Exporters, too, were very firm, owing to the higher cables from England. Sheep, lambs and hogs were unchanged. City Appears To Be Facing Famine Next Season.

City Solicitor Says Council Has No Power to Make Any Such Grant as is Asked-Ugieral Mixup.

The board of health and the special committee appointed by the city counil to deal with the ice matter held powers we all know. We are at your special meeting in the city hall this morning, and for nearly five hours, the board, the aldermen and the ice-men talked the matter over. But all concerned were just where they began when the meeting ended, nothing of a definite character having been done. The meeting was however, put right one important point, and that was that the city has no power to make a grant of money to the ice-men, nor to inake a loan to them, The ice-men put their request in plain inguage, one of them informing Chairman English that the dealers, in view of the injury which they allege the board of health has done them, expect the city to grant them a sum of their difficulties. They made no threats against anybody, but it was plain that against the city. On the other hand, the chairman and the city had done nothing to incur any liability, and it was remarked by one from the city. of the speakers that the ice-men have none but themselves to blame for the present state of affairs, as they had cluded. apparently gone into the matter in a ery slipshod manner.

Those, present were Chairman English, Alds. Forristal, Garratt, Mat-Hutchison. The four ice dealers Messrs. George Arthur. D. Collins, J. Chairman English then read from the Mills ice has been refused by butchers Steele and Edward Cushing—were also ice regulations to show that the city and others on the ground that it tains on hand, and they addressed the meetng at length. In the end, however, the meeting was adjourned without anything having een done, the whole matter being simply left in the hands of the chairman and Mr. Willis, who were given power to make any arrangements they may leem desirable to overcome the difficulty. As matters now stand, the icemen are given power to cut ice for cooling purposes on the north branch, and the board of health is meanwhile endeavoring to secure the old drill sheds for storage. The domestic ice problem is still unsolved, and, in fact, the ice-men declare that the drill sheds will not commence to hold the ice rejuired for cooling purposes by the city of London next season. Position of the Dealers.

of the whole affair was the fact that the ice-men do not know where they are at. The ice-men had carried the regulations of the board of health in good faith. It had cost the dealers about $25,000 to build the icehouse at the Pond Mills, and to make other changes made necessary by the board's regulations. He expressed a doubt as to the value of the analysis that had been made of the Pond Mills water, and he said the ice-men themselves had been the first to detect that something was wrong with the ice cut

Mr. Arthur next addressed the board. He said that the icemen did not even know what is going to be done for season. The question was where were the icemen at? They had spent all their money on the icehouse at the Pond Mills, and now the ice cut there was found to be of no use. The icemen are all at sea, and know not what to do. It was then suggested that the ice men cut a huge hole in the ground and use it for an ice-house on the north branch. It would certainly prove heaper, it was said, than the erec

Ald. Matthews said it would be probably as well for the city to put up an ice-house and rent it to the dealers, until they are able to pay for it. Dr. English again raised the point of the purity of north branch ice. He said that it had been declared impure, and the board must be guided by this. He said that yesterday Dr. Hutchin-Ald, Stevely asked if the icemen had son had gone to Port Stanley and had been given a guarantee of any kind secured samples of ice, which will be that the Pond Mills ice was pure and analyzed. If a reasonable rate can be secured from the Pere Marquette th domestic ice supply can probably is secured at the lakeside.
