REGULAR TRAFFIC DEMORALIZED

The usual demoralization of passenger traffic occurred all over the country on Saturday, Sunday, Monday, because of extra Thanksgiving Day travel.

Why must regular traffic out of Toronto be disturbed in this way for nearly thirty days every year? The regular trains at regular fares should be run every day in the year, holiday traffic should go by special trains. And the regular trains should be run on time. Business men pay the full rate and are delayed every holiday at big loss.

When will the Grand Trunk or the Canadian Pacific start a reform? Or will they leave it to the railway commission?

DEFEATS OF INSTITUTIONAL TRAINING.

Very serious charges are being made against the system of institutional rearing and training of children. It is stated that a boy or girl taken out of one of these homes at the age of 15 is practically of no use in the average household. The methods pursued in a large institution unfit the children for the self-reliant life of the world. Having been accustomed to have everything arranged for them, they are unprepared to do anything for themselves or to take the initiative when necessary.

In many cases they flatly refuse to do what is required of them, declaring they would prefer to go back to the institution, where they never had to do such things. The regular life of the institution, with its fixed hours, its constant attention to warmth and comfort, makes the struggle for existence in the ordinary household distasteful to the child of public solicitude, and, having been brought to the age of 15 or so, without regular work, the child contracts a very decided distaste for working at all.

It is stated further that there are many youths and maidens in the reformatory and orphan homes far beyond the age of 15, whose character, the result of the system, makes it impossible that they shall ever become satisfactory citizens outside the walls of the institution. No household wants a boy or girl who requires a guardian to look after him all the time. The plan of placing the children in homes in the country under the supervision of the government, is evidently better in its results.

SHORT-SIGHTED CONSUMERS.

Dundas is having an experience such as Hamilton and Brantford will also have. In all probability, before they have measured to the full their experiences with private electric companies, it has been supposed by the rulers of some cities that it would be an excellent smart game to agree with a private company to get terms from it on a par with those offered by the hydro-electric commission, or better. It looks like a good thing that the silly raters have allowed themselves to be deluded into accepting the terms.

Of course, all that the private company wants is to get a footing. It can then make any kind of contract it pleases with the various firms with which it has to deal, and there is no chance for the small consumer to compete with the big fellow. These cities are given in some respects an advantage over their neighbors by the operation of a "dumping" policy, the object of which is to break up the competition of the commission on main circuits by weakening the links of the main transmission line. The private companies, like the Cataract Company, would have been glad if it had been possible to give power for nothing to some places, if that would have had the effect of breaking up the municipal union. Hamilton and Brantford stood aloof from the power union, and they do not yet realize what the result will be. They will probably yet be glad of the competing assistance of the hydro-electric commission.

At Dundas some of the manufacturers seem inclined to stand in their own light by going past the commission to make contracts with the Cataract Company, altho the commission can quote prices which will be constantly reduced under the growing patronage of all the other units in the system. Nor do they seem to understand that their patronage means cheaper power for their town, cheaper light for their employees, a more desirable community to live in, increasing values in their property, and more satisfactory labor conditions all round. To stand in the way of these favorable conditions is not a wise business policy, but even self-interest may be blinded by prejudice.

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT.

St. John, N. B., is the latest city to get ideas about the present "antiquated city council method" of government. The commission system of government appeals to business men there as the proper way to handle the business of the city, whose affairs constitute "just a big business proposition," which should be transacted on business lines and without any regard to fine-spun political theories or coarse-spun political deals.

A MILLENNIAL RECORD.

The "billed owl" solemnity of The Windsor Evening Record is almost distressing. There is a flavor of the millennium," it says, about The World's suggestion that Sir Henry Pellatt might consider the sale of the Electric Light Co. from the point of view of the purchaser.

The Record recalls the possibility that "Satan will be tied up for a term with a ball to his heel." But, "at present his finger is still in the world's business pie." This, we trust and believe, has nothing to do with us. Indeed, The Record proceeds at once to introduce The Globe, and we are left in doubt whether it is Sir Henry or the organ that is in ultimate danger of the "ball to his heel."

