OLGA NETHERSOLE.

The following is an extract from the New York Herald of Jan. 31. Miss Nethersole appears at the Grand here on May 17: "Miss Olga Nethersole has been seen in this city before now in the title role of Camille, which she played at Wallack's last night. But she gave last night's performance a touch of novelty by making it a costume production. The characters were clothed after the fashion of 1843, in which year the story is laid. The women wore hoopskirts not quite so exaggerated as those of a later period, and low bodices cut straight around. Doubtless the costumes varied from those of today in other details too subtle for the male mind to grasp. The cut of the men's clothes verged on the 'incroyable.' These costumes of 1843 added an interest of novelty and curiosity. It might have been supposed that Camille in hoopskirts would appear grotesque, barber chai present day, with its flare and flounceif the male mind may venture to con-sider such matters—makes the hoop, on the stage at least, come upon one with less of a shock than might otherwise have been the case. Miss Nethersole's Camille is, as heretofore, a direct and strong personation. She does not overload her interpretations with details. Like an impressionist painter, she produces her effects on broad lines. Her Camille is always interesting, at times thrilling, and at others pathetic."

LONDON'S NEW POSTMASTER

Mr. Thomas A. Browne Receives the Appointment.

We understand that Mr. Thomas A. Browne, who has for many years acted as the secretary of the Western Fair Association, has been appointed postmaster at London, in succession to Mr. Dawson, who will be superannuated. after long and faithful service, on July 1 next. We congratulate Mr. Browne Holy Trinity. The procession then, on his preferment. During the years with the archbishop as before, in the that he has been the right-hand man of successive presidents of the Western Fair, the new postmaster has shown himself to be a man of excellent executive ability, and his experience in managing affairs and men will have fitted him to make an ideal postmaster. Our only regret is his retirement from the position which he has so well filled in the public interest. It will be very difficult to get a successor equally equipped for the important duties which have year after year been performed with exemplary fidelity by him.

PARE AND HOLDEN

Napanee, Ont., May 3.-There are no new developments in the case of Pare and Holden. The authorities have telegraphed a description of the men all over the country.

Wm. H. Ponton, the man who holds the center of the stage in the Dominion Bank robbery case, is in Toronto at present, engaged as cigar tra-veler. "All I know about the escape is what I saw in the early edition of the papers, and I don't want to say anything about it," said Ponton yesterday. Provincial Detective Greer, who had charge of the Ponton case for the crown, only last week completed the service of the numerous witnesses for the prosecution. The crown's witnesses numbered between 40 and 50, and the trial was to come off May 15.

IN ROOM SIX

Opposition Caucus at the Capital-Talk of Protesting Brockville.

[Special to Advertiser per C. P. R.] Ottawa, Ont., May 3.-An opposition caucus was held this forenoon in room No. 6. The party is getting so small now that a committee room is sufficient to hold all that will attend. The course which it is intended to pursue in regard to the budget, was discussed, and it is understood that a decision was reached not to move any amendment to it. This would mean that the debate is not likely to be a prolonged one. Nearly every one had his say on the address. It is said that the question of protesting Brockville was discussed, and a committee was appointed to look after this and certain other political matters. meting lasted two hours and a half. Mr. Costigan does not attend any caucus, and Sam Hughes and others were not present today. Sir Charles Tupper presided. A large delegation waited on the premier and Mr. Sifton yesterday afternoon asking a subsidy of $8,000 per mile for 300 miles of the Victoria Vancouver and Eastern Railway. This road is intended to run from the Pacific to the Boundary Creek district.

to the people a large measure of relief, although not at present reducing the duty on oil." NO TARIFF CHANGES

Mr. Fielding announced that there would be no tariff changes this session. There was a certain reasonable necessity of tariff stability in the interest of business. Again, in the tariff of 1897, the Liberals legislated not only for the moment, but for the future, but that tariff only came fully into operation in August last, so the country now had a tariff only nine months old. There was another reason—that the joint high commission was to reassemble shortly in Quebec, when trade matters would be taken up. It had been said that the people of Canada did not want reciprocity. Perhaps that was putting it a little too strong, for there were people near the boundary and people down by the sea who would always be at a serious disadvantage if deprived of the trade relations which nature intended them to have. Yet Canada was not so anxious for reciprocity as a few years ago. (Opposition "Hear, hear.") Canadians were now devoting themselves to cultivating the home market, and pushing their trade abroad. Nevertheless, there never was, and he trusted there never will be, a time when reciprocity between the United States and manifested in the past to bring about satisfactory trade relations with our American brethren. MR. FIELDING'S WARNING. In concluding, Mr. Fielding said Canada had reason to be proud of her position. He gave some sensible advice to the commercial interests. He said: "The experience of the past teaches that the pendulum which has now for two or three years been swinging strongly in Canada's favor, may soon swing back. It will be well, then, if in our national housekeeping and in the business world we endeavor to make a wise use of our present opportunities, so that when less prosperous times come to us-as come they will—we shall be able to bear them easily. Let our aim be, not to have what is commonly called a "boom" in trade, but to lay strongly the founda-tions of our business, so that Canada

WANT A TRUCE FOR THREE MONTHS

Second Conference Between the Filipinos and Gen. Otis a Failure.

Manila, May 3-12:10 p.m.-There was a conference lasting two hours today between Maj.-Gen. Otis and the envoys who came here from Gen. Antonio Luna, bearing a proposal for a cessation of hostilities. Gen. Otis adhered to his refusal to recognize the so-called government of the insurgents.

The Filipinos now ask for a truce of three months to enable Aguinaldo to summon the congress and consult with the insurgent leaders on others of the islands. The envoys admitted the contention of Gen. Otis that Aguinaldo has little control over affairs outside of the Island of Luzon.

In regard to the release of Spanish prisoners in the hands of the Filipinos, Major Manuel Arguelles said that he considered them as being in the same category with the Americans, the United States being the successor of Spain in dominion over the islands, and acquiring by treaty all Spanish rights and obligations. After the close of the conference with Gen. Otis, the Filipino envoys had a consultation with the United States Philippine commission-

The admiral adds that he is making further inquiries as to the fate of the other OTIS IS FIRM.

Manila, May 3-8 p.m.-The Filipino envoys, Major Manuel Arguelles and Lieut. Jose Bernal, have abandoned the pretense under which they came to General Otis that they represented General Antonio Luna, and today they announced that they came as representatives of Aguinaldo himself. The two emissaries used all their wiles to secure a reply from General Otis to the letter from Senor Mabini, Aguinaldo's prime minister, which they presented to General Otis yesterday, but General Otis declined to make any reply on the ground that to do so would be equivalent to a trecognition of the so-called government of the Filipinos.

A fire of unknown origin destroyed Charles Bacharach's clothing store, at Thirteenth street and Ridge avenue, Philadelphia, and before the flames were subdued about fifteen other buildings, principally small dwellings, were badly damaged. Loss, $150,000. The appellate division of the supreme court in Brooklyn borough, York, has handed down a decision wherein it is held that the surplus of the Equitable Life Assurance Society should be divided among the policy-holders. The surplus now amounts to about $59,000,000. Mrs. Willam Hyckman and Mrs. H. A. Hassall, of Stockton, Cal., were found dead in bed together on Tuesday in a lodging-house. A pistol which lay between them had evidently fallen from the hand of Mrs. Hassall, who had shot Mrs. Hyckman and herself. Mrs. Has-sall seemed to be infatuated with Mrs.
