APPRAISING BEAUTY.

(Salt Lake City Tribune.) J. Stanley Todd, the portrait painter, as talking about feminine beauty. "All blind men," he said, "are keen students of feminine beauty. Let them be as blind as possible in other things, in this matter of women's looks every woman is mentally judged and her value reckoned by them, the same as wines are judged and valued by the wine expert.

"But men set a value on each woma in their own minds only. They don't blurt out these values as a certain Persian once did at a reception in New
