

which should be curtailed in the interest of the public generally.

You will now retire to your room and proceed with your labours, and in doing so let me request you to keep constantly in mind the obligation imposed upon you by your oath of office, "to present no person for hatred or " malice, nor to leave any one unpresented for fear, favor " or affection, or hope of reward, but in all things to present the truth and nothing but the truth to the best of your knowledge."

