

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

CLEVELAND NOMINATED ON THE SECOND BALLOT. Chicago, July 11.—Patrick Walsh, delegate at large from Cleveland, has expressed the opinion that Cleveland will be nominated on the first ballot this morning. The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock, prayer being offered by the Rev. Dr. Clinton Locke.

When Illinois was called on the first ballot Cleveland was named. Illinois cast one vote for Hendricks, which caused great applause and cheers from the Tammany side. After ten or fifteen minutes order was restored. Illinois casts 38 votes for Cleveland, a gain of 10.

About half the delegates are on their feet and there is a loud demonstration all over the house. If Cleveland holds what he had on the first ballot this change will give him the majority of the convention.

SECOND BALLOT. Cleveland 475, Hendricks 194, Bayard 150, Thurman 90, Russell 84, and D. L. 12. Illinois changes from Cleveland to Bayard. Kansas changes, giving Cleveland a gain of one. North Carolina changes 22 from Bayard to Cleveland. Ohio is trying to change amidst great confusion. Cleveland's friends claim that there will be changes enough to give him nomination on this ballot.

After the second ballot the changes of the State votes were so numerous and accompanied with so much uproar and excitement it was almost impossible to keep track of them. The Missouri delegation announced that they changed their 32 votes from Cleveland to Bayard, when the success of Cleveland was certain. Some of the minority delegates left the hall. Outside the artillery began to boom, and inside the uproar was tremendous. When Iowa transferred her votes to Cleveland an immense oil painting of Cleveland was carried on the platform waiting to be set up when the vote should be announced.

CHICAGO, July 11.—It was half-past five before the evening session was called to order. After routine, a delegate from Texas offered a resolution declaring the Democratic party in convention assembled endorse the Morrison bill for a reduction of the war taxes. A storm of opposition was raised to the resolution, and the chairman ruled that it must be referred to the committee on resolutions. The convention then proceeded to the call of the roll for the nomination of a candidate for vice-president.

A California delegate named General Rosecrans (cheers for Rosecrans); a Colorado delegate nominated Joseph E. McDonald; a Georgia delegate presented the name of General John C. Black, of Illinois (cheers for Black). Judge Black expressed his appreciation of the high and unmerited compliment, but respectfully declined the nomination. An Illinois delegate hoped the declaration would not be received. Pinlow, of Kansas, presented the name Gowlick. A Pennsylvania delegate said that he nominated a man conversant with public affairs throughout his whole life, an honored statesman, a pure and upright citizen, the victim of the grossest fraud ever perpetrated upon the American people—Thomas A. Hendricks. (Cheers.) Wallace of Connecticut, seconded the nomination, and said the Democratic party would, in defiance of fraud and in accordance with law, place him in the chair of the Vice-President. The

THE ENGLISH FRANCHISE.

LONDON, July 9.—A cabinet council was held to-day to consider the rejection of the franchise bill by the House of Lords. The liberal clubs are preparing a protest against their action.

will end in their being deprived of their functions and privileges. The lords will certainly suffer for want of funds. The government will not dissolve; but will re-introduce the franchise bill in October.

LONDON, July 12.—In the House of Lords on Tuesday Lord Wemyss will move that the house proceed to consider and pass the franchise bill at the present session; also that the lords shall petition the Queen for an autumn session to pass the bill for a redistribution of parliamentary seats.

EXCITEMENT OVER THE REJECTION OF THE BILL BY THE LORDS.

NEW YORK, July 14.—A Times cable despatch dated Saturday night says: The central point of interest in British politics is no longer Egypt. What absorbed the public mind a week ago has become a matter of secondary importance to-day. That this is so—and it unquestionably is so—must be attributed to the great astuteness of Mr. Gladstone's astuteness which was scarcely ever equalled in his best days. A week ago he and his ministry were undeniably in a hole, and it was hard to see how they could safely get themselves out of it.

THE QUESTION WAS THEN PUT ON THE previous motion to make the nomination unanimous. It was carried triumphantly. It is said Vilas will be nominated for Vice-President. Wallace of Pennsylvania, moved for recess till 5 p.m., in order to give time for consultation on the vice-presidential question.

There is no change in the local money market, which continues easy, with 5 to 6 per cent as the rate for call loans on stock collateral, and 7 to 8 per cent for commercial discounts.

DECAY AND PROSPERITY IN QUEBEC. Our reporter has interviewed several commercial travellers and the experienced drummer of a mercantile agency agent the condition of business and the state of the crops throughout the Province of Quebec. The crops look best in the Eastern Townships and in the Montserrat and Valley districts. In many other parts, particularly along the North Shore, they are thin and parched except in the meadow bottom. The want of rain has been severely felt in light sandy soils and the pasture in some parts has quite given out.

There are scarcely any buildings going up except in the Eastern Townships and between Montreal and Ottawa and in the Joliette district. It was certainly time for Father Labelle to put some life into the Colonization system of the province. The numerous market gardens around Montreal and the carefully cultivated farms are quite a contrast to the parched fields in many other directions. There is more enterprise and prosperity," said one gentleman, "on the island of Montreal than in the whole Province of Quebec put together."

EARL EUSTON AND HIS WIFE.

He Withdraws His Suit for Divorce.—His Efforts to Get Rid of the Woman he Married When he was Plain Henry Fitzroy.—The Once Plain Kate Cook to Become a Duchess.

LONDON, July 12.—The Earl of Euston and prospective Duke of Grafton has given up his efforts to rid himself of the woman he married some thirteen years ago. He was then plain Henry Fitzroy, with a lineage dating back to one of the mistresses of King Charles II, but with little expectation of ever becoming an Earl, even by courtesy, and much less a duke. His wife was a woman of charming address and stylish appearance, and was known as Kate Cook. The marriage was clandestine, and it is only recently that her name has appeared in "Burke's Peerage."

In 1822, by a series of deaths in the family of Grafton, and as his eldest son, Henry became by courtesy the Earl of Euston. His love for his spouse had long since cooled, and the fact that she was now a countess, and a prospective duchess, became intolerable to him. He was anxious to contract a marriage with the aristocratic sphere to which he then belonged, and many titled dames with marriageable daughters were more than willing to smooth his way to a proper alliance. The Countess, however, had been a model of propriety since her marriage, and there was no ground upon which Lord Euston could put her aside. A separation was mutually agreed upon, and Lord Euston sought in every direction for a plea upon which he could base an application for the annulment of the marriage. Last spring his detectives unearthed a man who said he could prove that he was the husband of Kate Cook at the time she was married to the Earl. Lord Euston promptly brought suit for the annulment of his marriage and confronted his wife with her first husband, expecting to entrap her into a denial of the earlier marriage. To his amazement Lady Euston recognized her former husband and made no attempt whatever to dispute the fact of the marriage, but she showed that he had fraudulently represented himself to her as a widower, when, in fact, he had a wife still living. The Countess claimed that this fraud on his part made his marriage with her null and void. The Judge could not rule otherwise, and Lord Euston's case was promptly thrown out of court.

Driven to desperation, Lord Euston last month brought a suit for absolute divorce against his wife on the ground of adultery. Nobody believed the charge, for the Countess had been exceedingly circumspect from the moment of her marriage, but the Earl seemed convinced of its truth, and pushed the case against her as rapidly as he could. Recent investigations, however, have shown that the charge was trumped up by the detectives, who simply sought to keep in the Earl's pay, and who easily made him credit what he was so anxious to believe. Lord Euston has now withdrawn his suit for divorce, and apparently nothing but her death can prevent the co-event Kate Cook from wearing the coronet as Duchess of Grafton.
