SEVENTEENTH YEAR

It Was So Ordered by the House of Commons.
CONSERVATIVES DEFENDED
But Government Members Voted for the Committee's Report.

Hear. Davin and Craig Made a Strong Defence of the Men, and J. Ross Robertson Asked for the Scotch Verdict, But All to No Purpose—Col. Prior Don't Want Mr. Martin for the R. C. Judgeship—Immigration Discussed in Supply.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—(Special.)—The whole of the afternoon sitting was taken up discussing the report of the Debates Committee recommending the dismissal of the three French translators for taking part in the last election against Liberal candidates.

Mr. Davin reviewed the position of the translators, and quoted the rule laid down by Mr. Laurier in 1888, when Mr. Chapleau complained of insults offered to him by Messrs. Tremblay and Poirer, namely, that they were during recess permitted to be engaged in active journalism, and hence in politics, "and now," continued Mr. Davin, "is my hon. friend, for the sake of gratifying the wolf-like passions of some of his followers, going to trample in the gutter the white flower of a leader's blameless life?"

Mr. Craig made a strong speech in favor of the translators. He quoted Mr. Laurier's speech in 1888, and said that it was an argument he wished to use himself, viz: These men did not know, they were not engaged in anything wrong. Let them off this time, but lay down the rule from now on that they shall not participate in politics. Don't judge past actions by a new rule. He commended the views of Mr. Mulock, but thought that a temporary employment was different from a permanent civil servant. Many translators were newspaper correspondents, and he thought they should be allowed to do newspaper work, but not to do as newspaper writers to interfere in politics, had been approved by the Liberals when in Opposition.

MR. ROBERTSON SAYS FORGIVE.
After remarks from Messrs. Casey and Poirer, Mr. Robertson (Asquith) held that the case of these French translators was different from that of permanent civil servants, and that they were allowed to pursue other vocations during recess. But they should have some public platform in denunciation of the party leaders, seeing that they receive a substantial portion of their income from the whole country. The majority in this instance seemed to believe in the principle that the voters belong to the spoils, the majority that the spoils belong to the country may with impunity be employed as the soldier of one party.

MR. BRITTON SAYS FORGIVE.

Whenever (Mr. L. Laurier) saw anything appear in a newspaper he was disposed to think the very reverse was British Isles.

Mr. Foster: How long since? Mr. Laurier: Since I have been reading the Conservative press (laughter). With regard to Mr. Martin, he was surprised to hear Mr. Prior's observation that only last night Hugh John Macdonald had eulogized Mr. Martin as being a very able man and would leave Mr. Prior to settle it with Mr. Macdonald as to Mr. Martin's qualifications. Ministerial laughter and applause.

IN SUPPLY.
The House went into Committee of Supply on the immigration vote.

Mr. Foster asked for a statement of the Government's policy in regard to immigration. While there were some parts of the late Government's policy of which he did not approve, he did not believe that there was any prospect of directing immigration from the Western States to Canada. It was obvious that the fertile lands of the United States for settlement was pretty well exhausted, and it was necessary now to go to the more distant lands.

THREW THE CATHOLICS DOWN

Laurier Government's Policy on the School Question.

NATIONAL SCHOOLS ONLY.

Liberals Think That a Remedial Bill Would Wreck Their Party.

And Just Now With Their Hands on the Strings of Office They Have No Intention of Committing Suicide—Mr. McCarthy Satisfied—A Movement to Rescue the Schools of Quebec From the Control of the Roman Catholic Clergy—New Liberal Policy Truly.

