PURPOSE OF LAW IS NOT VENGEANCE

Raney Overrides License Board, Releasing O.T.A. Offender.

Attorney-General Raney has made public his reasons for ordering the release of S. Applebaum of Toronto from the jail at Lindsay, where he was serving a six-month term for a second infringement of the Ontario temperance act. He says the law does not seek vengeance, that it exists for the prevention of crime, and for the purpose of reformation. This young man, no doubt, had his lesson, but I declined to act until the enormity of the offence was impressed upon him. It is not the length of the term that a man feels sometimes so much as the fact that he is going to jail. I have no doubt Applebaum's business suffering and we don't want to see him crushed financially.

It is of interest to note that the Ontario license board had refused to order Applebaum's release before the matter was placed before the attorney-general's department.

Mr. Justice Middleton reserved his decision in the action brought by Mrs. Ida Dunbar of Trenton against her father, Charles V. M. Temple, in which she asks for an accounting of the estate left by her mother, upon which defendant was appointed executor. Plaintiff states that the estate has greatly decreased in value since the death of her mother, and that certain transfers of the estate to a daughter and son of deceased were illegal. During the last month the soldier settlement board has enlisted the help of the Red Cross for soldiers' families who have gone on the land and have not yet succeeded in making a start.
