MR. PROUDFOOT'S GRAVE CHARGES.

Specific charges of corrupt and improper conduct has been laid against Sir James Whitney and Hon. W. J. Hanna by the member for Centre Huron, Mr. Proudfoot.

The charges have been referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections by order of the Prime Minister. The Opposition asked for a reference to a Royal Commission of two judges. The refusal of the Public Accounts Committee to permit Mr. Proudfoot to ask questions bearing upon the transcharges, made it doubtful whether the majority of the Privileges and Elections Committee would allow sufficient

It has been acknowledged by the Prime Minister that Hon. Mr. Hanna accepted a campaign contribution from Mr. George C. Taylor, of Taylor, Scott & Co., while that firm were under contract with the Government. It is now further alleged:

1. That this sum was given on the understanding that the company's working purposes. financial claim against the Government would be satisfied.

2. That Mr. Hanna manipulated the opening and granting of certain coal the closure resolutions have been tenders, and that there were grave ir- adopted in the House of Commons. regularities in connection with the purchase of certain self-feeding stok-

4. That the condition was laid down that the flat would not be used for three months, and that in the meantime the Provincial Secretary endea-Taylor withdrawing all the charges made by the said Taylor.

5. That in November, 1911, when the election was approaching, Mr. Taylor again brought pressure on the Government and succeeded in having his claim referred to an arbitrator, although the officials of the Government reported that it was wholly unfound-

6. That the arbitrator was appointed on Nov. 18, 1911, and made his award has sailed again for England, now his on Nov. 24, 1911, granting the firm

Mr. Hanna in the House affirmed his innocence of every charge except that of the election contribution. He said he had been pursued for a year and a half by the accusations with regard to the coal tenders and self-feeding stokers, and he alleged blackmail.

THE CALIFORNIA ANTI-ALIEN LAW.

Newspapers in the United States are discussing the law that has just been passed by the legislature of California prohibiting the Japanese and Chinese from holding real estate. So far as the Oriental races are concerned the law is one with which we have nothing to do. Whether it is wise policy to try and keep out the Japanese from California is for the people of that state to say. Whether or not the law is in conflict with the treaties made by the United States with Japan is for the Federal Goverment to decide. More than that, it is difficult for people in these eastern parts, where there is no danger of an overflow of an undesirable Oriental population, to realize the importance of this question to those who live on the Pacific coast. The arguments are not all on one side. But while the new law is intended apparently, to apply to the Japanese and Chinese, these races are not mentioned in it. We have not seen the entire bill, but the following summary is given by California correspondents of the New York press and may be assumed to be correct: "As amended the measure provides that an alien may hold land for one year, or in case of a minor, for one year after attaining his majority, but at the end of that time the property escheats to the state a citizen of the United States. An alien gaining land by inheritance may hold it for one year only under the same conditions.

All property owned ly an ailen shall be sold or disposed of within three years from the passage of the act, unless declaration of intention made, and leases shall run for not more than five years. Those in force when the act is passed shall be declared void at the expiration of five years.

The provisions of the act are not to apply to property acquired prior to 1894, but the provisions do apply corporations where the majority of the stock is held by aliens."

Unless there is legislation not ineluded in this act to the contrary, the alien law will apply to Canadians and all British subjects just as much as it does to the Japanese. Under its year, unless he is a citizen of the United States. If there are any British subjects holding land in California which has been purchased or leased since 1894, they will have to get rid of it inside of one year, or it will be confiscated.

Of course, a regulation of this kind ought to suit the opponents of reciprecity, who desire "no truck with the Yankees." But the worst of it is that it will not apply to any extent to boast of the superior enforcement of the small man who was the chief opject of solicitude on the part of those ultra loyalists. This class of Canadians will not be buying California lands. The parties to be affected are he corporations, the manufacturers, the banks, and the wealthy men of the ountry. For these there will be no nvestments in California. And these are the only classes that could be action which is the basis of his trusted to deal with our neighbors, according to the anti-reciprocity people.

Well, the question can be left to time and President Wilson to settle. We do not expect that Mr. Borden will have any such bill passed through the Canadian Parliament. To be consistent, he ought to do so. There are a number of alien corporations that have branch factories here. Legislation that would compel them to sell out to Canadians ought to be encouraged from a Conservative loyalist point of view. But no one need worry about this. "No truck with the Yankees" is only a campaign cry, not intended for

It is a triumph for Mr. Rogers, but what of Mr. Borden? He had declared from the hustings that unless Parliament gave "IMMEDIATE" assent to or two. 3. That when these matters were laid his naval proposals he would dissolve

Mr. Borden has been credited in some quarters with a desire to fulfill mons have often noted Sir Wilfrid not, his promise has been broken, and

It is now open to the Government to force the naval bill through the apt illustration and rhetorical House of Commons. In so doing, its gestion. For example, when closing the vored to procure a letter from Mr. gift of Dreadnoughts will be robbed of any grace which it might have had in British eyes. But for Mr. Borden's tergiversation Canada's contribution to Imperial naval defence would have taken a shape which would have represented the unforced and almost unanimous will of the Canadian people. Now it is the product of mean party exigencies, and the act of a faction, not of a people.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S FARE-WELL.

Sir Charles Tupper, in his 93rd year, nome. There is pathos in his remark that he will probably never see Canadian shores again. As the sole surviving father of Confederation, he has become almost a legendary figure.

It is to be regretted that Sir Charles last public utterance before leaving the country should have been intensely partisan, but it is even more to be regretted that he should have abandoned his own patriotic attitude of four years The charges are now before the ago. Today he expresses approval of the Borden contribution and upbraids Sir Wilfrid Laurier for opposing it. Four years ago he upheld the Canadian navy idea and felicitated Mr. Borden opinion should also demand that no upon his support of the Laurier Government on that question. On Nov. 27, 1907, he wrote to Mr. Borden as fol-

> "My dear Mr. Borden,-I have read with much interest the communication of the Canadian correspondent of the Times on naval defence in today's issue of that paper. I resolved to maintain the patriotic attitude the Conservative party as-sumed last session. The compact Sir Charles referred to was the Canadian navy resolution of March, 1909, unanimously adopted by the Canadian House of Commons.

That compact has been destroyed, and the "fearful responsibility" rests upon the Borden Government.

Sir Charles' farewell words might have been more appropriate.

The Ottawa Government has made the gag, but will the Opposition wear it? Swatting the fly is good, but starying the fly is better. It lives on filth.
