ENGLISH ACTOR TO PLAY MOVIES; STAGE GOSSIP

W. S. HARKINS' VISIT

Some People He Has Brought Here—New York Action Against Staging "The Unborn"—Mrs. Fiske to Return—New Plays

Sir Herbert Tree, English actor-manager, arrived in New York this morning. Sir Herbert will remain in New York until today when he will leave for California to spend several months acting for moving pictures.

"It has been almost seventeen years since I last acted in New York," said Sir Herbert in his room at the Ritz-Carlton, "and I am anxious to give some of the productions I have made since then. I shall probably include 'Henry VIII,' 'The Merry Wives of Windsor,' and some of my other Shakespearean productions in my repertoire."

In California Mr. Tree will act some of his famous roles for the Triangle Film Corporation under the direction of D. W. Griffith. It is said he will receive the largest salary ever paid an actor by the movies.

Contracts have been signed for Mrs. Fiske's return to the stage this season under the management of Madison Conrey and John D. Williams, by arrangement with Harrison Grey Fiske. This will be the first time that Mrs. Fiske has appeared under any other management than that of her husband, but in staging the comedy that will return Mrs. Fiske to the theatre this season Mr. Fiske will be actively associated with her. Mr. Conrey and Mr. Williams, the first for many years general manager for Henry W. Savage and the latter business manager of the Charles Frohman Company, have formed a new producing firm, and will present Mrs. Fiske in a comedy entitled "Erstwhile Susan." She will play the role of Susan Dreary, a part said to be as rich in comedy possibilities as Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh, which Mrs. Fiske played in the

Had Palpitation OF THE HEART ALSO WEAK AND DIZZY SPELLS.

When the heart begins to palpitate it will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over your whole system, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells, and if you should happen to wake up in the night with your heart palpitating, and that "all gone" sinking sensation, you feel as if you were surely going to die.

When you feel this way, you may be sure that both your heart and nerves are out of order, and what you require is a real good heart and nerve tonic; one that will build up and strengthen both the heart and nerve system.

For this purpose nothing can equal Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mrs. J. S. Nicholls, Listowel, Ont., writes: "I was weak and run down, my heart would palpitate, and I would take weak and dizzy spells. A friend advised me to take your Heart and Nerve Pills, so I started at once, and found that I felt much stronger, and my heart was ever so much better in a short time. I cannot praise your medicine too highly for it has done me a world of good. My husband has also been bothered with heart trouble, ever since childhood, and finds great relief by using your valuable pills."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 60 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

DANDRUFF GOES! HAIR GETS THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments. Try This!

Hair stops coming out and every particle of dandruff disappears

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, wavy and wavy, and will have an appearance of abundance, an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—about all.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers or rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, migrates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

endeavors, new stunts and new risks in the exciting race for thrills. However, thrills should not be put into pictures merely because they are thrills. Rather there should be a definite and logical reason together with a tense dramatic story.

The House Next Door

The members of the Loyalist Dramatic Club who this week presented "The House Next Door" in the Opera House, gave a performance of the play which was a real production. The story of the play appealed to all who saw it, and the presentation was attended with a showing of cleverness in acting and direction, reflecting much upon Mrs. A. C. Wilson, under whose supervision the piece was given. The specialties by the St. Vincent's Alumnae and the Harmony Girls Club were well received and the performance each time it was given well merited the generous applause bestowed. The proceeds are for the Red Cross.

Harkins' Coming

The visit of W. S. Harkins to St. John is being anticipated with considerable interest. In the past Mr. Harkins has brought some clever people, and given some excellent plays, and his assurance contained in a letter to W. C. McKay, manager of the Opera House, that he is "bringing together a capable company in New York" is taken to mean just what is said. Mr. Harkins will be here for the holiday season, opening on Christmas afternoon.

Many of those who were at one time or other in St. John with Mr. Harkins have since attained stardom, and their names have been emblazoned in electric over Broadway houses. Others have won distinction and fame in the wider stage, and the names such as herein mentioned should be familiar to all playgoers in this city and elsewhere.