The Globe is quoted for its uncompromising attitude toward Sir Henry. "The fight for business," it says, "between the public system and the private company 'must go on to the inevitable end.' In other words, The Globe sees Sir Henry's finish."

But to think that The World should make a millennial record in competition with The Globe! Can The Record be right?

MARMADUKE MATTHEWS' PICTURE SALE.

Among Canadian artists none is more devoted to the land we live in than Marmaduke Matthews, R.C.A., whose beautiful and truthful transcripts of nature have been so long and favorably known to collectors. Tomorrow (Thursday), Nov. 2, an exceptionally fine collection of his water color drawings, representing substantially his last year's work, will be submitted to unreserved auction sale by Messrs. C. M. Henderson & Co., in their great rooms, 87-89 East King-st. It is especially noteworthy for its Rocky Mountain scenes, altho the subjects have wider range and include several highly interesting but typical of local conditions as they were a quarter of a century ago. Mr. Matthews wields a deft pencil and to his keen eye for natural conditions is attributable the thoroughly harmonious atmospheric effects which are the outstanding features of his art. The same quality accounts for the accuracy of his mountain contours and rock surfaces, his splendid perspectives and fine handling of reflected light.

Among the noteworthy studies in the Rockies is No. 18, "The Western waves of Ebbing Day," with its mountain pinnacles glowing in the golden light of the sinking sun, and the gathering shadows over their wooded bases, while the quiet waters reflect the glories of the sky. Another striking drawing is No. 23, "The Surroundings of the Glacier Hotel," seen under more somber shadows, but equally imposing. No. 72, "Thru the Otterfalls," is yet another striking landscape, but indeed all the views of the Canadian Alps reveal a grandeur, very interesting are the pictures on the Don and Humber Rivers, from sketches made between 1880 and 1890. There are also particular historic value in preserving earlier phases which are no longer extant. Two drawings of great artistic excellence are No. 70, "Evening on The Straits of Juan," and No. 85, "Evening by the Waters," full of glamor and poetical charm. The collection includes several important numbers additional to those in catalog and will be sold absolutely without reserve. The paintings can be inspected to-day and up to the hour of sale on Thursday.

CAUGHT A HEAVY COLD

Mr. J. H. Richards, 1832 Second-avenue east, Vancouver, B.C., writes: "Allow me to write a few lines in praise of your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Last fall I contracted a heavy cold which left me with a hacking cough, and every time I would get a little more cold this hacking cough would become a lung-splitting one. It kept on getting worse and I kept on spending money buying different cough remedies, until a friend asked me if I had ever tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told him I was willing to try anything I thought would cure me, and on the same day I bought two bottles. Before half the first one was used my cough began to get much easier, and by the time I had used a bottle and a half my cough was gone. I am keeping the other half bottle in case it should come again, but I am quite sure I have a positive cure. Let me recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup to all who suffer from a cough or throat irritation of any kind."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents. Manufactured only by The St. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Appeal in the Ontario Bank Agreement With Bank of Montreal Dismissed by Privy Council.

Yesterday, in London, Eng., the privy council dismissed the appeal of McFarland v. The Bank of Montreal and the Royal Trust Co., and by so doing approved the agreement made between the Bank of Montreal and the Ontario Bank, when the latter went under in 1904.

Argument on the part of the appellant turned mainly on two clauses. It was maintained that the use of the word "purchase" showed that there was a sale of at least part of the assets of the Ontario Bank within the meaning of the Bank Act, and that at any rate there was a sale of goodwill which in reality was the only asset the Ontario Bank possessed.

It is, however, clear," says the judgment, "that the Bank of Montreal did not purchase, or intend to purchase the call and current loans and overdue debts of the Ontario Bank for its own profit as a matter of bargain. Read in the light of the circumstances in which the deed was made, the expression means that those loans and debts were made over absolutely to the Bank of Montreal as agents and attorneys for the purpose of discharging that bank's obligations to its outside creditors. It cannot be doubted that, on the face of the deed, it was intended that there had been any profit on that part of the transaction, which was most improbable, if not impossible, the profit would not have been shared by the Bank of Montreal."

