the services of our Church with reference to baptism. Notwithstanding the assertion that "the Articles are far from containing the full doctrine of the Church," I believe Nowithstanding the assertion that "the Articles are far from containing the all described of the Church's location of the Church's and the assertion of the Church and the assertion of the Location of the Church and the second of the case of the second of th that as far as human compositions are able, they do so on main points, and on one particular subject to which the lives and writings of those fathers of the Church, and whereby we can be called sons of God or relatives of Christ. If the Holy Ghost be not come upon you to great purposes of holiness, all other pretences are vain; ye are still in the flesh, which shall never inherit the kingdom of God." And also to that of the late eminent prelate, Bish. or holy and the flesh is a fact that of the late eminent prelate, his holy and the flesh is a fact that of the late eminent prelate, his holy and the flesh is a fact that the flesh is Bishop Ryder, whom your correspondent has claimed in support of his own views, in whose Primary Charge at Gloucester we find this emphatic declaration:—"I would solemnly protest against that most serious error of contemplating all the individuals of a baptized congregation as having once known the truth, and entered upon the right path; as not, therefore, acquiring that 'transformation by the renewing of the mind; that "putting off of the old man, and putting on the new man," which is so emphatically enjoined by St. Paul to his baptized Romans and Ephanicary. This arranjons view in my mind, strikes and Ephesians. This erronious view, in my mind, strikes at the root of all useful and effectual preaching. Ministerial addresses founded upon it soothe and delude the people into a false peace. They may make many a Pharisee, and produce on many a death-bed a vain self-night-own and produce of the self-night-own righteous ease, which must soon be changed into selfondemnation and death eternal. But they will never be spiritual "weapons, mighty through God, to the pulling down of strong holds, and bringing the servants of Satan into captivity to the obedience of Jesus Christ, &c."

I am, Rev. Sir, yours faithfully.

ORDINATION AT CHESTER. - SUDDEN ILLNESS OF THE BISHOP.—The Bishop of the Diocese held an Ordination in the Cathedral Church of this city on Sunday morning last. the Cathedral Church of this city on Sunday morning last.—
Prayers were said by the Very Rev. the Dean; but the service was suddenly interrupted by a most painful occurrence. During the chanting of the Venite, the Bishop was seized with a fainting fit, upon the floor of the throne; a great sensation was of course excited, his Lordship's examining Chaplain, his Secretary, and others immediately went to the revered Prelate's help and some of the officiating clergy left the stalls, to send for medical and other assistance. The Bishop was taken to the palace, into which (as most of our readers know,) there is an extrance from the Cathedral: Dr. Llewellyn Jones, and Mr. entrance from the Cathedral; Dr. Llewellyn Jones, and Mr. Harrison were quickly in attendance, and restoratives were applied with effect; and it being ascertained that his Lordship was recovering, the Clergy returned to their stalls and the Dean resumed the service. Morning prayers ended, the Bishop though in a state of great weakness and exhaustion, re-entered the Cathedral, and proceeded with the whole of the Ordination -per Rev. T. S. Kennedy 1 10 7

It is no answer on the part of the Colonial Ministers to state, that the authority to call more members to the Council had been sought for, and obtained some months before. We must look to the time when those new members were added, and to the fact that five out of the six members then called voted for the government measure. I have lived there at various periods 24 years, am personally acquainted with nearly all the leading men of both parties, and believe, therefore, that my opinion on Canadian affairs is entitled to an equal consideration with that of your sub-editor, whoever he may be; and I venture to predict, that unless Her Majesty's Government recall the present Governor General, and disallow the Bill which has given occasion to the late disturbances, such seeds of dissatisfaction will be sown in the minds of the Conservative party as will very soon cause a severance of the Canadian from the British dominions.

A gentleman from Vermont writes as follows: Cambridge, Vermont, June 18, 1846. Mr. Seth W. Fowle,

Dear Sir.—For several years past, my ushally good health has been occasionally interrupted by spells of coughing produced hy colds, a year ago last winter I was brought to the verge of the grave by a very severe cough, accompanied with severe pains in both sides, between the shoulders, etc., which, with long continued night sweats, and other alarming symptoms, reduced me so low that my friends despaired of my recovery. I consulted physicians, and tried the various remedies of the day, but none of them cured me. At last I procured Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and it saved my life; I have not enjoyed better health for many years, therefore I can recommend others who ne d it to try it.

SAMUEL BENTLEY.

A Physician's Evidence. The following was received by my Agent in Portland, from

Dr. J. W. Mighels.

Portland, June 4, 1846.

Dear Sir.—I am greatly obliged to you for a copy of Mr. Bogle's pamphlet on the anatomy and physiology of the human skin and hair. I have read it with much pleasure, mere than once, and regard it as the best synopsis of the kind that I have ever seen. It accords with what is known and taught by the best anatomists and physiologists. I he practical deductions are also correctly drawn.

As to the adaptation of the remedy which accompanied the pamphlet, to the prevention and cure of balduess and an unhealthly growth of hair, it maintains a high character, and is much thought of by those who use it. It has also a neat and agreeable perfume, and is a pretty smart stimulant. Yours, &c. with much respect.

J. W. Mighels.