They are people who have been seen in companies brought to St. John by the genial W. S.—Emma, Madeline, Will Whitecar, Joe Kilgour, Bruce McLean, Harry Beresford, Emma Dunn, Harry Elliott, Dustin and Wm. Farnum, Ruby Bridges, A. H. Stuart, Geo. C. Pearce, Robt. McWade, Jr., Willette Kershaw, Geo. C. Ober, Lattie Williams, Ed Heron, Washington, Melville, Eugene Powers, Frank Powell, Mary Ryan, Geo. Bichous, the late John Bunney, and many others.

Change to Musical Comedy

A good musical comedy company has been billed for the Opera House to open on December 14. It is under the management of A. A. Marcus.

The young Adams Co., which played here last season with success, are now in Prince Edward Island. Their repertoire includes "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Red Cross Nurse," "A Butterfly on the Wheel," "The Sinner-Sinner Peggy," "Such a Little Queen," "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," "East Lynne," "St. Elmo," and "The Great John Canton."

"At last I am a happy woman, and on the last lap of my long journey!" says Violet Heming, a young woman in a long white dress, who is the heroine of the new play, "Under Fire," at the Hudson Theatre, New York.

"I have been 'on my way to London' for four years, and just as I was despairing of ever getting there Mr. Mergue comes and tells me that 'Under Fire' will be presented there if the New York run ever finishes! I believed that 'The Lie' would go to London. I believe that I would be allowed to play 'Under Cover' in London."

"I came to 'Under Fire' because they promised me London, and I—though I am a little disheartened—said: 'All right! Lo, here it is!'"

Miss Heming's long journey to London is chiefly because she was born there, and that all her family have distinguished themselves on the English stage.

The Unborn

The license of the Princess Theatre, New York, was revoked this week to prevent production of the "medical play," "The Unborn." Later, however, an injunction was served at the playhouse, staying this action until further hearing, and the play went on.

Between the second and third acts Dr. H. I. Huiszden of Chicago, surgeon in the Baby Bollinger case, made his scheduled appearance and a speech.

Trouble for "The Unborn" began late in the afternoon. P. Ray Constable, manager of the Princess, was served with the notice that his license had been revoked, by George Bell, Commissioner of Licenses.

This order was issued by Bell on complaint of Mr. Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral. In a letter to the commissioner, Mr. Lavelle said: "His Eminence, Cardinal Farley, has heard of this play and is anxious that everything possible be done to prevent its public presentation."

Helton Holmes, a motion picture actress, well known in St. John, says the motto of today is action. To one in the vortex of a thrill-filled motion picture career this fact comes with compelling force. Mediocre plots and aimless stories have given way to vivid stories carrying heart-stirring "punches." These latter require somewhat of mental mechanism on the part of the writer, great skill on the part of the producer and limitless daring on the part of the actor.

There is a certain witchery about doing daring things that becomes part of one's being and urges one onward to new

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we were glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription, can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription. All druggists have D. D. D., 25c and 50c. Drop into our store today, just to talk over the merits of this wonderful Prescription. Ask also about D. D. D. Soap.

stage, and that she left there at twelve the persuasion of Charles Frohman, to be in the United States "only long enough to play 'Wendy' in 'Peter Pan,' and then go straight home."

John E. Campbell, art director of the Irish Theatre of America, has been engaged to play a leading part in a new educational feature film, and has gone to Chicago for that purpose.

Bertha Mann, who played with Nicholas Orloff in a tragic little one-act called "Vengeance," several years ago, is to revive that playlet next spring.

Helton Evly is to make a vaudeville debut in a playlet called "Guilty as Charged." It was written by Irvin Cobb, author of "Black Home" and a few other plays, playlets, books and special articles. Irvin Cobb's work.

