to-day, and many of them are interested either as shareholders or depositors. Groups were gathered everywhere about the streets discussing the situation, and in many cases the temper of the people was not pleasant. It is gradually being borne in upon the people how great a wrong has been done them, and though the community is slow to anger a spirit of resentment is growing.

Philip Breen, who was appointed a Director of the bank on the death of Henry F. Todd last year, makes the eassertion that at almost every directors' meeting he attended he urged the expediency of having an audit made by an independent auditor, but that he was constantly thwarted by President Todd and Cashier Whitlock. Mr. Breen openly denounces the course of the recent officials as dishonest.

The remaining banks are giving the merchants all possible assistance, and it is hoped that few if any failures will have to be recorded.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Nickel's new programme was auctner success last night and the fine weather made it possible for immense crowds to enjoy it. Miss Hope in her dramatic presentation of Robert Prowning's poem-story "Pippa Passes" proved herself more popular than oefore and was accorded an ovation each appearance. The pictures that accompanied this part of the programme were by the Biograph Co., which leaves little else to say in the way of commendation. There was another picture by the Biograph people in "All on Account of the Milk," a film that was filled with merriment from the start to finish. It was veritably a scream in places. Of instructive value was the long picture showing the industries of Southern California, or rather some of the unique ones, namely, ostrich farming, pigeon farming and last and oddest of all, alligator farming. There was a pretty little bit of scenic film in "The Monumental Cemetery at Genoa, Italy," depicting numerous exquisite specimens of the sculptor's art. Mr. Carzon, the Canadian baritone, made another hit in his patriotic song, and today he is to render the famous number "The Deathless Army." Mr. Bragg, tenor, is to sing a comedy song, "Take Plenty of Shoes." HIT.
