

SUBSIDY OR NO SUBSIDY THAT WAS THE QUESTION

House Bused With Railway Votes—Mr. Brock and Sir William Clash.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The railway subsidy resolutions were taken in committee in the afternoon, and the mileage subsidy on the Ottawa Northern, and Western for completing the Hull connection was reduced from four miles to one and one-quarter miles.

Some question having been raised as to the reason for delay in completing the railway into the Icelandic settlement of Gimli, Manitoba, Mr. McCrea of Selkirk explained that the subsidy was largely due to scarcity of labor in the west. Owing to this cause the Canadian Northern had not been able to complete this year more than 100 miles, instead of 400 miles intended to be built.

What of the G.T.P.? W. F. Maclean observed that if labor was so scarce as Mr. McCrea intimated there was no chance of getting the National Transcontinental Railway thru in 20 years. He suggested that the government take some steps in order to assure the carrying out of their promise to have the railway completed in five years.

Mr. Emmerson reminded the committee as to this Gimli branch which was to be built by the C.P.R. He said that a director of that company had said in the House that he was opposed to granting railway subsidies. He supposed the director was voicing the views of the company in this respect.

Mr. Richardson of South Grey offered a general protest to the policy of subsidizing railways in the old provinces. Something like six millions of dollars had been devoted for 1500 miles, and now the government had resolutions for 4000 miles of new lines, for which subsidies amounting to from sixteen to twenty millions of dollars were voted.

For a new country the policy might be wise but a majority of the votes were for the older provinces. Owing to the government policy of subsidizing railways, railway promotion had become a profession and a fine art. Men expert in the art of getting subsidies were profited most. He also protested against the action of the government bringing down to date in the session resolutions for subsidies which could not receive full consideration in a depleted House.

Mr. Henderson of Halifax had a general protest to the policy of subsidizing railways in the old provinces. Something like six millions of dollars had been devoted for 1500 miles, and now the government had resolutions for 4000 miles of new lines, for which subsidies amounting to from sixteen to twenty millions of dollars were voted.

organization, and they are reported to have little desire to cultivate closer acquaintance. The foregoing arrangements have been completed and the proceeds of the new stock issue of $200,000 paid in full. The company is to have the 15-cent issue securities to an amount not exceeding $6,078,200. The securities are to constitute a first mortgage upon the works and to be payable in fifty years with interest at 3 per cent. per annum. The proceeds are to be used only in actual construction work. The only security to be given is the stock and principal upon these $6,078,200 of securities. The works are to be completed not later than Dec. 1, 1905.

The directors of the company is to consist of eleven members, of which the government shall appoint three. The government shall also have the right to fix the tolls and rates for the use of the bridge, and all railways shall be admitted on equal terms. After the completion of the work the company having first paid out of its income legitimate running expenses and interest, shall pay to the government annually for the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the purpose of equaling all of bonded indebtedness, a sum equal to half of one per cent on all bonded indebtedness.

The government reserves to itself the right at any time to take over the whole enterprise on paying to the shareholders an amount of their stock not to exceed $25,000, with simple interest at 5 per cent. A month's notice is to be given by the government before this right shall be exercised. The government also reserves the right at any time to pay to the Province or City of Quebec the whole amount of their subsidies, and take over their whole interest in the enterprise.
