SUCCESS STORY

Ahnisnabae Art
Thunder Bay, Ontario
www.ahnisnabae-art.com

Ahnisnabae Art is owned and operated by native artist Roy Thomas and his wife. Formed in 1995 to showcase his work through native art products that illustrate and support the Ahnisnabae culture, the company today also sells silkscreen prints, reproductions and art cards.

Ahnisnabae Art has found a good market for its reproductions in France. According to Thomas, art connoisseurs there share many of the issues - such as concerns for the environment and family - that are expressed in these works through text and images.

Outside Canada, Thomas' art is exhibited in museum collections in Germany where he has participated in group shows as well as in the USA and the Netherlands. He is currently writing an autobiography which he hopes will boost the company's sales to other countries.
