

ANNEXURE

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

The Government of Canada is responsible for the following activities in the field of research and development:

(A) Expenditures related to research and development:

(1) a living allowance; (2) medical and hospital expenditures; (3) research and development; (4) other expenditures.

(B) Expenditures related to research and development:

(1) a living allowance; (2) medical and hospital expenditures; (3) research and development; (4) other expenditures.

(C) Expenditures related to research and development:

(1) a living allowance; (2) medical and hospital expenditures; (3) research and development; (4) other expenditures.

The Government of Canada is responsible for the following activities in the field of research and development:

(1) a living allowance; (2) medical and hospital expenditures; (3) research and development; (4) other expenditures.

The Government of Canada is responsible for the following activities in the field of research and development:

(1) a living allowance; (2) medical and hospital expenditures; (3) research and development; (4) other expenditures.