probability, declares a Central News despatch from Edinburgh, that the Scottish temperance vote, which in 1918 was cast solidly for the Coalition, will be cast at the forthcoming elections in favor of candidates supporting Mr. Lloyd George. Leading temperance organizations are meeting to discuss the situation, adds the message, and many minor conferences already have passed resolutions in support of the retiring premier.

Considerable interest was aroused in London temperance circles over this report. It was pointed out by an official of the United Kingdom Alliance, the principal British temperance organizations, that such an attitude would mark a departure from previous stands of the Scottish temperance organizations, which heretofore had always upported individuals declaring themselves in favor of temperance principles, regardless of party alliance.

If the report is accurate, however, it is estimated such an attitude by the Scottish temperance voters would mean approximately 400,000 votes, indiging from the anti-license vote at the last election. It is considered untikely in temperance advocates will upport the Unionists in the forthcoming election, as Sir George Younger, present chairman of the Unionist party, is a prominent Scottish brewer, but whether they will throw the weight of their influence solidly on the other side or with any party is considered here as a highly speculative question.

If constipation persists in spite of all their efforts they take the mildest, most easily tolerated laxative obtainable, and not a drastic physic that upsets them for days afterwards. As over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin are sold a year, a large proportion of the people must believe that this mild vegetable compound is the proper remedy for them, and so it is. No need to take salt waters and powders that dry up the blood; coal-tar drugs in candy form that produce skin eruptions, or calomel that salivates. These drugs are "heroic measures", over-effective, weakening and griping.

The best constipation remedy is the one that moves the bowels without shock to your system, and such a one is Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. It is a vege-
