DECEMBER.—PERENNIAL PHLOX.—This plant is to the herbaceous garden what the geranium is to the window-garden—hardy, free-flowering and of the easiest cultivation. It comes into bloom in July and August, and continues until the latter part of September. It grows to a height of three feet, and a foot of the upper portion of the stalk will be completely covered with flowers of about the size of a silver half-dollar. The colors range through all shades of red, crimson, pink, mauve and purple to the purest milk-white. Some varieties are striped with contrasting colors, while other varieties are marked in the centre or on the base of each petal. No flower gives a more brilliant effect. Those who have never grown it will be surprised at the results to be obtained from planting it in masses or in rows, with the colors arranged in such a manner as to bring out the beauty of each by striking contrast. A most beautiful bed is made by planting rose-colored varieties in the centre with white ones on the outside. The plants form strong roofs, which can be divided, from time to time, until one has as many plants as she cares for.