"As regards payment in respect to goodwill, it is clear there was no agreement on the part of the Bank of Montreal to sell the goodwill or blind itself (as it was) to the Bank of Montreal, so the Bank of Montreal, real acquired an indirect benefit by taking upon itself and fulfilling the obligations of the Ontario Bank to its customers and taking over such of the premises of the Ontario Bank as it chose to purchase."

The judgment is now empowered to go ahead and collect an item of about one million and a half dollars, and as the assets of the defunct institution, the Bank of Montreal, are valued at $250,000, the shareholders of the Ontario Bank are worth it, financially, will be called upon for their double liability under the Bank Act.

PROSPEROUS SOCIETY

Reports Presented at Annual Meeting of Presbytery W.H.M.S.

The fifth annual meeting of the Toronto Presbytery branch of the Women's Home Missionary Society was held yesterday in Cooke's Church. The reports showed an advance in every department. Four auxiliaries have been added. Forty-two bales of supplies, weighing 4700 lbs., two organs, and a large quantity of literature have been sent to home mission stations. The receipts totaled $6000, an increase of nearly $1000.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Logie; vice-presidents, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. McKinnell, Mrs. Britton, Mrs. Rae, Miss Scott, Overend, Mrs. F. W. Anderson; treasurer, Mrs. Gregg; secretaries, Mrs. Melville White; corresponding Miss Gibson; supplies, Miss McDonald; pioneer, Miss Prittle; hospital, Mrs. G. S. Young; deaconess, Mrs. Watson; educational, Mrs. McLaughlin; home helpers, Mrs. Russell; the press, Mrs. Erickson Brown; auxiliary programs, Mrs. J. M. West; mission band committee, with Miss Riddell as convener, Miss Dickson, Miss Christian, Miss Somerville, Miss Hendry, Miss Hoey, Miss Hozack, Miss Gartschore, Miss Fraser, Miss Wingate, Mrs. C. P. Smith.

The question of amalgamation with W.F.M.S. is at present under consideration. Duncan McDonald, who had assisted during the summer at the Institution of the Church in the north end of Winnipeg, gave glimpses of the work among the foremen, and Miss Sprague, who has just retired from the staff of the Anna Turnbull Hospital at Wawask, Saskatchewan, 35 miles north of Winnipeg, described the work of the missionaries in the Ruthenian colony.

Refuse Superannuation Allowance. The finance committee of the board of education yesterday reported against the recommendation of the management committee to give Mrs. L. Polley, formerly principal of Perthshire school, a superannuation allowance of $200 per annum. All were of the opinion that it would open the way to many less worthy cases. Insufficient funds caused the setting aside of the recommendation to purchase 2000 copies of "The Cotta's Saturday Night" and a similar number of "The Wanderings of Ulysses" for use in the senior fourth book class.

Eczema is Not Fatal

But Its Torture Increases as It Spreads Over the Body Until It Makes Life a Burden—It is Cured by

Dr. Chase's Ointment

So many have eczema of one form or another and do not know it. The constant itching annoys them, but they scarcely realize how the disease is gradually spreading and becoming more aggravated.

Particularly during cold weather, when exposed to sudden changes and dampness, this ailment becomes more severe, and during the night, when the body is warm, suffering is intense and sleep almost impossible.

There is a cure in the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. This healing, soothing preparation brings almost instant relief from the distressing itching.

In the course of a few days the healing process sets in, and it is only a question of time and persistent application of the ointment until cure is effected.

Mr. Fred W. Clark, Petworth, Adington County, Ont., writes: "My mother had eczema in both legs for about twenty years. She doctored for a long time, and tried everything for it, but got no relief until a friend advised her to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, which she got."

"She found that Dr. Chase's Ointment gave her great relief, so she got some more and continued this treatment faithfully, until now she is entirely cured of eczema. I don't think anyone could have this disease worse than she did."
