MARTIN RIDES 3 WINNERS FLECTION DAY AT LATONIA

Sally Preston Wins the Handicap -Large Crowd and Spirited Racing.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 3 .- (Special.)-Jockey Eddie Martin's riding was a feature of the election day's races at Latopia this afternoon. Martin piloted three winners in Wintergreen, Still Alarm and Firancier, the latter an 8 to 1 chance. In addition he was second with Director in the third race. One of the largest crowds of the meeting was in attendance and some excellent sport was witnessed. It was a good day for favorites, four wellplayed first choices winning. The first race went to Denver Girl, a 20 to 1 shot. Al Mueller ran a sparkling race in the feature event, a sprint over the six fur-longs courses winning from Director in the fast time of 1.12 2-5. The winner was heavily played to win this event, and his victory was a popular one. The weather was good and the track fast.

FIRST RACE-51/2 furlongs: 1. Denver Girl, 100 (Pickens), 20 to 1, & to 1 and 4 to 1. 2 Ludhania, 107 (Troxler), 2 to 1, even, Referee Explains His Decision. The fight in England Monday night between Jim Britt and John Summers went the whole course, and, the neither man was exhausted, it seemed to many of the onlookers as the Summers did most of the feading. Indeed, his form surprised his most sangulae supporters. Britt in onlookers as the Summers and the reading. Indeed, his form surprised his most sanguine supporters. Britt in the fourth round forced his opponent to the ropes with a well-directed blow on the chest, but Summers was very cool, and before the round was ended he got in another blow on Britt's chin.

The sixth and seventh rounds were even, altho Summers drew blood from the American's right eye with a terrific blow. The last two rounds were very lively. Both men were going strongly, but Summers continually landed on his opponent's face.

A section of the onlookers repeatedly protested against Britt's hugging and clinching. Britt scored frequently at infighting, at which he was superior, and did fine execution with both hands. Both did fine execution with both hands. Both-men were cautioned for clinching. It was a good fight and a very fast one. So confident were Summers' supporters that he was the victor that at the end of that he was the victor that at the rind of the fight they sprang into the ring and lifted him on their shoulders in anticipa-tion of his triumph, but to Summers' dis-nay and that of his friends, Referee Wat-son gave the fight to Britt. This caused indignation from the Englishman's sup-porters, who threatened to make a gen-

H. E. Cassidy, counsel for the crown, declared in court to-day that the conviction was fully warranted by the evidence, and then engaged in a heated battle with the chief justice over the merits of the case.

merits of the case.

"You cannot always catch a man red-handed," said Cassidy.

The judge: No, but you want something more than a string of probabilities. You want reasonable certainty.

Mr. Cassidy sharply replied: "The trial of the murder case does not depend upon your lordship's view as trial judge. Your lordship took one view and the jury took another, and it was for the jury to pronounce upon the case."

The court: That does not trouble me. simply say that my mind was in condition of doubt.
