unpleasant flavor or unpleasant results. With COTTOLENE in your kitchen, the young, the delicate and the dyspeptic can all enjoy the regular family bill of fare. Cottolene is sold in 3 and 5 pound pails, by all grocers.
