

Christmas Number

The Christmas CANADIAN MAGAZINE will be as bright and as varied as usual.

There will be contributions by the DUKE OF ARGYLL (Marquis of Lorne), SIR GILBERT PARKER, G. MERCER ADAM, G. B. BURGIN, and A. G. BRADLEY.

These are five of the best writers who have written for a Canadian audience. Three of them are Britishers, two are Canadians, but none of the five is now living in Canada.

There will be a special coloured cover—the handsomest design which has yet graced a special issue of THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE. There will also be coloured illustrations, such as have made this publication famous as the best printed publication in Canada.

There will be more stories than usual. The story writers are: DUKE OF ARGYLL, W. ALBERT HICKMAN, W. A. FRASER, C. M. KEYS, G. B. BURGIN, HALLIDAY GIBBS (Child's Story), and perhaps one or two others. This will be an especially fine collection of bright short stories.

The Christmas Number will, it is hoped, maintain the fair name which the CANADIAN MAGAZINE has gained throughout Canada, Great Britain and the United States.

This special number will be sold at the regular price—twenty-five cents a copy.