The Judge Priest stories by Irvin S. Cobb have been dramatized by Bayard Veiller, and the play, which bears the title "Black Home," is now being presented in New York. It is a melodrama, depending for lighter relief on the quaint old Southern character types, among the outstanding ones being Willis P. Sweatman in a black-face hit, a line in which he is inimitable. At the opening of the play Robert Carter comes into the south to campaign against child labor in the cotton mills, and on arriving at Waynesville finds that Mr. Wayne, owner of the largest cotton mill in the country, has arranged to deter him from making any investigation. Mr. Wayne is a young county prosecutor, Cassius Nash, who seeks to be circuit judge in place of Judge Priest. Satterfield, a factory bully, has been told to handle Carter on sight, and when he attempts to find Carter quite able to defend himself. Satterfield draws a knife, and Carter, with a blow over the head, kills him in self-defence. FIELD COMFORTS ASSOCIATION TO BE IN THE FIELD

Authoritative Statement by Sir Sam Hughes as to Bodies Authorized to Receive Donations for Soldiers

There has been some criticism of the Field Comforts Association to the effect that it had no official standing. This has led to an enquiry at Ottawa, and to the following announcement by Sir Sam Hughes:—

"There are only three organizations recognized by the War Department for the receipt of donations for the Canadian soldiers, the Field Comforts Association, the Red Cross Society and the Canadian War Contingent Association. Sir Sam Hughes further says:—

ed, Miss Plummer and Miss Arnold, two most estimable young ladies, were given permission to visit the soldiers and supply them absolutely free of charge with field comforts of every description. No other organization was then in the field or offered any assistance. These young ladies worked incessantly and won the respect and support of all the officers and men. A unanimous request was made that the two ladies should accompany the first contingent to Salisbury Plain where they worked incessantly through the long winter.

Were Given Rank.

The minister at first refused to recognize them or grant them any commission, but the officers and men made out such a strong case that the young ladies were allowed to go, and were given the rank of Honorary Lieutenant, the same as the nurses. For the last few months Miss Hughes, daughter of the minister, has been assisting these ladies in England, but is returning to Canada.

"Soon after, the Red Cross Society came into the field and, through the late Col. Burdall, obtained recognition for several of their lady officials as Honorary Lieutenants. It was pointed out that it would be of great service in their work and it has undoubtedly proven to be so. The Red Cross Society, however, in no sense undertook to do the work Miss Plummer and Miss Arnold were doing. Their duties, it is understood, were with the wounded.

"Later on, the Canadian War Contingent Association was formed in England. Lady Perley is president and J. G. Colquhoun, C. M. G., the manager. The expressed intention of its work was to raise funds and commodities from Canadians and their friends in England for Canadian soldiers. It is understood that the scope has been enlarged since and that contributions are now received from Canada.

Transported Free of Cost.

"General Macdonald, Quartermaster-General of Canada, from the outset has received supplies for the Red Cross Society and the War Contingent Association and transported them free of cost to England, but it is only lately that the Field Comforts Association learned of this and has taken advantage of the same privilege.

"Each of these societies in its own sphere is doing excellent work and it is life and petty," said General Hughes, "for anyone to circulate reports that any one of them is not entitled to recognition."

Everybody! Hear these FIRST Records of Marimba Music

Marimba music is a new sensation to Canadian ears. Favorite compositions played on the marimba assume a new individuality—the effects obtained are brilliant and startling.

This little known Central American instrument has been one of the features of the San Francisco Fair, under the able presentation of the Hurtado Bros. of Guatemala, and the Columbia Company is the first to present its novel music in record form.

The marimba, as pictured above, is over twelve feet long and has wooden keys as in the xylophone and is played in a similar manner. Unlike it, however, each key of the marimba is equipped with a novel "resonator"—a triangular, wooden tube that reverberates with tremendous sonority as the key is struck.

Columbia Double-Disco Records No. A-1832, Suppe's "Poet and Peasant," and "Pique Dame," and No. A-1845, Strauss' "Blue Danube," and "The Three Jewels," two-step by Moreno are genuine musical novelties of extraordinary interest. The resonant, booming base-accords; the sparkling, vivid "rilling" as the scale is sharply ascended; the new impressiveness or gaiety each passage gains in this unique interpretation are delightful indeed and will give you that new thrill—marimba music at its best.

Your nearest Columbia dealer will gladly play them for you, without obligation, at your request. Price, 85c. each.