A gentleman who is in the councils of the Grit party, is a stalwart Protestant, and has been in close terms of intimacy with the leaders of the Government, declared yesterday that, as far as the Laurier Government are concerned, their policy on the Manitoba school question is to all intents and purposes settled. Premier Greenway has adhered faithfully to his position and gave the Liberal Government the same terms exactly as he offered Sir Donald Smith. In this position he has been steadily supported by D'Alton McCarthy and Mr. Sifton, and Mr. Laurier, finding he could obtain nothing better, has finally decided to accept them. He was in a measure compelled to do this, as D'Alton McCarthy held the key to the position. It was necessary that Brandon should be secured for Mr. Sifton, and Mr. McCarthy would not give way until he received assurance that the Manitoba National schools would not be interfered with. Mr. Sifton goes into the Cabinet and takes the portfolio of Minister of the Interior, in the very large measure as a reward for the safety of the National school system.

The delay in announcing the final terms of settlement has been made because of the opposition of Messrs. Geoffrey and Fitzpatrick, whose political lives are at stake. They cannot, however, stem the current of the stream which has set in in favor of the National school system.

D'Alton McCarthy has also expressed his unqualified approval of the terms of settlement. He has already written to Mr. Sifton, and Mr. Laurier has convinced their leaders that a Remedial Bill would result in wrecking the Government and Messrs. Mulock, Paterson, Lister, Sutherland and Charlton have all given solemn assurances to their Orange supporters that the Government will not attempt what they admit will be a suicidal policy.

In this connection the gentleman from whom the above information was obtained also stated that the Liberals of Quebec are organizing a movement upon which they hope to secure possession of the Provincial Treasury at the next elections. That movement is nothing less than the substitution of a National school system for Quebec. It is proposed to take the control of the schools out of the hands of the church and substitute therefor a board of trustees, elected upon the basis as the Public School Boards of Ontario. The teaching will also be taken from the clerical members of the church, and only duly qualified teachers possessing certificates of proficiency will be allowed to teach. Some of the extremists in the movement are the Veterans and secure their approval.

Such is the scheme by which Mr. Tarte and his fellow-Liberals hope to again secure possession of the treasury chest of Quebec.

NO SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT.

Archbishop Langevin Sticks to His Gun—Insists that the School Question Be Settled by the School Question Committee.

Winnipeg, Sept. 24.—(Special.)—Published interviews with Archbishop Langevin since his return home from Rome indicate that his position on the school question is not in the least changed. His Grace demands the re-establishment of separate schools, and intimates that nothing short of that will prove satisfactory. It is thus evident that any arrangement between Mr. Laurier and Messrs. Greenway and Sifton will not settle the controversy.

Editor Richardson of The Tribune telegraphs his paper from Ottawa: "There is no doubt that the Minister of the Interior will not be settled till after the school question is finally disposed of."

Liberals are falling over each other to deny that they will drop the protest against Hugh John Macdonald. They are so much agitated over the report that it looks as if there might be something in it.

OUR ROSSLAND SPECIAL.
Another Big Discovery of Rich Ore—Working Night and Day on the California.

Roseland, B. C., Sept. 24.—(Special to The World, via Spokane, Wash.)—It is reported that rich free milling ore has been discovered at Forty-nine Mile Creek, ten miles from New Hazelton. The lead, which is three feet wide, has been traced four thousand feet.

Work is being carried on day and night in the California mine. There are now two tunnels with one shaft, and the showing is good.

Many claims are being sold and business is brisk.

The arrivals here continue to be numerous. A. R. M.

TO WASH OUT MILLIONS.
The Work Now Before the Cariboo Miner—$2,300,000 in Sight.

Montreal, Sept. 24.—(Special.)—The World was shown a plan to-day of the Cariboo mine, from which the block of gold valued at $2,300,000 was mined a short time ago. At present there are one million cubic yards of uncovered gravels ready to be washed, and the engineers in charge estimate that the output will, from this area, be $5 per cubic yard, or a total of $5,000,000.

A gentleman, however, who is completely ignorant of the Cariboo mine, has been misled and has been seen in the streets of Montreal, Sept. 24.—(Special.)—The World was shown a plan to-day of the Cariboo mine, from which the block of gold valued at $2,300,000 was mined a short time ago.
