All They Are Cracked Up to Be.

Washington, March 10 .- That there are serious defects in the construction of the American battleships was charged to-day by Capt. C. M. Winslow, assistant chief of the bureau of navigation of the navy department, and Commander Key, former naval aide of President Roosevelt. The former officer said the ships under Admiral Evans were all overdraft when they left Hampton Roads. He defended Admiral Rojestvensky taking the Russian ships into battle with the Japanese with full bunkers of coal, saying that the Russian com-mander could not have done otherwise, for he did not know how far he would compelled to steam.

Commander Key attempted to direct the form of his own testimony, and incurred the displeasure of the committee on that point. He criticized the armor belts and the gun decks as being too low and the ammunition hoists unsafe. He attempted to dispute the testimony of other officers, especially Chief Constructor Capps, but permitted to do so. Finally the compoint interfered and separated the two men, who thereupon agreed to meet and fin the statement of the first lord of the which it was decided that Key should confined to ships and not against of-ficers.
